Lid on Cuban 'Threat'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials have clamped a tight lid on details in the case of two members of Cuba's United Nations mission who are accused of trying to recruit refugees as spies.

The United States ordered Lazaro Eddy Espinosa Bonet, 25, to leave the country Thursday, charging he had attempted to get a Cuban refugee to undertake a mission "related to the security of the office of the United States."

A State Department spokesman confirmed the alleged incident occurred during the current administration, but said it "did not involve the personal or physical security of the President."

No other details were given.

Nixon, Park Pledge Joint Strong Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—President Nixon and President Park Chung Hee of South Korea pledged jointly today that American and Korean forces stationed along the 38th Parallel will remain "strong and alert" to continuing Communist aggression.

In addition to stating their determination to meet any armed attack against South Korea, they also recognized the necessity for "long term efforts to lessen the causes of tension on the Korean Peninsula."

The joint statement was issued as the two chief executives concluded their two-day visit at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

The statement said:

"President Park gave an account of continuing acts of aggression committed by the North Korean Communist regime against the Republic of Korea. The two presidents agreed that Republic of Korea forces and American forces stationed in Korea must remain strong and alert and the two presidents reaffirmed the determination of their governments to meet armed attack against

31-Foot Crest Nears Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The James River, swollen with muddy flood waters pouring into its basin from the state's mountainous western region, continued its destructive advance to the Atlantic today.

This capital awaited the river's crest, while behind was left a swath of landslides, crushed homes and 46 known dead, and at least 100 missing and feared dead.

While flood waters took their toll in drownings, some rescue workers in mountainous Nelson and Amherst counties—hardest hit of the flood region—speculated that more victims will be found buried under landslides.

The rain that touched off the flooding and landslides was a result of Hurricane Camille, which flung 8 to 12 inches of rain on the area as she passed through Tuesday and Wednesday on her way to her death in the Atlantic.

"That ground had all the water it could stand before the rain ever started," a rescue team leader said. "That latest rain just peeled every bit of earth off those mountains, trees and all. It took them right down to the rock."

Anti-War Groups Map Busy Fall of Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war groups, generally quiet during the first seven months of the Nixon administration, are mapping a busy fall.

One group, which includes veterans of the 1968 McCarthy-for-president campaign, reports organizations on more than 300 college campuses plan to take part in a one-day moratorium on regular activities Oct. 15.

In mid-November, a two-day moratorium is planned, together with stepped-up efforts to gain off-campus support.

Another organization, the New Mobilization Committee, is planning a mass march on Washington to protest the Vietnam war in mid-November. Similar demonstrations occurred here in 1966 and 1967.

"Antiwar activity is really on the increase again says David Mixner, 23, the former McCarthy youth chief who is one of the leaders of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee. He said protests have picked up new impetus from President Nixon's support of the present South Vietnamese regime during the visit to Saigon.

"Everyone knows that this government is one of the main things holding up a settlement," Mixner said in an interview.

A national steering committee being formed to organize the effort includes Rep. Donald Fraser, D-Minn.; The Rev. Joseph Duffey, national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, and Washington lawyer Joseph L. Rauh Jr.

In addition, efforts are under way to win backing from organized labor.

Living Costs Go Up Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living continued its steady climb in July, increasing five-tenths of 1 per cent mostly because of higher prices for food and services, the Labor Department reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumer prices have risen 3.6 per cent so far this year, for a seasonally adjusted annual rate of more than 6 per cent. This is the highest annual rate in the first seven months of a year since the Korean War year of 1951.

But the bureau also reported that an increase in the take-home pay of rank-and-file workers matched the July price increases to leave their actual purchasing power about the same.

Gross average weekly earnings of these workers were up 68 cents to $115.44 as a result of an increase in the work week

Husband Had Answer to Fool Wife

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A patrolman was cruising about suburbia just after sunrise Thursday when he saw a gentleman removing his clothes and stuffing them into the trunk of his car.

The curious officer pulled over to the curb to ask the man what was coming off.

"Look officer, I've been out all night and the front door is locked. My wife will really raise a fuss if she finds out I'm just getting home," the husband said.

The officer sat in his car and watched in disbelief and the husband strolled casually up the walkway, stopped halfway to pick up the morning paper, finished the journey to the front door and banged on it.

"Honey, I'm sorry to wake you up," the husband said when his sleepy wife answered the door. "But I went out to get the paper and I locked myself out."

That's the story the officer told headquarters.

Pro'estants Told to Turn In All Weapons

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Britain's military commander in Northern Ireland ordered the vast majority of the controversial all-Protestant police reserves today to surrender their weapons.

The province's Roman Catholic minority had blamed the police reservists, known as the B-Specials, for most of the eight dead in last week's Protestant-Catholic riots. The specials number about 8,400.

Lt. Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander-in-chief and newly assigned head of all internal securing said the order means also that no armed specials will be operating on the streets of Belfast, Londonderry and other cities, starting tonight.

He said the specials' duties in Belfast would be limited to guarding docks and other vulnerable points.

The general's action is almost certain to bring a furious, negative response from militant Protestants who regard the force as Northern Ireland's main bulwark against riots and republican subversion.

Tanks, Troops Pull Out Of Prague; 5 Reported Dead

PRAGUE (AP) — Tanks and troops pulled out of Prague today after demonstrations on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion underlining the deep division between the Czechoslovak people and their Communist government.

Communist party leader Gustav Husak's regime sent tens of thousands of Czechoslovak soldiers and 60 tanks into downtown Prague Thursday night in a massive demonstration of military strength.

It shocked and angered many Czechs who remembered all too well how Soviet tanks took over the city and the country on Aug. 20-21 last year.

After five hours of maneuvering in the streets and spotlighting some apartment house windows, the tanks rolled back across the Vltava River and out of the city.

The other army units also departed. Street cleaners began clearing away the debris left by the rioting in which the public showed its frustation at a year of occupation and increasing accommodation to Soviet direction.

Prague Radio said five persons had been killed in riots—two youths 18 and 19 in Prague Wednesday night, and three persons in Brno on Thursday. The broadcast said 12 persons were injured in Brno.

Thousands of young Czechs clashed in Prague with the helmeted riot police, but many thousands more citizens demonstrated in more passive fashion.

They responded with obvious enthusiasm to underground leaflets urging them to turn the anniversary into a "day of shame" with boycotts of public transport and stores. Streetcars

Heavy Rains Strike Forest

Heavy rains and hail washed out roads in the Black Forest Thursday and forced the closing of Interstate 25 north and south of Colorado Springs for a short period of time.

El Paso County highway officials said today that several roads in the Black Forest were damaged by "shoulder washouts." Crews began work Thursday night setting up barricades and warning lights. Clean-up began today.

Several homes and buildings in the Forest sustained roof damage as a result of the hail. Individuals estimated that between nine inches and two feet of hail fell in the storm.

Hardest hit area appeared to be the Park Forest estates.

Approximately two and a half inches of rain reportedly fell in the foothills between the Air Force Academy and Colorado Springs.

Highway Death Count at 412

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two deaths on the Western Slope have boosted Colorado's highway toll for the year to 412. This is four fewer than the fatality count on this date last year.

The latest victims were Warren Tryce Weir, 31, of Grand Junction, and Daren Lee Galloway 46, of Ridgeway.

Weir was fatally injured early today when struck by a car while changing a tire on U.S. 50 about 18 miles south of Grand Junction.

Injured seriously in the crash was Jeane Hatch, 24, also of Grand Junction, who was standing beside the Weir car.

The State Patrol said a car driven by Kenneth R. Davis, 54, of Moab, Utah, slammed into the rear of Weir's vehicle at a high rate of speed. He received a bloody nose and lip.

Galloway died Thursday night when his car failed to negotiate a curve on U.S. 50 about 8 miles west of gunnison and rolled over, throwing Galloway onto the pavement.

North Viets Continue Hitting U.S. Infantry

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops entrenched in bunkers kept up attacks today on American infantry men trying to reach the wreckage of a U.S. helicopter southwest of Da Nang.

A U.S. spokesman estimated that the lead column of 400 men from the 196th Light Infantry Brigade was about 800 yards from the site where the North Vietnamese shot down the helicopter Tuesday.

"Every time they start moving, they draw fire," said one U.S. officer.

"I've never seen the enemy fight so hard," said another. "Ordinarily they'll fight for awhile and then pull back, but these guys are standing their ground and fighting."

Dive bombers and helicopter gunships made attack after attack on the North Vietnamese bunkers.

For three days, more than 1,000 North Vietnamese troops have blocked American efforts to reach the crash site in the rolling foothills 31 miles southeast of Da Nang.

Among the eight men aboard the helicopter were Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan of Norwell, Mass., and Lt.

Moscow Seems To Have Shut Door on Talks

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

So belligerently defensive are the Russians in the wake of events in Czechoslovakia and on the China frontier that Moscow seems to have slammed the door to any approach from the United States, at least until it gets matters cleaned up in its own sphere.

Embarrassed again by the extent of Czechoslovak resistance and angered by military clashes with the Chinese, the Soviet party appears to be looking for scapegoats. The Soviets are likely to uncover some in Czechoslovakia itself, but the tone of the Soviet press seems so nervous that it suggests political difficulty in Moscow itself.

Seldom in the cold war have the Soviet Communists been so much on the defensive as today. They profess to see heinous "imperialist" plots on all sides, real threats not only to their Eu-

Cutback May Indicate Future Viet Troop Cut

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's 100,000-plus cut in military manpower is likely to be viewed as a sign the Nixon administration is thinking big in the way of future troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, announcing the cut Thursday, said the military reduction over the next 10 months doesn't necessarily imply a Vietnam cut of that scope.

But he specifically ruled out combat troop withdrawals from West Germany, South Korea and Okinawa—leaving Vietnam as one of the few remaining places where large numbers of Americans are stationed.

Pentagon officials admit privately that Laird considers potential replacement of U.S. troops by South Vietnamese a factor in his plans to trim the over-all American military force level.

Furthermore, President Nixon said in June he hoped to be able to more than match a suggestion by former Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to get 100,000 combat troops out of Vietnam this year.

Some military officers believe the next withdrawal announced by the President will probably amount to no more than 25,000 men. Further pullouts could take place over coming months.

At Thursday's news conference, Laird would not commit himself on the administration decision this month on whether to go beyond the presently authorized 25,000-man troop reduction in Vietnam.

The "more than 100,000" man reduction comes as part of a congressionally directed Pentagon effort to slash defense spending by another $3 billion for the current fiscal year.

Laird already lopped $1.1 billion from the original fiscal 1970 budget inherited in January from the outgoing administration.

Under the new economy drive, due to leave the defense budget at $77 billion, the Navy will lay up 100 ships including the Battleship New Jersey, the Dive bombers and helicopter gunships made attack after attack on the North Vietnamese bunkers.

For three days, more than 1,000 North Vietnamese troops have blocked American efforts to reach the crash site in the rolling foothills 31 miles southeast of Da Nang.

Among the eight men aboard the helicopter were Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan of Norwell, Mass., and Lt.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

So belligerently defensive are the Russians in the wake of events in Czechoslovakia and on the China frontier that Moscow seems to have slammed the door to any approach from the United States, at least until it gets matters cleaned up in its own sphere.

Embarrassed again by the extent of Czechoslovak resistance and angered by military clashes with the Chinese, the Soviet party appears to be looking for scapegoats. The Soviets are likely to uncover some in Czechoslovakia itself, but the tone of the Soviet press seems so nervous that it suggests political difficulty in Moscow itself.

Seldom in the cold war have the Soviet Communists been so much on the defensive as today. They profess to see heinous "imperialist" plots on all sides, real threats not only to their Eu-

Cutback May Indicate Future Viet Troop Cut

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's 100,000-plus cut in military manpower is likely to be viewed as a sign the Nixon administration is thinking big in the way of future troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, announcing the cut Thursday, said the military reduction over the next 10 months doesn't necessarily imply a Vietnam cut of that scope.

But he specifically ruled out combat troop withdrawals from West Germany, South Korea and Okinawa—leaving Vietnam as one of the few remaining places where large numbers of Americans are stationed.

Pentagon officials admit privately that Laird considers potential replacement of U.S. troops by South Vietnamese a factor in his plans to trim the over-all American military force level.

Furthermore, President Nixon said in June he hoped to be able to more than match a suggestion by former Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to get 100,000 combat troops out of Vietnam this year.

Some military officers believe the next withdrawal announced by the President will probably amount to no more than 25,000 men. Further pullouts could take place over coming months.

At Thursday's news conference, Laird would not commit himself on the administration decision this month on whether to go beyond the presently authorized 25,000-man troop reduction in Vietnam.

The "more than 100,000" man reduction comes as part of a congressionally directed Pentagon effort to slash defense spending by another $3 billion for the current fiscal year.

Laird already lopped $1.1 billion from the original fiscal 1970 budget inherited in January from the outgoing administration.

Under the new economy drive, due to leave the defense budget at $77 billion, the Navy will lay up 100 ships including the Battleship New Jersey, the

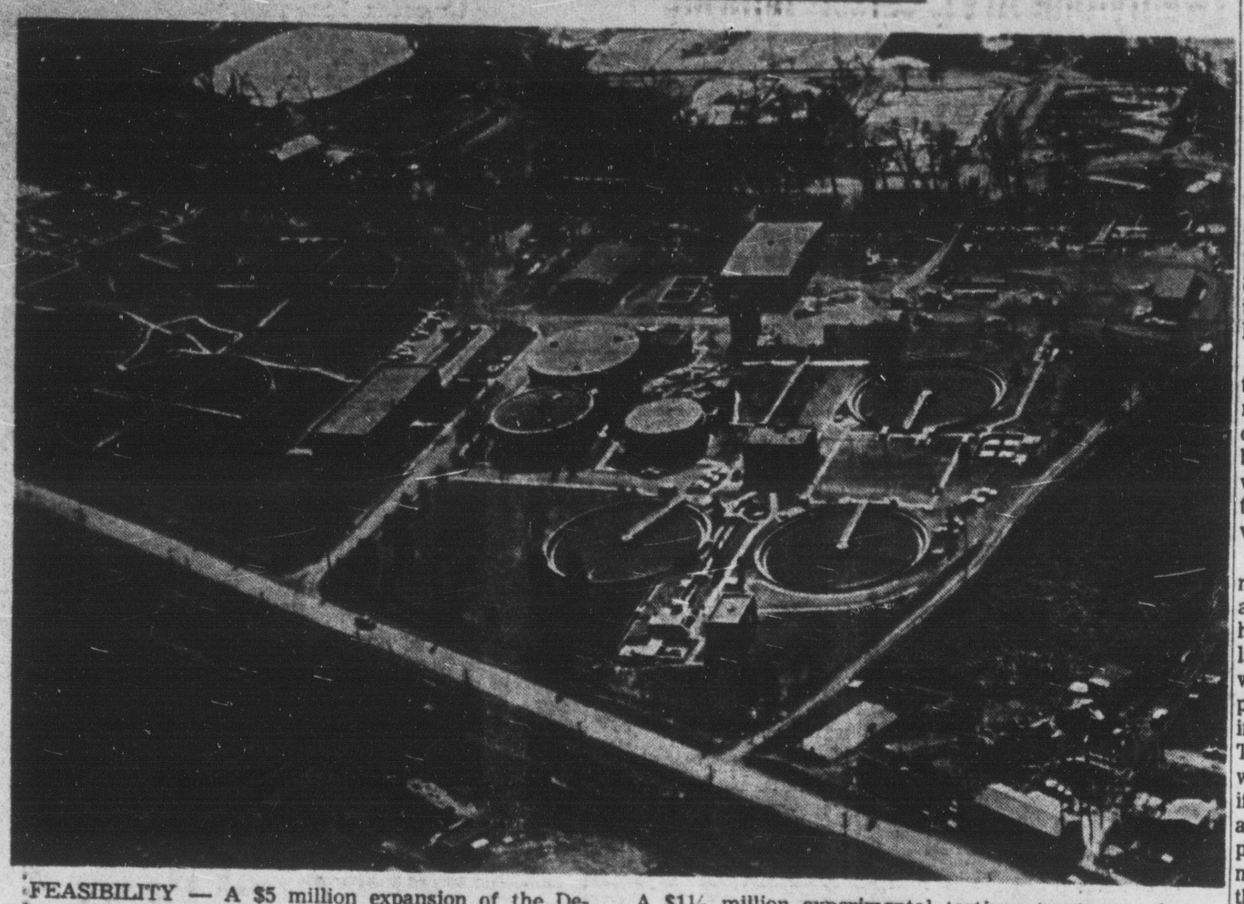
Two to Three Year Delay Seen Before Las Vegas Street Sewage Odors Gone



FEASIBILITY — A $5 million expansion of the Department of Public Utilities disposal plant in the 800 block of East Las Vegas Street is the subject of an engineering study being made by consulting engineers. A $1½ million experimental tertiary treatment plant for production of a high quality, non-potable water for industrial and irrigation use is also scheduled for location at the disposal plant site shown here.

(Utilities Department Photo)

It will be two to three years before overloaded conditions at the existing disposal plant in the 800 block of East Las Vegas Street are eliminated, according to Utilities Director Ray D. Nixon.

Nixon said that an "exhaustive study into sewage treatment processes and expansion of disposal plant studies has been started" but added that it would be two-three years before the present situation is alleviated.

The official stated the engineering consultant firm of Black and Veatch of Kansas City, Mo., has been retained to make the land and location study and when completed that firm's report will be basis for engineering and start of a new plant. The consulting firm's report will be ready by November and, if recommendations therein are adopted by the City Council planning will be started for the new plant. The schedule would then call for start of construction in August of 1970 with the plant going into service by fall of 1971 or spring of 1972.

"In the meantime, we ask the public to bear with us. We are as aware, perhaps more so, than the general public of the odor condition which has been created by the overloaded condition at the disposal plant," Nixon explained.

In an effort to ease the situation, crews are using some 25 gallons of deodorant spray per day in exposed areas contributing to the odor condition.

Extreme temperature changes are part of the varying weather conditions which contribute to the sewage conditions and the resultant odors, Nixon pointed out.

The Department of Public Utilities faces a $5 million expenditure in construction of the new plant which will be based either on total mixed solids or aeration processes. The department must and will foot the entire bill unless a grant totalling some 30 per cent of the cost is forthcoming from the federal government.

The current Black and Veatch study is concentrating on possible utilization of the present disposal plant property as the site for the new plant. Initially, the department spearheaded a combination of governmental entities which was to project a metropolitan sewage district extending from Palmer Lake south to the town of Fountain. A site in the Fountain area was contemplated for the metro sewage disposal plant.

"But we lost a year and a half waiting for a decision by the Housing and Urban Development agency on the metropolitan district," Nixon explained. "HUD finally informed us the district would not receive federal funds from that department and so we had to abandon that approach and undertake a program on our own."

In the meantime, land values and opposition to the disposal plant along Fountain Creek became so critical that it is virtually impossible for the Department to select a site other than at the present disposal plant, the utilities director continued. The Fountain area location or some other site south of the city would have implemented a gravity flow situation for present and anticipated residential areas. As it now stands, new additions to the south will be served through collection systems from which sewage will be "pumped back" to the Las Vegas Street plant for processing.

James Phillips, sewer division superintendent, pointed out that when the $5 million plant is completed the odor situation will be brought to minimal proportions and will have a capacity of 45 million gallons per day. He added that the plant is now "peaking" at 32 million gallons and averaging 18 million gallons per day.

Phillips, in a report to Nixon, further pointed out that the disposal plant operations are further complicated by introduction of disposable diapers, industrial wastes and solids from kitchen garbage grinders which are ever increasing in popularity.

Most recent addition to the present disposal plant facilities was a 1968 porteous process plant for rapid treatment of solids. Phillips said the process is now producing 38 tons of dry solids per day. The $315,000 unit operates without introduction of expensive chemicals as required by the vacuum process previously introduced into plant operations.

An early improvement in non-potable water produced at the disposal plant will be marked next month when bids are opened on a tertiary treatment plant designed to produce a high quality non-potable water and scheduled to go into service in January, 1971. The product will be used for cooling processes at the Martin Drake Power Plant, in existing irrigation systems fed through he non-potable system and in production of a better type effluent discharge into the Fountain Creek basin and Johnson Reservoir.

The tertiary program will cost an approximate $1½ million dollars, equally financed by the department and the Water Pollution Control Administration, grant section, an agency within the Department of Interior.

Phillips points out that when the $5 million new disposal and tertiary plants are completed Colorado Springs will have one of the most advanced systems of its kind in the United States.

The federal agency is participating in the tertiary treatment plant and its operation because it is experimental in nature and will be surveyed continually by various officials during its operation.

The same agency is also participating in a reverse osmosis type of filter plant for non-potable water to be installed next spring on the summit of 14,110 foot Pikes Peak. This experimental plant, highest in the world of its type, will cost some $63,000 with the federal agency providing a $47,000 grant and the remainder to be defrayed by the city of Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak Highway department.

The high altitude plant will make it possible to re-use effluent from various facilities on the Peak for use in toilets and other facilities requiring non-potable water, thus reducing the present necessity of hauling large amounts of water to the summit by truck each day.

Superintendent Phillips said the Pikes Peak plant equipment will be delivered here in October and will be tested at Colorado Springs' 6000 foot elevation before being installed on the top of the big mountain next spring.

Denver Firm Feels Sting of Camille

DENVER (AP) — A Denver company reported it suffered a quarter-million dollar loss from Hurricane Camille's rampage in Louisiana.

Franklin Supply Co., an oil industry supply firm, said its new branch warehouse at Venice, La., was "wiped out" by the storm.

"We flew over the site after the storm passed and found that a five-mile stretch of motels, warehouses and oil supply company facilities such as ours were leveled," said President Jene Harper.

He said employes were evacuated before the storm hit, and part of the $250,000 loss was covered by insurance.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

This suggestion is for people who like to picnic, go to the beach, the mountains or just take a ride with a brief lunch break.

You know how difficult it is to locate the necessities to build a fire? Well, for years now we have carried a "fire box" along with us.

We simply twist paper into long, stick-like strips, put them in a cardboard carton, place kindling on top of the paper, then add wood, close the box, and put it all in the trunk of the car.

Then when we need a fire, we just put the "fire box" in any suitable area for a fire, light it and that's all there is to it.

No muss, no fuss, and no searching for firewood.

A Reader

And that means that we can eat just that much sooner!

Why does a plain old hot dog taste like a gourmet's delight when cooked over an open fire? Beats me, but sure as shootin' — it does!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for people who wear contact lenses.

When I clean my lenses, I use one of those small spice or herb jars with the perforated plastic lids.

This allows me to wash my lenses, drain the water, rinse in the same manner, and not take the chance of losing them in the sink.

Florence Lees

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

. . . on being told that I was overweight, I did some figuring and came to the conclusion that due to the high cost of food these days, it cost me twenty dollars a pound to get that way.

Food For Thought

Dear Heloise:

We save empty thread spools (all sizes) and use them in decorating.

We paint the spools and string them with beads to make beautiful an unusual room dividers.

And on occasion have even made some very interesting mobiles.

Brenda Lassing

Dear Heloise:

My family loves broccoli prepared in my own special way.

I wash the broccoli and cut into clusters. Then boil in salt water until tender.

Meanwhile, I heat enough butter or margarine in a small skillet to cover the broccoli, and add one or two cloves of garlic chopped very fine.

Saute the garlic until it is well-browned. Strain this mixture to remove the garlic particles and pour over the broccoli.

Broccoli prepared this way may be used as a vegetable, in salads, or on a canape tray, and it is delicious.

Mrs. Paul V. Snell

Dear Heloise:

Think I have a "Ding-Dong" of an idea to preserve family harmony at dinner time.

In order for our children to look presentable at the dinner table (clean hands and nails, sparkling faces and combed hair), I ring a little brass bell fifteen minutes to serving dinner.

It is their responsibility to "spif up." Then I ring the bell again when dinner is served.

How marvelous it is to see everyone in his place at the table with sparkling faces. They almost look like angels.

Mrs. L. Walker

Dear Heloise:

When the rubber backing wears off old cotton shag rugs, you can make wonderful scrubbers to wash down painted walls and woodwork.

Just cut the rug in 8"x3" squares and then stitch around the outer edges with the sewing machine so they won't ravel.

This takes only a few minutes but prolongs the life of the scrubber.

Ken Billups Gets W. C. Handy Award

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first W. C. Handy award, named for the late, famous Negro composer, has been awarded by the National Association of Negro Musicians to Kenneth Brown Billups of St. Louis.

Billups is director of choral music for Sumner High School, choir master at Antioch Baptist church and a member of the board of the Missouri State Arts Council.

Rescue Unit Honored for Service

Members of the Black Forest Rescue Squad recently received awards for service rendered to area hospitals and the Black Forest community.

Six members received 50-hour pins for volunteer service at the St. Francis Emergency Room, and 10 members received year pins for volunteer service in the Rescue Squad. The ceremony was held at St. Francis Hospital.

The rescue unit is made up of men and women who have volunteered to take extensive and intensive training in first aid to the sick and injured. To be a uniformed member, requirements are Red Cross Standard and Advanced cards, Civil Defense Medical Self Help, Civil Defense Light Rescue, 40 hours at Penrose Hospital Emergency Room and 50 hours at St. Francis Emergency Room.

More than 5,000 hours of volunteer service to the hospitals and the Black Forest Community have been logged by members of the rescue unit. The volunteers are attempting to give the very best of service and care to the suddenly ill or injured. Also, they are learning to properly use the latest ambulance equipment available.

The hospitals and doctors of the El Paso County Medical Society, as well as many others have made this type of training available.

Due to the rural location of the Black Forest community, much more than just animal training is required due to the time involved in getting patients to hospitals.

The equipment and ambulance are provided by the Black Forest Fire Protection District, which also attempts to cover the cost of extra training. Part of the cost of this unit is covered by taxes in the district, augmented by a charge to those using the service. This is to assist in keeping operational costs to the taxpayer of the district at a minimum.

Brotzman Asks Hearings on Gas Shipments

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Colorado Congressman Donald Brotzman Wednesday joined fellow lawmakers in asking for congressional hearings to review laws governing the rail shipment of hazardous materials.

The action follows recent shipment of phosgene, a World War I poison gas, across country from the Rocky Mountain Arsenal. Seven more shipments are to be taken from the arsenal beginning next Monday.

The gas will go to Geismar, La., and Lockport, N.Y., where it will be out to commercial use by private companies.

Brotzman said he would ask the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee to hold hearings into the shipments of the gas, but said he would do nothing to hinder such movements at this time.

"The movement should be continued, but I am concerned that it be done as safely s possible," Brotzman said.

The Coloradan said he was particularly interested in discovering whether the Department of Transportation felt it had sufficient authority to protect the public.

"It's my understanding that the department's Office of Hazardous Materials feels that it doesn't have the power to insure that such shipments are made safely," Brotzman said.

The office is responsible nor approving all shipments involving hazardous materials, but lacks the power to regulate the type of track, the railbeds and the axles which will be used during such shipments.

Twenty-One At Ft. Carson Retiring

Twenty-one retirees will be honored at the monthly retirement review at 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 23 at 11 a.m. at Ft. Carson.

A mechanized review is scheduled for Pershing Field. It will feature M114 command carriers, armored personnel carriers, M577 command post carriers, M60 tanks, M109 and M110 howitzers, Vulcan gun units on carriers, M728 combat engineer vehicles, M57.8 light recovery vehicles and M113 ambulances.

There will also be a fly-by of OH-23 and UH-1 Helicopters and T-41 jets.

Participating units will include the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) Band, 2d Brigade, 3d Brigade, 4th Squadron 12th Cavalry, 5th Division Artillery, 7th Engineer Battalion and 20th Aviation Battalion.

Brig. Gen. Charles Cantrell, 5th Division assistant commander for support, will be reviewing officer. Col. Thomas J. Kennedy, commander of 69th Brigade, will be commander of troops.

The tentative roster of retirees included:

Kinder Gym Classes Slated

Kinder Gym classes, designed to introduce children to physical education, will begin at the Bijou Center of the YW-YMCA Sept. 19 instead of Sept. 26 as originally announced.

Children 18 months to five years can be enrolled in the classes which will last for 10 weeks. Registrations are now being taken.

The program is designed to enable youngsters to learn their own capabilities while developing new skill techniques, self-awareness and confidence, as well as to have a group experience.

The classes, instructed by Jill Gingrich, will include introductory tumbling, gymnastics, games, flexibility and coordination development.

Further information can be had by calling the YW-YMCA, 633-4643.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

This suggestion is for people who like to picnic, go to the beach, the mountains or just take a ride with a brief lunch break.

You know how difficult it is to locate the necessities to build a fire? Well, for years now we have carried a "fire box" along with us.

We simply twist paper into long, stick-like strips, put them in a cardboard carton, place kindling on top of the paper, then add wood, close the box, and put it all in the trunk of the car.

Then when we need a fire, we just put the "fire box" in any suitable area for a fire, light it and that's all there is to it.

No muss, no fuss, and no searching for firewood.

A Reader

And that means that we can eat just that much sooner!

Why does a plain old hot dog taste like a gourmet's delight when cooked over an open fire? Beats me, but sure as shootin' — it does!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for people who wear contact lenses.

When I clean my lenses, I use one of those small spice or herb jars with the perforated plastic lids.

This allows me to wash my lenses, drain the water, rinse in the same manner, and not take the chance of losing them in the sink.

Florence Lees

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

. . . on being told that I was overweight, I did some figuring and came to the conclusion that due to the high cost of food these days, it cost me twenty dollars a pound to get that way.

Food For Thought

Dear Heloise:

We save empty thread spools (all sizes) and use them in decorating.

We paint the spools and string them with beads to make beautiful an unusual room dividers.

And on occasion have even made some very interesting mobiles.

Brenda Lassing

Dear Heloise:

My family loves broccoli prepared in my own special way.

I wash the broccoli and cut into clusters. Then boil in salt water until tender.

Meanwhile, I heat enough butter or margarine in a small skillet to cover the broccoli, and add one or two cloves of garlic chopped very fine.

Saute the garlic until it is well-browned. Strain this mixture to remove the garlic particles and pour over the broccoli.

Broccoli prepared this way may be used as a vegetable, in salads, or on a canape tray, and it is delicious.

Mrs. Paul V. Snell

Dear Heloise:

Think I have a "Ding-Dong" of an idea to preserve family harmony at dinner time.

In order for our children to look presentable at the dinner table (clean hands and nails, sparkling faces and combed hair), I ring a little brass bell fifteen minutes to serving dinner.

It is their responsibility to "spif up." Then I ring the bell again when dinner is served.

How marvelous it is to see everyone in his place at the table with sparkling faces. They almost look like angels.

Mrs. L. Walker

Dear Heloise:

When the rubber backing wears off old cotton shag rugs, you can make wonderful scrubbers to wash down painted walls and woodwork.

Just cut the rug in 8"x3" squares and then stitch around the outer edges with the sewing machine so they won't ravel.

This takes only a few minutes but prolongs the life of the scrubber.

Ken Billups Gets W. C. Handy Award

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first W. C. Handy award, named for the late, famous Negro composer, has been awarded by the National Association of Negro Musicians to Kenneth Brown Billups of St. Louis.

Billups is director of choral music for Sumner High School, choir master at Antioch Baptist church and a member of the board of the Missouri State Arts Council.

Rescue Unit Honored for Service

Members of the Black Forest Rescue Squad recently received awards for service rendered to area hospitals and the Black Forest community.

Six members received 50-hour pins for volunteer service at the St. Francis Emergency Room, and 10 members received year pins for volunteer service in the Rescue Squad. The ceremony was held at St. Francis Hospital.

The rescue unit is made up of men and women who have volunteered to take extensive and intensive training in first aid to the sick and injured. To be a uniformed member, requirements are Red Cross Standard and Advanced cards, Civil Defense Medical Self Help, Civil Defense Light Rescue, 40 hours at Penrose Hospital Emergency Room and 50 hours at St. Francis Emergency Room.

More than 5,000 hours of volunteer service to the hospitals and the Black Forest Community have been logged by members of the rescue unit. The volunteers are attempting to give the very best of service and care to the suddenly ill or injured. Also, they are learning to properly use the latest ambulance equipment available.

The hospitals and doctors of the El Paso County Medical Society, as well as many others have made this type of training available.

Due to the rural location of the Black Forest community, much more than just animal training is required due to the time involved in getting patients to hospitals.

The equipment and ambulance are provided by the Black Forest Fire Protection District, which also attempts to cover the cost of extra training. Part of the cost of this unit is covered by taxes in the district, augmented by a charge to those using the service. This is to assist in keeping operational costs to the taxpayer of the district at a minimum.

Brotzman Asks Hearings on Gas Shipments

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Colorado Congressman Donald Brotzman Wednesday joined fellow lawmakers in asking for congressional hearings to review laws governing the rail shipment of hazardous materials.

The action follows recent shipment of phosgene, a World War I poison gas, across country from the Rocky Mountain Arsenal. Seven more shipments are to be taken from the arsenal beginning next Monday.

The gas will go to Geismar, La., and Lockport, N.Y., where it will be out to commercial use by private companies.

Brotzman said he would ask the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee to hold hearings into the shipments of the gas, but said he would do nothing to hinder such movements at this time.

"The movement should be continued, but I am concerned that it be done as safely s possible," Brotzman said.

The Coloradan said he was particularly interested in discovering whether the Department of Transportation felt it had sufficient authority to protect the public.

"It's my understanding that the department's Office of Hazardous Materials feels that it doesn't have the power to insure that such shipments are made safely," Brotzman said.

The office is responsible nor approving all shipments involving hazardous materials, but lacks the power to regulate the type of track, the railbeds and the axles which will be used during such shipments.

Twenty-One At Ft. Carson Retiring

Twenty-one retirees will be honored at the monthly retirement review at 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 23 at 11 a.m. at Ft. Carson.

A mechanized review is scheduled for Pershing Field. It will feature M114 command carriers, armored personnel carriers, M577 command post carriers, M60 tanks, M109 and M110 howitzers, Vulcan gun units on carriers, M728 combat engineer vehicles, M57.8 light recovery vehicles and M113 ambulances.

There will also be a fly-by of OH-23 and UH-1 Helicopters and T-41 jets.

Participating units will include the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) Band, 2d Brigade, 3d Brigade, 4th Squadron 12th Cavalry, 5th Division Artillery, 7th Engineer Battalion and 20th Aviation Battalion.

Brig. Gen. Charles Cantrell, 5th Division assistant commander for support, will be reviewing officer. Col. Thomas J. Kennedy, commander of 69th Brigade, will be commander of troops.

The tentative roster of retirees included:

Summit Gets New Ambulance

DILLON, Colo. (AP)—Summit County got its new ambulance Wednesday, in the first such project financed by both federal and state funds in the four-state area of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico.

State and area officials were on hand for the presentation of the $7,000 ambulance, marking the successful conclusion of a community - and - beyond fund raising effort.

Federal highway safety funds accounted for $3,800 of the cost, while the fund drive—for $7,000—produced $8,000 instead. The additional money will be used for maintenance and purchase of a backup vehicle.

The ambulance will be operated by the Summit Ambulance Service, which originally was a project of the Summit Lions Club.

On hand for the presentation were R. C. O'Connell, regional director of the National Highway Safety Bureau at Denver; Cordell Smith, Gov. John Love's highway safety coordinator; Dr. V. E. Wohlauer, chief of the State Health Department's health mobilization services, and representatives of the ambulance supply firm.

H. L. Hunt Writes

A CAPABLE MAN IN SOUTH VIETNAM

When President Nixon was in Vietnam recently, he appeared considerably impressed by South Vietnamese President Nguyan Van Thieu. The President described Thieu as a "very capable man and excellent politician who should not be underestimated." He called him "probably one of the four or five best political leaders in the world."

It is reassuring to know that the leader of our ally, South Vietnam, in the struggle against communist aggression, is a man of great capability.

At the Paris Peace Talks, however, one of the major demands of the North Vietnamese and of the communist "National Liberation Front" is that we abandon support of the Thieu government.

It is to be expected that the communists want no strong anti-communists, such as Thieu and Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky, standing in their way to eventual conquest of all of Vietnam.

Meanwhile, back in Washington, there is considerable criticism of President Thieu heard almost daily, in the halls of the United States Senate.

"The Thieu-Ky government is becoming as great a threat to democratic self-determination in that country as the Vietcong", was the recent comment of a Republican Senator of "liberal" persuasion.

Another Senator, a leading Democrat states, "So long as we equate our security and our interest with the political survival of the Thieu-Ky regime, we are on a hazardous course."

It would be foolish, in any negotiations, if we would deal away the present government of South Vietnam, as in a game of cards. Fortunately, it appears that President Nixon realizes that Thieu could be our "Ace." HLH

Businessmen Battle Trend To Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — Executives from some of the nation's largest corporations have formed an informal committee to combat what they call inflationary trends in the construction industry.

Roger M. Blough, retired chaiman of U.S. Steel Corp., is chairman of the group known as the Construction Users Anti-Inflation Roundtable.

In a statement Aug. 13, Blough said construction costs are now rising at the rate of 1 per cent a month, more than double the recent rate of increase of the cost of living.

"Much of this increase in construction costs can be laid to ssrious imbalances in labor relations matters within the industry," Blough said.

"So large and important is the construction industry in our entire economy that these trends, if continued could well destroy our nation's efforts to control inflation," he added.

In view of this, Blough said the group will attempt to: "Get a better understanding of the causes and remedies of the present runaway inflation in the construction industry and help promote research, stability and efficiency in the construction industry."

H. L. Hunt Writes

A CAPABLE MAN IN SOUTH VIETNAM

When President Nixon was in Vietnam recently, he appeared considerably impressed by South Vietnamese President Nguyan Van Thieu. The President described Thieu as a "very capable man and excellent politician who should not be underestimated." He called him "probably one of the four or five best political leaders in the world."

It is reassuring to know that the leader of our ally, South Vietnam, in the struggle against communist aggression, is a man of great capability.

At the Paris Peace Talks, however, one of the major demands of the North Vietnamese and of the communist "National Liberation Front" is that we abandon support of the Thieu government.

It is to be expected that the communists want no strong anti-communists, such as Thieu and Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky, standing in their way to eventual conquest of all of Vietnam.

Meanwhile, back in Washington, there is considerable criticism of President Thieu heard almost daily, in the halls of the United States Senate.

"The Thieu-Ky government is becoming as great a threat to democratic self-determination in that country as the Vietcong", was the recent comment of a Republican Senator of "liberal" persuasion.

Another Senator, a leading Democrat states, "So long as we equate our security and our interest with the political survival of the Thieu-Ky regime, we are on a hazardous course."

It would be foolish, in any negotiations, if we would deal away the present government of South Vietnam, as in a game of cards. Fortunately, it appears that President Nixon realizes that Thieu could be our "Ace." HLH

Businessmen Battle Trend To Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — Executives from some of the nation's largest corporations have formed an informal committee to combat what they call inflationary trends in the construction industry.

Roger M. Blough, retired chaiman of U.S. Steel Corp., is chairman of the group known as the Construction Users Anti-Inflation Roundtable.

In a statement Aug. 13, Blough said construction costs are now rising at the rate of 1 per cent a month, more than double the recent rate of increase of the cost of living.

"Much of this increase in construction costs can be laid to ssrious imbalances in labor relations matters within the industry," Blough said.

"So large and important is the construction industry in our entire economy that these trends, if continued could well destroy our nation's efforts to control inflation," he added.

In view of this, Blough said the group will attempt to: "Get a better understanding of the causes and remedies of the present runaway inflation in the construction industry and help promote research, stability and efficiency in the construction industry."

British Decide Against Early Morning TV Show

NEW YORK (UPI)—The British were interested in doing a morning show like NBC's "Today" but they finally decided against it for the remarkable reason that so many homes frequently do not have central heating.

Climbing out of bed to shiver in front of a set while the coal fire or oil heater slowly warms the place is punishment rather than pleasure and although the Spartan British are used to it the television powers felt it was not the frame of mind in which to enjoy a local version of Hugh Downs.

It's national differences like this that lend point to the belief of Julian Goodman, president of NBC, that television as we know it here, is an American conception tailored to this vast, complex land as no other system could be and, in his opinion, the best in the world.

Goodman discussed television, a few days before the first premieres of the new season, in an informal chat in his office in the RCA Building.

Goodman is pleased with the new NBC product, soon to be judged by the only jury that counts, the viewers, and, coincidentally, by a cross-section of that audience apt to offer him advice over the breakfast or dinner table in his own home; his 86-year-old father, his seven-year-old son and the three teen-age children between.

Goodman was asked how NBC saw the challenges ahead of it.

"Our problem," he said, "is to relate ourself to the times. We are doing young and contemporary shows like "The Bold Ones' and 'Here Comes Bronson' and the 'Laugh-In' technique has had such an effect on comedy in its ability to get a meaning across quickly that it is being studied by communicators."

"The Bold Ones" is a rotating series of dramas involving three groups—doctors in the forefront of medical research and practice with E. G Marshall as the star; lawyers with a passion for justice ready to take up dangerous or unpopular causes; civil servants involved in law enforcement in a problem city.

"Here Comes Bronson" is about a modern counterpart of the young adventurers of the pioneer day who headed westward on horseback. This time he rides a motorcycle.

Some months ago Goodman announced a search for young film makers involved in exploring new methods of visual communication. A number of promising producers turned up, many of them working on controversial themes of the day. Goodman said NBC was assembling a special or two composed of their work.

In ancient India, sheer cotton muslin was so fine that 73 yards weighed only one pound.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Clem is a Marine Sergeant with a shrewd analysis of international psychology. See how our wild ducks illustrated his idea. Juvenile delinquency is often due to papa's failure to "be a man." Same goes for Uncle Sam's prestige world-wide! "Eternal Vigilance," said Jefferson, "is the price of liberty."

CASE K-583: Clem G., aged 28, is a Marine Sergeant.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "a lot of us Marines follow your column.

"For your oldest son was a Marine jet pilot and we Marines stick together.

"But don't you think we could have produced more peace around the world by telling off some of the Russian bullies?

"Does it pay to be so mild and gentle when you are in a tigers' world?"

Some wild ducks alighted on the little pond at our farm home in Indiana.

Our children used to feed them till they finally became fairly tame.

In fact, when I'd take Grandpa Miller in the boat for pole fishing (which I did till he was almost 98), the ducks would cruise behind us, hoping for handouts.

In their original wild state, those ducks were afraid of our farm dogs.

But they ultimately learned that our dogs would not hurt them, so they'd eat greedily of the food our children tossed to were not 5 feet away.

Alas, this cost them their lives!

Their belief that canine creatures were friendly, led them to extinction.

For when foxes later sneaked over near the ducks, they apparently believed the foxes were as harmless as our farm dogs.

One by one, a pile of feathers would testify to the fact a fox had devoured them while they foraged on shore.

So our civilizing of those former wild ducks, cost them their lives.

Which might offer a good object lesson to our "World Planners" who have kept us in foreign wars almost without exception since 1941.

Our city vandals and juvenile delinquents also come from families where the father usually exerted no strong control of the family.

His "sissy" softness or unconcern for the behavior of his youngsters led them into greater criminal behavior elsewhere.

For children and foreign nations react much alike to the genteel behavior of papa or Uncle Sam.

It is O.K. to wear kid gloves but the steel fist should also be apparent underneath.

A father doesn't need to use corporal punishment very often on his unruly urchins before they get the point.

But he must do it at least once, so they will realize his steel fist in behind the genteel or kid glove behavior.

When Richard Nixon faced the blustering Khrushchev at the famous Trade Fair, Mr. Nixon, though with a smile, said:

"If you'll just shut your mouth long enough, I'll answer you."

Khrushchev has hated but also been afraid of Nixon ever since, which is probably why the Pueblo crew was ordered released and other overtures were made re prisoner exchanges in North Vietnam and Cambodia after Nixon's November 5th victory.

For bluffers are like blackmailers — the more you give in, the greater are their blustering demands.

Call 'em, and they turn tail, as Khrushchev also did re the Cuban affair!

"It's better to have a lion at the head of an army of sheep," said Defoe, "than a sheep at the head of an army of lions."

the Republic of Korea in accordance with the mutual defense treaty between South Korea and the United States.

"President Nixon and President Park took note of the newly formed homeland reserve defense force as a contribution to the security and stability of South Korea. They agreed that support for the force should be continued.

"The two presidents recognized the necessity for long-term effort to lessen the causes of tension on the Korean Peninsula."

At an unusual state dinner Thursday night—unusual because of its size and for its site outside the White House—Park warned that any imbalance in coordinated U.S.-Asian efforts to meet the regional needs would inevitably lead to "new disturbances and threats" in Asia.

This same theme was somewhat muted in the joint statement although Nixon and Park did emphasize their concern about continued aggression from the North.

Nixon in his toast to Park Thursday night emphasized independence of free Asian nations also meant "self-reliance."

The joint statement was issued in written form at the St. Francis Hotel and the two leaders who had planned originally to appear before reporters at the conclusion of the talks, decided instead to make separate statements upon departure from San Francisco International Airport.

caped the scars of landslides.

Richmond used its advance warning of the flood to bolster its defenses against a flood crest that was expected to reach 31 feet— 22 feet above normal flood level. By 8 a.m. it had climbed to a record 28.65 feet.

New fears of disaster came Thursday night.

State police reported three 1,000-gallon propane gas tanks and 10 smaller ones, all described as "highly explosive and extremely hazardous," were missing and "presumed gone down the James River" from a plant south of Buena Vista in Rockbridge County.

In Richmond the threat of cyanide gas prompted firemen and Army chemical experts to remove 450 pounds of cyanide sodium from a metal plating plant. Plant officials said they feared the reaction of the cyanid to the flood waters would form lethal hydrogen cyanide.

The fire department said the chemical had been safely transferred during the night and "there was no public danger."

A plant official said, "Everything that stuff touches it would kill."

Dear Abby—

Right Idea Can Hurt!

DEAR ABBY: A lady I knew (not well) passed away recently, leaving a husband and three small children. I want very much to express my sympathy and let this man know that I want to do whatever I can to help him, but I do not want to appear forward. I know him only to say hi to.

I am a divorcee, living alone (I'm new in town) and I'm afraid if I telephone him he might get the wrong idea. Also, this is a small town and everybody knows everybody else's business, and I wouldn't want it known that I called him — or wrote to him, because THEY might get the wrong idea.

If I call or write I'd like to say something out of the ordinary. Something witty, or eloquent. (Any suggestions along that line?) I want to let him know I am sincere in my desire to help him, without appearing forward.

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: If you knew his wife "not well," and know him only to say hi to, don't call him. If you want to express your sympathy, send him a note, or card, but don't try for wit or eloquence. And please try to contain your eagerness to "help him." It's not the "wrong" idea he may get but the right one which stands to kill your chances.

DEAR ABBY: My husband of 22 years is giving me the "silent treatment" again. What gets me is that he never tells me what he's mad about, he just clams up and doesn't say a word. This is much more annoying to me than a good tongue-lashing would be because at least I would know what I did to upset him

Herbert is in his third day of the "silent treatment" and I am about ready to blow my stack. I keep begging him to put me out of misery and TELL me what's wrong but it's like talking to a wooden Indian. Can you help me?

DEAR SYLVIA: Give him a taste of his own medicine. When he realizes that his silence is not provoking the results he desires, you'll hear plenty.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the person who wanted to know what to say to a friend who drove her to distraction by ending every sentence with, "KNOW WHAT I MEAN?"

I used to do that, too, but my mother broke me of the habit by answering each time, "No. I'm dumb. Please explain it to me."

After a while I got the hint, and I don't say that anymore.

Cutback May Indicate More Viet Reductions

Air Force will curtail training flights sharply and the Army is supposed to save $500 million in its various operation, maintenance and training activities.

Some members of Congress will find Laird closing down military installations in their home states and that could bring howls of anguish.

The manpower reduction is expected to leave U.S. strength at about 3.3 million men by next July.

"I shall strive to insure that the cuts have the least possible impact on our readiness," Laird said, "but I want the American people to know that there will be an inevitable weakening of our worldwide military posture."

He said Congress would be making a "grave error" to force further cuts in defense research or in purchases of new weapons.

Laird's announcement came while Congress was in recess, but one critic of military spending was quick to respond.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the cuts are "too little and too late." Proxmire, in a statement, said witnesses had told a Senate subcommittee "much more could be cut without affecting the defense posture of the United States."

A proposed Senate amendment to the $20 billion military procurement authorization bill would require reduction of over-all U.S. troop strength by the number pulled out of Vietnam.

Benet Hill Officials Attend Denver Meeting

Three Sisters from Benet Hill Priory recently attended a "managerial workshop" for principals of all secondary and elementary schools in the Denver Archdiocese, at Regis College in Denver.

The principals and schools represented were Sister Mary Pius Siemann, Benet Hill Academy; Sister Madeleine Olinger, Holy Trinity Grade School; and Sister Simone Nusbaum, Sacred Heart Grade School.

The workshop was conducted by George P. Mancuso, director of the Center for Business Services, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill.

Among topics discussed were "The Professional Principal-Educator-Manager" and "Planning Systems for the Organization."

Mother Liguori Sullivan, prioress of the Benet Hill Community, and Sister Mary Pius Siemann, principal, Benet Hill Academy, also attended an all day workshop for members of the education committee of parish councils at St. Philomena School, Denver.

ropean empire, but to the political stability of the Soviet Union.

For these woes, Moscow makes Americans, past and present the main villains To hear the Soviet press tell it, Americans are trying to break the Communist front and to penetrate the Soviet Union itself with propaganda inflaming nationalist feelings in the Soviet republics.

An article this week in the government newspaper Izvestia claimed secret orders had gone out to U.S. propaganda services to support pro-Chinese Communists everywhere and to encourage Mao Tse-tung's Peking regime, so as to increase its potential for splitting the movement.

This prominently displayed article said Czechoslovakia's rebelliousness resulted from four years of intensive U.S. "bridge-building" efforts which were epitomized even recently by President Nixon's world tour. The article did not mention Romania, where Nixon was enthusiastically received, but it clearly enough suggested annoyance with Romania and its resistance to Moscow domination.

"Tactics of building bridges," Izvestia indicates, constituted the worst American offense. It said these tactics were adopted in 1964 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The Americans, it said, did not confine their efforts to East Europe, but broadcast in 17 of the Soviet Union's minority languages with the idea of arousing nationalist feelings, "working through a special plan of action for each of the Union Republics."

The Americans, said Izvestia, try to propagate the idea that there is not really much difference between capitalism and "socialism" in this era of technology, and that eventually the Soviet system will evolve into something like "capitalism without capitalists."

In Eastern Europe, it said, the Americans used "nationalism and revisionism" in efforts to erode "socialism" from within and to suggest that a reversion to capitalist methods is inevitable.

It said the culmination of all this came with the 1968 Czechoslovak developments and the attempt to install "a new model of socialism." The aim, it added, was to support "anti-Socialist and counterrevolutionary" forces, split the Communist party and take away its "leading role," thus wrenching the country out of the Communist community. This having failed, it said, the Americans are trying to "modernize" bridge-building tactics by using other methods of penetration, such as trade and scientific-technical contacts.

The Communist movement has suffered setbacks because of the Czechoslovak and Chinese developments. If the Russians intend to punish real and imagined "enemies" for all this, they can only make relations with the West even more strained. But in any case, the Izvestia article and many other recent ones suggest little hope of a meeting of Soviet and American minds at the present time on any important issues.

cial that Espinosa, the third secretary of the Cuban U.N. mission, had tried to plot the assassination of the President "if and when necessary." The newspaper said the diplomat hired a refugee to gather information on security measures at Nixon's Florida home.

State Department officials would not comment.

The other diplomat is Alberto Boza Hidalgo-Gato, 28, the first secretary of the mission, who is in Cuba and will not be allowed to return to the United States. He is accused of attempting to gather information concerning operations of a U.S. military installation by recruiting refugees as spies.

A third Cuban at the U.N., Jorge E. Reys Vega, 25, was warned to confine himself to his official duties.

The U.S. note addressed to the Cuban ambassador at the U.N., Ricardo Alarcon Guesada, said: "Members of the Cuban mission have . . . continued to engage in activities outside of their official duties and involving interference in the internal affairs and the internal security of the U.S."

Cuban officials at the U.N. had no comment on the charges.

The FBI and White House Secret Service are reported to have worked on the investigation which led to the U.S. action.

Tanks, Troops Leave Prague, 5 Reported Dead

were almost empty, and stores were nearly deserted.

More than 40,000 massed in Wenceslas Square. Crowds of youths resisted clouds of tear gas and truncheons of the security forces who finally cleared the city center.

The demonstrators chanted that Husak was a traitor, sang the National Anthem and shouted "Russians go home!" Over and over they cried "Long live Dubcek!", in tribute to Alexander Dubcek, the popular reformer that Husak replaced in April.

"It was an important occasion for the people," a woman said. "We are being told now so much about the invasion being justified we started having doubts. On Thursday we found out that even after a year everybody still agrees it was a terrible thing—we found out we still agree with each other."

In Bratislava, the Slovak capital, there also were clashes with police. Shots were fired over the heads of demonstrators, and arrests were made.

In Brno, Czechoslovakia's second largest city, witnesses reported that a young man poured gasoline on his clothes and set himself afire. They said the flames were quickly extinguished and the man carried off.

Youths there threw cobblestones at police who dispersed about 5,000 demonstrators with tear gas and baton charges.

In Prague, most of the demonstrating had ended when the tanks arrived, but groups of youths tried unsuccessfully to barricade several streets against them. Some of the tanks joined other military vehicles ringing Communist party headquarters where Husak and his presidium were reported in almost continuous session during the past three days of demonstrations.

Some people expressed fear today that the rioting might bring severe repressive measures. So far the regime had taken no public notice of the broad participation in the passive protest and harped on the contention that hooligans and social outcasts were responsible for the anniversary disturbances.

Noisy and sometimes violent anti-Soviet demonstrations were held in a number of foreign cities protesting the invasion.

North Viets Continue Hitting U.S. Infantry

Col. Eli P. Howard Jr. of Woodbridge, Va., a battalion commander. All eight men are believed dead.

The drive to reach the wreckage has become the focus of the hard fighting that has been raging in the area since Sunday. U.S. spokesmen claim that at least 469 North Vietnamese have been slain, many by a massive rain of bombs, napalm, rockets and artillery shells.

More than 1,200 U.S. infantrymen, Marines and South Vietnamese soldiers have been thrown into the fighting. Associated Press correspondent Richard Pyle reported from the area that 35 Americans have been killed, 10 are missing and more than 150 are wounded.

As the Communist command's fall campagin entered its 11th day, U.S. headquarters reported more than 20 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the night.

The most damaging hit Duc Pho, a district town of 100 miles southeast of Da Nang. A U.S. spokesman said 10 mortar rounds landed in the town, and initial reports indicated 10 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 60 were wounded.

The enemy gunners presumably were hoping to hit a South Vietnamese army reconnaissance company based in the town. South Vietnamese headquarters said military casualties were light.

Enemy gunners also shelled the U.S. air base at Da Nang, the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Marine Regiment nine miles south of the city, and a night camp of Marines from the 7th Regiment 25 miles south of Da Nang. Casualties and damage were light, the U.S. Command said.

Unlike in past efforts, it is welcoming support from more moderate antiwar groups such as the National Council of Churches, SANE, ADA and the New Democratic Coalition.

Prof. Sidney Peck of Cleveland's Western Reserve University, a cochairman of the Washington demonstration, said in a telephone interview the extent of the new coalition "will become apparent" Sept. 10 at a news conference in New York.

The other cochairman is Stewart Meacham of the American Friends Service Committee. Peck said this is another indication of "the definite expansiin of forces" to take in religious, labor and servicemen's protest organizations.

Debbie Moves To Sea After Bermuda Pass

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Debbie, the "guinea pig" storm, moved perilously close to the resort island of Bermuda then swerved toward the open seas today where its 110-mile-an-hour winds posed a threat only to ships.

Debbie, twice seeded by storm scientists in an effort to tame its fury, showed no signs of weakening.

At midnight, the center of the hurricane was estimated near 62.2 west, based on Navy reconnaissance. That's about 185 miles southeast of Bermuda. Debbie was moving toward the northeast at 12 miles an hour.

Living Costs Go Up Again

and a one-cent rise in average hourly earnings.

The price increases for July added to gloomy news already from the Commerce Department, which has just surveyed the business scene and found more inflation just about everywhere it looked.

The two reports were not encouraging news to the Nixon administration, which has vowed to curb inflation and hopes to have that mission—its foremost domestic goal—accomplished within one year at the most.

Arnold Chase, assistant bureau commissioner, told newsmen that a further boost in meat and poultry prices led to a 1 per cent increase in food costs during July. Prices of most fresh fruits and vegetables also were higher, but Chase said these increases were smaller than normal for July.

Charges for consumer services jumped an average of five-tenths of 1 per cent, with significant increases on mortgage interest, property taxes and home repairs. Medical care costs maintained their steep climb as a result of higher doctors and dentist fees and daily service charges at hospitals.

Chase said higher retail prices for cigarettes reflected earlier increases in wholesale tobacco prices. Furniture, house furnishings and toilet goods showed moderate price rises.

Earlier an administration economist, looking to the future in an interview, said that a downturn in the price increase for three consecutive months would indicate to him inflation had been licked.

Huong Quits As Premier

lowing a two-hour meeting between Huong and Thieu at the latter's Independence Palace.

Huong has been under fire from a large segment of parliament and political leaders close to Thieu who have been urging the premier to resign. A spokesman for Huong had said repeatedly that the premier had no intention of stepping down but the statement today appeared to mean that Huong had finally given in and was clearing hte way for Thieu to replace him.

The statement said Thieu and Hong "agreed that due to political necessities and the desire not to let the present situation continue ... Premier Huong has agreed to let the president make the decision of forming a new government."

Thieu announced July 19 that he would make major changes in the Cabinet which Huong has led since May 25, 1968. Officials said at the time that there was no question of Huong resigning or being fired.

In the weeks since no changes were made, and reports circulated that Huong would be replaced. Although a popular Southerner and the only prominent civilian in Thieu's regime, he has recently been under fire because of his stringent economic policies and because he did not consult parliament as much as the lawmakers legislators wanted.

Leaders of Thieu's National Social Democrat Front twice called for Huong's replacement by a more vigorous leader. Huong has been ailing for several months. He has had difficulty walking and recently underwent an eye operation. He has made no public appearances in several weeks.

Churches Reject Proposals for Reparations

churches. Recipient organizations were not named.

The fund was the key point of a five-year aid and educational program approved by the council's 120-member Central Committee at its annual meeting which ends today.

The committee called on churches "to move beyond charity grants and traditional programming to relevant and sacrificial action leading to new relationships of dignity and justice among all men."

The group added:

"Churches which have benefited from racially exploitative economic systems should immediately allocate a significant portion of their total resources, without employing paternalistic mechanisms of control, to organizations of the racially oppressed or organizations supporting victims of racial injustice."

The committee rejected in principle Black Power leader James Forman's demand for $500 million in reparations from white churches, saying reparations was only an attempt to "apportion guilt for the past." But one source pointed out that the group had upheld two of Forman's main contentions: That white churches were guilty of racialism and that the churches should give funds directly to victims of discrimination.

The committee action was a victory for the council's American general secretary, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, who had sought a strong statement on racism.

Delegates overwhelmingly defeated a move by Dr. Ernest A. Payne of England to scrap the fund proposal in favor of an appeal to member churches. Payne, one of the six world council presidents, said it would be morally wrong to "transfer council money to a purpose on which member churches had not previously given an opinion."

William P. Thompson of Philadelphia. Pa., clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., replied that the fund would be "the most meaningful way to demonstrate our belief, to do something costly to us and to show we mean what we say."

Dr. Robert J. Marshall of Chicago, president of the Lutheran Church in America, opposed key parts of the resolution, saying the statements against racism were self-defeating because they were too radical. He said such statements as the assertion that white churches had benefited from racial exploitation "turn people off in a way that makes it impossible to work with them further."

Most committee members expressed beliefs that the contribution would strengthen the image and purpose of the council.

Cutback May Indicate More Viet Reductions

Air Force will curtail training flights sharply and the Army is supposed to save $500 million in its various operation, maintenance and training activities.

Some members of Congress will find Laird closing down military installations in their home states and that could bring howls of anguish.

The manpower reduction is expected to leave U.S. strength at about 3.3 million men by next July.

"I shall strive to insure that the cuts have the least possible impact on our readiness," Laird said, "but I want the American people to know that there will be an inevitable weakening of our worldwide military posture."

He said Congress would be making a "grave error" to force further cuts in defense research or in purchases of new weapons.

Laird's announcement came while Congress was in recess, but one critic of military spending was quick to respond.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the cuts are "too little and too late." Proxmire, in a statement, said witnesses had told a Senate subcommittee "much more could be cut without affecting the defense posture of the United States."

A proposed Senate amendment to the $20 billion military procurement authorization bill would require reduction of over-all U.S. troop strength by the number pulled out of Vietnam.

Benet Hill Officials Attend Denver Meeting

Three Sisters from Benet Hill Priory recently attended a "managerial workshop" for principals of all secondary and elementary schools in the Denver Archdiocese, at Regis College in Denver.

The principals and schools represented were Sister Mary Pius Siemann, Benet Hill Academy; Sister Madeleine Olinger, Holy Trinity Grade School; and Sister Simone Nusbaum, Sacred Heart Grade School.

The workshop was conducted by George P. Mancuso, director of the Center for Business Services, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill.

Among topics discussed were "The Professional Principal-Educator-Manager" and "Planning Systems for the Organization."

Mother Liguori Sullivan, prioress of the Benet Hill Community, and Sister Mary Pius Siemann, principal, Benet Hill Academy, also attended an all day workshop for members of the education committee of parish councils at St. Philomena School, Denver.

ropean empire, but to the political stability of the Soviet Union.

For these woes, Moscow makes Americans, past and present the main villains To hear the Soviet press tell it, Americans are trying to break the Communist front and to penetrate the Soviet Union itself with propaganda inflaming nationalist feelings in the Soviet republics.

An article this week in the government newspaper Izvestia claimed secret orders had gone out to U.S. propaganda services to support pro-Chinese Communists everywhere and to encourage Mao Tse-tung's Peking regime, so as to increase its potential for splitting the movement.

This prominently displayed article said Czechoslovakia's rebelliousness resulted from four years of intensive U.S. "bridge-building" efforts which were epitomized even recently by President Nixon's world tour. The article did not mention Romania, where Nixon was enthusiastically received, but it clearly enough suggested annoyance with Romania and its resistance to Moscow domination.

"Tactics of building bridges," Izvestia indicates, constituted the worst American offense. It said these tactics were adopted in 1964 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The Americans, it said, did not confine their efforts to East Europe, but broadcast in 17 of the Soviet Union's minority languages with the idea of arousing nationalist feelings, "working through a special plan of action for each of the Union Republics."

The Americans, said Izvestia, try to propagate the idea that there is not really much difference between capitalism and "socialism" in this era of technology, and that eventually the Soviet system will evolve into something like "capitalism without capitalists."

In Eastern Europe, it said, the Americans used "nationalism and revisionism" in efforts to erode "socialism" from within and to suggest that a reversion to capitalist methods is inevitable.

It said the culmination of all this came with the 1968 Czechoslovak developments and the attempt to install "a new model of socialism." The aim, it added, was to support "anti-Socialist and counterrevolutionary" forces, split the Communist party and take away its "leading role," thus wrenching the country out of the Communist community. This having failed, it said, the Americans are trying to "modernize" bridge-building tactics by using other methods of penetration, such as trade and scientific-technical contacts.

The Communist movement has suffered setbacks because of the Czechoslovak and Chinese developments. If the Russians intend to punish real and imagined "enemies" for all this, they can only make relations with the West even more strained. But in any case, the Izvestia article and many other recent ones suggest little hope of a meeting of Soviet and American minds at the present time on any important issues.

Lid on Cuban 'Threat'

cial that Espinosa, the third secretary of the Cuban U.N. mission, had tried to plot the assassination of the President "if and when necessary." The newspaper said the diplomat hired a refugee to gather information on security measures at Nixon's Florida home.

State Department officials would not comment.

The other diplomat is Alberto Boza Hidalgo-Gato, 28, the first secretary of the mission, who is in Cuba and will not be allowed to return to the United States. He is accused of attempting to gather information concerning operations of a U.S. military installation by recruiting refugees as spies.

A third Cuban at the U.N., Jorge E. Reys Vega, 25, was warned to confine himself to his official duties.

The U.S. note addressed to the Cuban ambassador at the U.N., Ricardo Alarcon Guesada, said: "Members of the Cuban mission have . . . continued to engage in activities outside of their official duties and involving interference in the internal affairs and the internal security of the U.S."

Cuban officials at the U.N. had no comment on the charges.

The FBI and White House Secret Service are reported to have worked on the investigation which led to the U.S. action.

Judge Cole Fines Three Violators

Three traffic violators were fined Thursday by County Court Judge Robert Cole.

David James Wilson, 19, 1320 N. Cooper St., no license and safety standards for motor cycle, $18.60.

Katherine T. Farrab, 52, 13255 Vollmer Road, reckless driving, $56.

Robert Ross Baptist, 18, 509 Cypress Drive, driving too fast for conditions, $16.

Tanks, Troops Leave Prague, 5 Reported Dead

were almost empty, and stores were nearly deserted.

More than 40,000 massed in Wenceslas Square. Crowds of youths resisted clouds of tear gas and truncheons of the security forces who finally cleared the city center.

The demonstrators chanted that Husak was a traitor, sang the National Anthem and shouted "Russians go home!" Over and over they cried "Long live Dubcek!", in tribute to Alexander Dubcek, the popular reformer that Husak replaced in April.

"It was an important occasion for the people," a woman said. "We are being told now so much about the invasion being justified we started having doubts. On Thursday we found out that even after a year everybody still agrees it was a terrible thing—we found out we still agree with each other."

In Bratislava, the Slovak capital, there also were clashes with police. Shots were fired over the heads of demonstrators, and arrests were made.

In Brno, Czechoslovakia's second largest city, witnesses reported that a young man poured gasoline on his clothes and set himself afire. They said the flames were quickly extinguished and the man carried off.

Youths there threw cobblestones at police who dispersed about 5,000 demonstrators with tear gas and baton charges.

In Prague, most of the demonstrating had ended when the tanks arrived, but groups of youths tried unsuccessfully to barricade several streets against them. Some of the tanks joined other military vehicles ringing Communist party headquarters where Husak and his presidium were reported in almost continuous session during the past three days of demonstrations.

Some people expressed fear today that the rioting might bring severe repressive measures. So far the regime had taken no public notice of the broad participation in the passive protest and harped on the contention that hooligans and social outcasts were responsible for the anniversary disturbances.

Noisy and sometimes violent anti-Soviet demonstrations were held in a number of foreign cities protesting the invasion.

North Viets Continue Hitting U.S. Infantry

Col. Eli P. Howard Jr. of Woodbridge, Va., a battalion commander. All eight men are believed dead.

The drive to reach the wreckage has become the focus of the hard fighting that has been raging in the area since Sunday. U.S. spokesmen claim that at least 469 North Vietnamese have been slain, many by a massive rain of bombs, napalm, rockets and artillery shells.

More than 1,200 U.S. infantrymen, Marines and South Vietnamese soldiers have been thrown into the fighting. Associated Press correspondent Richard Pyle reported from the area that 35 Americans have been killed, 10 are missing and more than 150 are wounded.

As the Communist command's fall campagin entered its 11th day, U.S. headquarters reported more than 20 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the night.

The most damaging hit Duc Pho, a district town of 100 miles southeast of Da Nang. A U.S. spokesman said 10 mortar rounds landed in the town, and initial reports indicated 10 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 60 were wounded.

The enemy gunners presumably were hoping to hit a South Vietnamese army reconnaissance company based in the town. South Vietnamese headquarters said military casualties were light.

Enemy gunners also shelled the U.S. air base at Da Nang, the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Marine Regiment nine miles south of the city, and a night camp of Marines from the 7th Regiment 25 miles south of Da Nang. Casualties and damage were light, the U.S. Command said.

Anti-War Groups Planning Busy Fall of Protests

Unlike in past efforts, it is welcoming support from more moderate antiwar groups such as the National Council of Churches, SANE, ADA and the New Democratic Coalition.

Prof. Sidney Peck of Cleveland's Western Reserve University, a cochairman of the Washington demonstration, said in a telephone interview the extent of the new coalition "will become apparent" Sept. 10 at a news conference in New York.

The other cochairman is Stewart Meacham of the American Friends Service Committee. Peck said this is another indication of "the definite expansiin of forces" to take in religious, labor and servicemen's protest organizations.

Debbie Moves To Sea After Bermuda Pass

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Debbie, the "guinea pig" storm, moved perilously close to the resort island of Bermuda then swerved toward the open seas today where its 110-mile-an-hour winds posed a threat only to ships.

Debbie, twice seeded by storm scientists in an effort to tame its fury, showed no signs of weakening.

At midnight, the center of the hurricane was estimated near 62.2 west, based on Navy reconnaissance. That's about 185 miles southeast of Bermuda. Debbie was moving toward the northeast at 12 miles an hour.

Living Costs Go Up Again

and a one-cent rise in average hourly earnings.

The price increases for July added to gloomy news already from the Commerce Department, which has just surveyed the business scene and found more inflation just about everywhere it looked.

The two reports were not encouraging news to the Nixon administration, which has vowed to curb inflation and hopes to have that mission—its foremost domestic goal—accomplished within one year at the most.

Arnold Chase, assistant bureau commissioner, told newsmen that a further boost in meat and poultry prices led to a 1 per cent increase in food costs during July. Prices of most fresh fruits and vegetables also were higher, but Chase said these increases were smaller than normal for July.

Charges for consumer services jumped an average of five-tenths of 1 per cent, with significant increases on mortgage interest, property taxes and home repairs. Medical care costs maintained their steep climb as a result of higher doctors and dentist fees and daily service charges at hospitals.

Chase said higher retail prices for cigarettes reflected earlier increases in wholesale tobacco prices. Furniture, house furnishings and toilet goods showed moderate price rises.

Earlier an administration economist, looking to the future in an interview, said that a downturn in the price increase for three consecutive months would indicate to him inflation had been licked.

Huong Quits As Premier

lowing a two-hour meeting between Huong and Thieu at the latter's Independence Palace.

Huong has been under fire from a large segment of parliament and political leaders close to Thieu who have been urging the premier to resign. A spokesman for Huong had said repeatedly that the premier had no intention of stepping down but the statement today appeared to mean that Huong had finally given in and was clearing hte way for Thieu to replace him.

The statement said Thieu and Hong "agreed that due to political necessities and the desire not to let the present situation continue . . . Premier Huong has agreed to let the president make the decision of forming a new government."

Thieu announced July 19 that he would make major changes in the Cabinet which Huong has led since May 25, 1968. Officials said at the time that there was no question of Huong resigning or being fired.

In the weeks since no changes were made, and reports circulated that Huong would be replaced. Although a popular Southerner and the only prominent civilian in Thieu's regime, he has recently been under fire because of his stringent economic policies and because he did not consult parliament as much as the lawmakers legislators wanted.

Leaders of Thieu's National Social Democrat Front twice called for Huong's replacement by a more vigorous leader. Huong has been ailing for several months. He has had difficulty walking and recently underwent an eye operation. He has made no public appearances in several weeks.

Churches Reject Proposals for Reparations

churches. Recipient organizations were not named.

The fund was the key point of a five-year aid and educational program approved by the council's 120-member Central Committee at its annual meeting which ends today.

The committee called on churches "to move beyond charity grants and traditional programming to relevant and sacrificial action leading to new relationships of dignity and justice among all men."

The group added:

"Churches which have benefited from racially exploitative economic systems should immediately allocate a significant portion of their total resources, without employing paternalistic mechanisms of control, to organizations of the racially oppressed or organizations supporting victims of racial injustice."

The committee rejected in principle Black Power leader James Forman's demand for $500 million in reparations from white churches, saying reparations was only an attempt to "apportion guilt for the past." But one source pointed out that the group had upheld two of Forman's main contentions: That white churches were guilty of racialism and that the churches should give funds directly to victims of discrimination.

The committee action was a victory for the council's American general secretary, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, who had sought a strong statement on racism.

Delegates overwhelmingly defeated a move by Dr. Ernest A. Payne of England to scrap the fund proposal in favor of an appeal to member churches. Payne, one of the six world council presidents, said it would be morally wrong to "transfer council money to a purpose on which member churches had not previously given an opinion."

William P. Thompson of Philadelphia, Pa., clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., replied that the fund would be "the most meaningful way to demonstrate our belief, to do something costly to us and to show we mean what we say."

Dr. Robert J. Marshall of Chicago, president of the Lutheran Church in America, opposed key parts of the resolution, saying the statements against racism were self-defeating because they were too radical. He said such statements as the assertion that white churches had benefited from racial exploitation "turn people off in a way that makes it impossible to work with them further."

Most committee members expressed beliefs that the contribution would strengthen the image and purpose of the council.

State Assembly Turned Thoughts To Nature When They Had Time

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
Associated Press Writer

When state legislatures found time for something other than budgets, taxes and campus protesters this year their thoughts turned to nature.

It was, so to speak, the year of the buzzard—and of the sharp-shinned hawk, and snakes and squirrels and nuts, depending on your state.

North Carolina's General Assembly made the gray squirrel the official state mammal. But it wasn't a snap.

When the bill came up in the House, Rep. Basil D. Barr, the sponsor, told his colleagues: "The gray squirrel is thrifty. He buries nuts."

And Rep. Henry Boshamer commented: "Any animal that buries nuts would be dangerous to this General Assembly."

In Georgia Rep. Ward Edwards introduced a bill to change the state bird from the brown thrasher to the bob white quail. It set off a few flights of oratory.

Quail hunting is a popular pastime in Georgia, Edwards explained, and the creature which makes it possible should be recognized.

But Rep. Sidney Marcus maintained that the brown thrasher had served the state well and said he would offer an amendment to make the brown thrasher state bird emeritus. But the proposal never got to the floor.

Little bluestem—andropogan scoparius—became the state grass in Nebraska. This was the sort of grass which was most abundant when the pioneer settled there.

Lake Superior agate was chosen as the official rock of Minnesota.

Legislation still pending at last report would make the mushroom Indiana's official fungus.

In snakeless Hawaii, a bill to allow the Honolulu Zoo to import two male, poison-free snakes failed to get through the legislature.

Maryland's lawmakers removed the buzzard from the list of unprotected birds, leaving only the English sparrow, European starling and crow to be killed at will.

Pennsylvania removed the cooper hawk and sharp-skinned hawk from the list of unprotected birds—and thus shielded them from hunters—in the area north of U.S. 22.

The Senate's Republican whip, Albert R. Pechan, observed: "These hawks will be a lot better off if they can read road signs."

The first bill to go through North Dakota's Legislature this year prohibited discrimination against women jockeys. Gov. William L. Guy noted the legislature provided that "all women jockeys shall be permitted to ride a horse" in a race.

"It now appears that, if a dozen or more women jockeys show up for a race, the law permits all of them to ride one horse," the governor said. "This would appear to discriminate somewhat against the horse." But he signed the measure.

The South Carolina Legislature adopted a resolution which called upon New York State to ban the use of revolving glass doors in New York hotels. The reason: A University of South Carolina basketball player, in New York City for a tournament, suffered a leg cut in an accident in such a door.

Massachusetts eliminated a requirement that the state fire a 21-gun salute every year to mark the Battle of New Orleans 1,500 miles away as the crow flies and 154 years distant as the clock ticks. Joseph M. Ambrose, adjutant general who filed the bill, griped about the expense and difficulty of assembling crews and field pieces every year and moving them to Boston Common to disturb the peace of people who frequent the park.

Rep. P. C. Collins Jr., a critic of littering, introduced a bill in North Carolina to require a 10 cent deposit on all cans or bottles of soft drinks or beer.

"This will encourage people to return those cans and bottles to get their deposit back instead of throwing them out the car window," he said. Instead the bill went out the window, dying in committee.

Minnesota enacted a law which prohibits wholesalers from setting the retail prices of bottled liquor. At one committee hearing a legislator displayed three bottles of lower-priced liquor from Wisconsin to support the proposal.

Rep. Louis Murray raised a question: "Mr. Chairman, I wonder if I might take the evidence home for study over the weekend?"

He request was bottled up.

Seale Posts Bond, Arrested Second Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Black Panther leader Bobby Seale posted $25,000 bail on a fugitive charge Wednesday, but before he got out of the federal marshal's custody he was handcuffed by two city police inspectors with a murder warrant from Connecticut.

The 32-year-old Panther cofounder and national chairman spent his second night in San Francisco County jail and was scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing today on legality of the Connecticut warrant.

In New Haven authorities have changed Seale and 14 others with the kidnaping and torture slaying of Alex Rackley, 24, of New York, last May 21.

FBI agents arrested Seale in Berkeley Tuesday night.

Seale Posts Bond, Arrested Second Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Black Panther leader Bobby Seale posted $25,000 bail on a fugitive charge Wednesday, but before he got out of the federal marshal's custody he was handcuffed by two city police inspectors with a murder warrant from Connecticut.

The 32-year-old Panther cofounder and national chairman spent his second night in San Francisco County jail and was scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing today on legality of the Connecticut warrant.

In New Haven authorities have changed Seale and 14 others with the kidnaping and torture slaying of Alex Rackley, 24, of New York, last May 21.

FBI agents arrested Seale in Berkeley Tuesday night.

Astroscientists Get Orbiting Lab Assignments

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A spokesman at the Manned Spacecraft Center said today a memo has been prepared assigning all but one of the 13 scientist-astronauts to concentrated training in orbiting space stations, instead of lunar landing techniques.

This, most observers believe, means 12 of the astroscientists, who long have waited to get into space, will never have the chance to set foot on the moon.

The sole exception is Harrison H. Schmitt, an astrogeologist formerly with the U.S. Geological Survey. Geologists are anxious for Schmitt to go to the moon to help gather information on its rocks and structure.

For the other scientist-astronauts, some of whom have been waiting more than four years to fly, the memo means they won't go into space before the Apollo applications space stations start flying in 1971 or 1972, one source said.

More resignations from the astronaut corps may be coming.

One scientist-astronaut, Frank Curtis Michel, resigned last month, saying his main reason was the long wait for a flight.

He also said there was an emphasis on engineering, as opposed to science, that pervades the civilian space agency and discourages scientists.

Two other scientist-astronauts resigned from the program earlier, and sources have said several of the remaining scientist-astronauts are unhappy.

Sources in the space agency have said that most of the MSC officials still believe, despite the success of Apollo 11's first landing on the moon, that lunar flight in the next several years will be too hazardous for the relatively new flying skills of the scientist-astronaut group, most of whom were taught to fly after they were selected by NASA.

Crews for Apollos 12, 13 and 14 are made up of test pilots who are trained to perform scientific tasks while on the moon.

Nine more flights to the moon are being planned by NASA, starting with Apollo 12 in November. The others, up to Apollo 20, will follow every four to five months.

High Interest Slows Gain in Farm Values

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher interest rates and tighter credit have slowed the gains in farm real estate values and transactions, but the average price rose to a record $187 an acre on March 1, says the Agriculture Department.

A preliminary report on farm real estate said the average value of land and buildings rose 5 per cent during the year ended Feb. 28, and 2 per cent from the Nov. 1 average.

This was slightly less than the average annual gains of 6 to 8 per cent the past few years and indicated "stringent credit conditions" in the land market, the report said.

The average of $187 per acre on March 1 compared with $178 a year earlier and $167 on March 1, 1967.

Total market value of all farm land and buildings was estimated at $202.6 billion on March 1, a gain of $9.5 billion during the year.

Officials said about 103,000 voluntary and estate sales of farm land took place during the year, representing more than 22 million acres or about 2 per cent of all land in farms.

The acreage involved was about 9 per cent less than a year earlier, the report said.

Regionally, the increases in average land value ranged from a 3 per cent gain during the year in the mountain states to 10 per cent in the southeast, the report said.

Officials said surveys showed a wide disparity in sizes and economic status, with averages ranging from 123 acres for noncommercial farms with less than $2,500 annual gross sales to nearly 1,500 acres for farms grossing $40,000 or more.

There are indications that as land sales contract because of the tighter money market more people are turning to rental agreements. The report said for each acre of land purchased more than two acres were rented in an effort to meet expansion needs.

Officials predicted further increases in rental activity.

Demands Halt To Gas Going Across Iowa

DES MOINES, Iowa, (UPI)— Gov. Robert Ray, has called upon the U.S. Department of Transportation to intervene and halt shipments of poison gas through Iowa.

The governor vowed Wednesday to call out Iowa National Guardsmen to patrol points along the routes, if Transportation Secretary John Volpe does not stop the shipments.

Ray asked Volpe to curtail two planned shipments of deadly phosgene gas through Iowa, and to deny permits for any future shipments in the state.

The Republican governor, who registered a complaint with President Nixon when a similar train passed through Iowa last week, pointed out that 17 train wrecks have occurred on the proposed route thus far this year.

Last week, a train carrying 15 cars of phosgene canisters moved secretly through the state, before its deadly cargo was learned about by state officials.

"I expect them (federal officials) to let us know when the shipments will be made and what precautions will be taken to safeguard the train shipments," Ray said.

However, his main goal is to stop altogether the transportation of the deadly gas.

Ray said he has gained assurance from J. R. Brennan, vice president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, that the line will ask the Transportation Department "to be excused from shipping the gas through Iowa and the country."

If the shipments can't be stopped, Ray said, "the public is entitled to know if the trains are taking lethal gas across the state. The gas is so lethal that the most that can be inhaled is one part in 10 million. If one canister of gas were to break, it could wipe out any of our small cities in the state."

Salvage Firm Owner Shoots 2 Prowlers

DENVER (AP) — A Denver salvage firm owner shot two men he suspected of stealing from his lot Wednesday, critically wounding one, police said.

Police said a man identified as James William George, 26, of Denver was in critical condition with a bullet wound near his spine. Another man, Harley E. Woodson, 21, was jailed for investigation of theft. He suffered a minor wound, investigating officers said.

School Boycott Planned To Bring Hot Lunches

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — A boycott of schools that don't offer free or reduced price lunches for poor children is being planned during National School Lunch Week.

John R. Kramer, executive director of the National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition, said parents would be urged to refuse to send children to such schools or to withdraw students in the middle of the day for a free lunch during the week of Oct. 12-17.

"The idea is to dramatize the problem for local school boards," Kramer said.

"We're going to try to get all of the major civil rights and 'people's' groups to conduct a boycott of the schools that don't offer free or reduced price lunches to focus public attention on the need to improve the school lunch program."

Kramer said such groups as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference would participate in planning.

A recent study by Rodney Ashby, Utah's school food services director, indicated that 32.5 million of the nation's 51 million elementary and secondary students do not get school lunches. An estimated 19 million of these are qualified for reduced price meals and another three million should get free lunches, the report said.

A secondary aspect of the boycott will be to collect material for law suits against local school authorities who fail to start free or reduced price lunch programs, Kramer said.

Such suits already have been filed in five states by various groups. They cite the National School Lunch Act which says "such meals shall be served without cost or at a reduced cost to children who are determined by local school authorities to be unable to pay the full cost of the lunch."

New school lunch programs already are being considered by Congress.

The House voted earlier this year to expand the lunch program to $100 million and Senate hearings are scheduled next month on a proposal by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga. It would increase appropriations for school lunches from the current $44.8 million to $250 million in fiscal 1971 and $300 million in 1972.

This could raech about 3.5 million of the 7.5 million students the council estimates need either a free lunch or substantial assistance.

The bill would also provide an additional $20 million to buy equipment for some of the schools attended by 10 million children at which no lunch is available at all. And it would stiffen a requirement designed to make states pay 75 per cent of lunch program costs.

At present, the council says fewer than half of the 50 states provide any state funds for the program.

ALLEN-GOLDSMITH REPORT

Robert S. Allen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — South Vietnamese intelligence and counter-intelligence units are presumed, by U.S. authorities to be thoroughly infiltrated, by the Viet Cong.

That circumstance apparently had a bearing on the much publicized Green Beret murder case. It is the explanation advanced here for keeping the murder victim under U.S. control after he had been shown to be a double agent.

Under normal circumstances, civilian offenders there are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for action. That was not done in the Green Beret case, however, and eight members of the Special Forces — Green Berets — face possible murder charges arising from the incident.

Apparently the Green Berets, having subjected the double agent to intensive interrogation, did not want to turn him over to South Vietnamese authorities. They felt that he would be questioned by South Vietnamese and might disclose information about Special Forces activities which would leak back to Hanoi.

On that basis the decision was made not to turn the victim over to the South Vietnamese at all but to dispose of the matter within the U.S. forces. That, in retrospect, was an unfortunate decision.

NOT CIA—In that connection, the most authoritative account of the incident circulating here differs in part from most of the versions leaked to newsmen in Saigon.

In the first place, the CIA has informed key congressional leaders that the victim in the case was not employed by CIA, at any level, and that CIA did not order his death.

The victim was, accoridng to the best information available here, a rather low level military intelligence agent who reported truck traffic and troop movements. He did not have other, super-secret duties as intimated in some published reports.

After he had been shown to be a double agent, the Green Berets consulted with CIA on how to proceed. That, according to authoritative sources, was CIA's first knowledge of the victim and his mission.

Contrary to some Saigon reports, sources here say CIA felt the regular routine should be followed and that the matter should be turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for disposition.

Thus the decision to keep the victim under U.S. control was made by the Special Forces high command, according to this account.

MOTHBALLS AGAIN? — The future of the USS New Jersey, the big battleship recommissioned for duty in Vietnam, is once again in doubt.

The New Jersey was sent to waters off North Vietnam late last September. In late March, the ship was ordered home for a regular overhaul after six months of fire support and shore bombardment.

Before the New Jersey arrived off North Vietnam, bombardment had been restricted to the southern part of North Vietnam. Soon after the ship reported there, all bombing of the North was halted, and all bombardment there was stopped also.

That meant that the ship's 16-inch guns, which lob 2,700-pound projectiles, were greatly restricted as to targets. The 20-mile rang of the 16-inchers could have spanned the DMZ at its narrowest point, but bombardment was limited to the South.

In recent congressional testimony, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the Chief of Naval Operations, testified that the New Jersey had not been given a fair test under the circumstances.

In earlier closed-door testimony Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird testified that he had "serious questions" about deployment of the New Jersey. He recalled that he had voted against a reprogramming of funds to get the ship out of mothballs when he was a member of the House Appropriations Committee.

"I do not believe that the New Jersey has contributed a great deal so far to the operations in Vietnam," said Laird, in discussing the big ships' six-month tour of duty in the war zone.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the New Jersey "did some good work" but he noted that "the time when she was of maximum usefulness against North Vietnam was quite limited."

Wheeler also testified that there was a "controversy" within the navy as to the desirability of recommissioning the New Jersey for duty in Vietnam. He said Adm. David L. McDonald, former chief of naval operations, was one of those opposed on grounds that two cruisers off Vietnam would be cheaper to operate and more effective.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., now chairman of the influential Senate Appropriations Committee was the major booster of recommissioning the New Jersey. In a time of heavy economy pressures, however, Russell's support may not be quite enough to keep the big battleship on the firing line.

Says Roads Built for Killing

DENVER (AP)—If someone tried to start from scratch and build highways to kill as many people as possible, the roads would be built essentially as they are right now, an auto safety authority said here Wednesday night.

Dr. Horace (introduced as "Crash") Campbell, special consultant to the automobile safety committee of the Colorado Medical Association, said that while money is said to be the big obstacle to highway improvement, accidents cost $9 billion a year.

"Why not use that money for building safe roads?" he asked.

He said at least 100 feet should separate opposite lanes of traffic. And, he said, anyone injured in a head-on collision on an improperly designed road should sue the U.S. Department of Highways and the state highway department.

He addressed a meeting of 450 delegates to the American Association of Clinical Chemists convention.

School Boycott Planned To Bring Hot Lunches

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — A boycott of schools that don't offer free or reduced price lunches for poor children is being planned during National School Lunch Week.

John R. Kramer, executive director of the National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition, said parents would be urged to refuse to send children to such schools or to withdraw students in the middle of the day for a free lunch during the week of Oct. 12-17.

"The idea is to dramatize the problem for local school boards," Kramer said.

"We're going to try to get all of the major civil rights and 'people's' groups to conduct a boycott of the schools that don't offer free or reduced price lunches to focus public attention on the need to improve the school lunch program."

Kramer said such groups as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference would participate in planning.

A recent study by Rodney Ashby, Utah's school food services director, indicated that 32.5 million of the nation's 51 million elementary and secondary students do not get school lunches. An estimated 19 million of these are qualified for reduced price meals and another three million should get free lunches, the report said.

A secondary aspect of the boycott will be to collect material for law suits against local school authorities who fail to start free or reduced price lunch programs, Kramer said.

Such suits already have been filed in five states by various groups. They cite the National School Lunch Act which says "such meals shall be served without cost or at a reduced cost to children who are determined by local school authorities to be unable to pay the full cost of the lunch."

New school lunch programs already are being considered by Congress.

The House voted earlier this year to expand the lunch program to $100 million and Senate hearings are scheduled next month on a proposal by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga. It would increase appropriations for school lunches from the current $44.8 million to $250 million in fiscal 1971 and $300 million in 1972.

This could raech about 3.5 million of the 7.5 million students the council estimates need either a free lunch or substantial assistance.

The bill would also provide an additional $20 million to buy equipment for some of the schools attended by 10 million children at which no lunch is available at all. And it would stiffen a requirement designed to make states pay 75 per cent of lunch program costs.

At present, the council says fewer than half of the 50 states provide any state funds for the program.

ALLEN-GOLDSMITH REPORT

Robert S. Allen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — South Vietnamese intelligence and counter-intelligence units are presumed, by U.S. authorities to be thoroughly infiltrated, by the Viet Cong.

That circumstance apparently had a bearing on the much publicized Green Beret murder case. It is the explanation advanced here for keeping the murder victim under U.S. control after he had been shown to be a double agent.

Under normal circumstances, civilian offenders there are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for action. That was not done in the Green Beret case, however, and eight members of the Special Forces — Green Berets — face possible murder charges arising from the incident.

Apparently the Green Berets, having subjected the double agent to intensive interrogation, did not want to turn him over to South Vietnamese authorities. They felt that he would be questioned by South Vietnamese and might disclose information about Special Forces activities which would leak back to Hanoi.

On that basis the decision was made not to turn the victim over to the South Vietnamese at all but to dispose of the matter within the U.S. forces. That, in retrospect, was an unfortunate decision.

NOT CIA—In that connection, the most authoritative account of the incident circulating here differs in part from most of the versions leaked to newsmen in Saigon.

In the first place, the CIA has informed key congressional leaders that the victim in the case was not employed by CIA, at any level, and that CIA did not order his death.

The victim was, accoridng to the best information available here, a rather low level military intelligence agent who reported truck traffic and troop movements. He did not have other, super-secret duties as intimated in some published reports.

After he had been shown to be a double agent, the Green Berets consulted with CIA on how to proceed. That, according to authoritative sources, was CIA's first knowledge of the victim and his mission.

Contrary to some Saigon reports, sources here say CIA felt the regular routine should be followed and that the matter should be turned over to South Vietnamese authorities for disposition.

Thus the decision to keep the victim under U.S. control was made by the Special Forces high command, according to this account.

MOTHBALLS AGAIN? — The future of the USS New Jersey, the big battleship recommissioned for duty in Vietnam, is once again in doubt.

The New Jersey was sent to waters off North Vietnam late last September. In late March, the ship was ordered home for a regular overhaul after six months of fire support and shore bombardment.

Before the New Jersey arrived off North Vietnam, bombardment had been restricted to the southern part of North Vietnam. Soon after the ship reported there, all bombing of the North was halted, and all bombardment there was stopped also.

That meant that the ship's 16-inch guns, which lob 2,700-pound projectiles, were greatly restricted as to targets. The 20-mile rang of the 16-inchers could have spanned the DMZ at its narrowest point, but bombardment was limited to the South.

In recent congressional tests timony, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the Chief of Naval Operations, testified that the New Jersey had not been given a fair test under the circumstances.

In earlier closed-door testimony Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird testified that he had "serious questions" about deployment of the New Jersey. He recalled that he had voted against a reprogramming of funds to get the ship out of mothballs when he was a member of the House Appropriations Committee.

"I do not believe that the New Jersey has contributed a great deal so far to the operations in Vietnam," said Laird, in discussing the big ships' six-month tour of duty in the war zone.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the New Jersey "did some good work" but he noted that "the time when she was of maximum usefulness against North Vietnam was quite limited."

Wheeler also testified that there was a "controversy" within the navy as to the desirability of recommissioning the New Jersey for duty in Vietnam. He said Adm. David L. McDonald, former chief of naval operations, was one of those opposed on grounds that two cruisers off Vietnam would be cheaper to operate and more effective.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., now chairman of the influential Senate Appropriations Committee was the major booster of recommissioning the New Jersey. In a time of heavy economy pressures, however, Russell's support may not be quite enough to keep the big battleship on the firing line.

Man Says County Jail Has Been A Scene of Chaos for Three Days

By JIM GLENN
Gazette Telegraph Staff Writer

"I've been raped, beaten and tortured last night in that jail and I'm not going back there. It's been going on for three days."

This statement made earlier in the week by a 19-year-old male inmate in county jail to County Court Judge Robert Cole sparked an immediate investigation by the district attorney's office and police department which will result today in charges being filed against seven prisoners already facing other felony charges.

District Attorney Robert Russel told the Gazette Telegraph Thursday that at least two other young men had been similarly attacked and one had received a broken jaw.

Russel said that the perpetrators of the attacks referred to them as an "initiation." Their methods included beating, ripping off the victim's clothing, tossing him into a hot shower then a cold one, sexual attacks and torturing the man on various parts of his body with a sharp instrument.

On Tuesday when Judge Cole heard the defendant make his complaint in open court he ordered him and another man who substantiated the story to be transferred to city jail for their own safety.

This is not the first time such incidents have happened in county jail. On July 3 a 19-year-old inmate was sexually attacked by four others who have now been charged with crime against nature.

The jail is so obsolete that it is extremely difficult to prevent these occurrences, Sheriff Earl Sullivan said Thursday.

Sullivan said that it had been built to hold 35 prisoners. On Thursday afternoon there were 90 inmates.

The sheriff also said that he had called in the police and district attorney's office to make the present investigation as he wanted "a completely unbiased report."

Pointing out the difficulties of controlling unruly prisoners, he said the building was so old that there were no peep holes to investigate what was going on in the cells. In certain parts of the jail the officer must actually enter the cell to investigate.

This can be extremely dangerous and only last year one deputy sheriff was almost beaten unconscious by two men who escaped but were recaptured shortly afterwards.

Sullivan also pointed out the acute shortage of men, and at the moment only one man is on duty at night when trouble is most likely to erupt. Referring to the latest incident the sheriff said neither he nor his staff have any way of knowing about such matters unless the victim was prepared to talk but generally they were too afraid.

Hewlett-Packard Reports Gain In Recent Sales

Hewlett-Packard Co. today reported a 20 per cent gain in sales and a 23 per cent gain in earnings for the nine-month period ended July 31.

Sales totaled $234,686,000, compared with $196,114,000 for the first nine months of fiscal 1968.

Net earnings amounted to $17,814,000, equal to $1.41 a share on 12,629,343 shares of common stock outstanding.

This compares with earnings of $14,529,000, equal to $1.16 a share on 12,546,101 shares, during the corresponding period last year.

In announcing the results, President William R. Hewlett said that business has been "uniformly good" throughout HP's various product groups and noted that incoming orders for the nine-month period totaled $265,300,000, up 27 per cent over the corresponding period of 1968.

"Orders during the third quarter totaled $100,929,000, a 33 per cent increase over orders of $76,154,000 during the corresponding quarter last year," he said.

Third-quarter sales amounted to $82,727,000, compared with sales of $68,601,000 in the corresponding period of 1968. Earnings for the quarter totaled $6,126,000, equal to 48 cents a share. This compares with earnings of $5,626,000, or 45 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1968.

I see where Mr. Richnix has sent a message to congress. He wants some federally enforced safety standards to protect the workin feller on his job. At last they have found out that the business ogre has been hiring employees all these years so they could kill them off at random.

The ever popular solution is, of course, a five-man board to set the standards and police them in the states. I don't like that word 'police' but there you are. The board would be very rank — in fact in rank with the national labor relations board, which is about as rank as you can get.

The five-member board will be appointed for five-year terms which means another 25 years of tax salaries down the drain. They will have authority to assess penalties of up to 10,000 geets on the poor employer who don't meet the standards.

Its a good thing we are going to have these fellers police the employers. I'm sure it is worth it if it can prevent accidents like the feller who was working in a candy factory and fell into a cauldron of hot chocolate. Before they could shut down the machinery he had already been distributed and boxed into 20,000 candy bars along with a passel of hickory nuts.

Motel Is Robbed Of $512 From Office

Cash and checks worth a total of $512.66 were stolen from the office at the Trails End Motel, 1516 S. Nevada Ave., the sheriff's office reported Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Donald Mulvey entry was made by cutting a screen and forcing the window.

A second theft was reported at the home of Mrs. Pamela Webb, 1801 Stardust Drive where a purse and $50 in cash were taken.

Big Hike Reported in Major Crimes

A 31 per cent increase in major crimes in Colorado Springs for the first seven months of the year has been reported by the police department. This is a three per cent drop over the situation a month ago.

The latest report from the police department shows there have been 3,513 such crimes this year compared to 2,677 for the same time in 1968.

Included in the major crime category are homicide, forcible rape, robbery, assault, burglary, auto theft and larceny, except auto theft.

Homicides increased 18 per cent from 11 to 13, but eight of this year's 13 were traffic homicides and five were criminal homicides, actually two less than last year. The traffic homicides increased 100 per cent from four cases last year to eight this year.

In the other major crime categories, forcible rapes were up 122 per cent from nine cases last year to 20 this year; robberies jumped 74 per cent from 66 to 115; assaults increased 10 per cent from 104 to 115; burglaries showed a hike of 36 per cent from 615 to 838; auto thefts were 40 per cent more numerous in jumping from 196 to 276; and larceny (except auto theft) went up 27 per cent from 1,675 to 2,136.

In crimes of a lesser category, sex offenses have dropped sharply from 74 last year to 31 this year; there has also been a drop in malicious mischief cases from 814 to 745.

Lumping all crimes together, there have been 5,370 offenses known to police during the first seven months of the year compared to 4,417 last year, an overall increase in the crime index of 21 per cent. The lesser crimes this year total 1,844 compared to 1,729 for last year, an increase of six per cent.

Hungry Man Too Much In a Hurry

Going after something to eat was no reason to drive 75 miles per hour down Colorado Avenue, Municipal Judge Harold C. Cook told a defendant Thursday.

Patrolman Jess Kyle testified he followed defendant Joseph Gentile, 23, 511 N. Cooper St., at speeds in excess of 75 miles per hour in the 100 to 600 blocks of West Colorado Avenue. Kyle said Gentile was weaving through traffic and at that speed they passed as many as 20 to 25 other vehicles on the street in the 30 mile zone.

Kyle testified Gentile told him he was going after something to eat.

Gentile told the court he "couldn't have been going that fast but I am guilty of reckless driving." He admitted having several beers.

Calling Gentile's driving conduct "ridiculous and nonsensical and the type that causes fatalities," Judge Cook fined the man $250 on the reckless driving charge, sentenced him to five days in the city jail and suspended his right to drive in the city for 30 days. He suspended $100 of the fine and the entire jail sentence on condition that Gentile has no further hazardous violations for one year.

A one-car wreck in which his vehicle left a number of skid marks, hit an embankment, was airborne and then flipped onto its top brought a $150 fine against Timothy J. Cora, 22, Ft. Carson. Cook suspended $50 of the fine on condition Cora has no similar violations for one year.

The man told the court a car pulled alongside him and a man, whom he did not know, threatened Cora's life and pulled something on him "that resembled a gun" but the soldier could give no description of it. Cora commented that he just "jumped in my car and took off." "I was panic stricken," Cora said, "and not responsible for my actions."

During the "chase" Cora ran off the road at Las Vegas Street and Sierra Madre Street and flipped his car. He said he jumped out of his overturned vehicle, grabbed a stick and "shouted sweet obscenities" at the occupants of the other car.

Cook told the man he believed his story and thus would reduce the charge from reckless driving to careless driving, but the judge told Cora his course of action had been completely wrong following the threat and Cora could have been in deep trouble if a three-year-old child had run across the road in front of him during the incident. He recommended going to the police headquarters in the future.

Other dispositions handed down by Cook included:

Claude C. Belt, Jr., 19, 2132 Robin Dr., speeding, $25.

William Evans, 41, 5102 Galley Road, disobeyed traffic signal, $10 suspended.

Harrison W. Holmes, 28, formerly of Woodland Park, failure to obey police at an accident scene, $10.

Terrance Lowell, 28, 722 E. Platte Ave., improper backing, $5.

Lloyd Martinez, 28, 301 S. Union Blvd., careless driving, $75 with $25 suspended conditionally.

Alma Street, 58, 4406 Palmer Park Blvd., right of way, dismissed.

Manuel Santos, 21, Ft. Carson, speeding and defective muffler, $55 with $25 suspended conditionally.

Richard Craddock, 20, Ft. Carson, straight through in right turn only lane, $10.

George Culbertson, 53, 1917 Sheldon Road, disobeyed traffic signal, $20.

Betty Ann Clayton, 23, 1801 N. Union Blvd., careless driving, dismissed.

Orin Wilkison, 31, 1017 Manitou Ave., improper turn, $10.

Ron Rowan and Dennis Lambrecht prosecuted for the city.

BREAK IN — Mayor T. Eugene McCleary Thursday took cue stick in hand and "cut" the ribbon at grand opening ceremonies for the Teen Center of Colorado Springs, 324 E. Pikes Peak Ave. The grand opening extends through Saturday with national bands appearing at the Center tonight and Saturday night. The opening group was the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band featuring the "world's largest light show."

A. J. Allen Appears to Start Sentence

A. J. Allen appeared in district court Thursday and started serving his original sentence of two and a half to five years in the Colorado State Penitentiary.

Allen, 44, formerly of 932½ E. Cimarron St. was found guilty Feb. 2, 1968 by a district court jury of attempted assault with a deadly weapon.

According to testimony heard at the trial, he pulled a gun on Police Officer Earl Wayne Tysver, Oct. 24, 1967 who had stopped him for a minor traffic violation.

When he was sentenced by Judge Hunter D. Hardeman, defense counsel Robert Dunlap won a stay of execution as he was appealing to the Colorado Supreme Court. The case is still in the higher court.

On Thursday, Dunlap explained to the court that his client had subsequently been found guilty of two violations of the Mann Act, transporting women across the state line for immoral purposes, and was currently serving sentence on both counts of not more than three and a half years in La Tuna, Tex. The two sentences are running concurrently.

Dunlap asked that the stay of execution out of El Paso County be vacated and that Allen start serving his sentence on the assault charge now so he could be receiving credit for all three sentences.

The judge granted Dunlap's motion and Allen was transported to the state penitentiary. His sentence out of Colorado Springs will run concurrently with the two Federal offenses.

Scott Fined $66 On Assault Charge

Sammy T. Scott, 26, 417 S. Weber St. was fined $66.32 Thursday by County Court Judge James F. Quine Jr. for assault and battery.

Scott was charged with attacking a Mary Culver at 419 S. Weber St. June 3.

The defendant still has a charge of burglary and another of burglary and theft pending against him in district court.

Shoplifting Charges Draws Two Fines

Two men were fined Thursday by County Court Judge James F. Quine for shoplifting.

The first was Michael Warren Hurley, 18, Monument, charged with stealing items worth $8.94 from Arlan's Department Store, 1801 N. Union Blvd., June 9, who paid a $71.40 fine.

Gordon Terrell Landrum Jr., 21, 1308 N. Cooper St. was fined $56 also for stealing from Arlans. The offense happened Aug. 2 and the merchandise taken was valued at $4.29.

Lifeguard Pulls Youth From Lake

A lifeguard at Prospect Lake Thursday pulled a man from the lake and administered to him until arrival of the city fire department's resuscitator unit and E and E Ambulance.

Larry G. Friedrichs, 1123 Alexander Road, told police he saw a youth swim toward the roped off area, hang on the rope for a time and start to swim back after Friedrichs blew a whistle and warned him to stay away from the rope.

The boy, identified as Larry D. Luman, 16, 2405 Ivanhoe, then had problems and the lifeguard swam out and rescued him.

After pulling Luman to shore Friedrichs called for help when the boy went into shock.

Money Is Stolen From Gift Shop

A bank bag containing $493.71 in cash and checks was stolen from Monroe's Gift Shoppe, 517 Main Street, Canon City, apparently during the noon hour Tuesday.

The loss was discovered by owner, Mrs. Marilyn Monroe. Canon City police are investigating.

Mrs. Monroe told authorities she discovered the bag, labeled Fremont National Bank, missing about 2 p.m from the top of the desk at the rear of the store. The money was to be deposited in the bank Tuesday afternoon.

The rear door of the gift shop was open to provide ventilation, a usual practice Mrs. Monroe said. Investigating officer Ernest Anderson said the theft could have occurred between 11:15 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Persons making purchases by check since last Friday in the gift shop were asked to contact Mrs. Monroe.

Two Armed Robbers Hold Up Store

Two armed robbers escaped with an unknown amount of money and a package of cigarettes Thursday in the armed robbery of the 7-Eleven Store, 213 E. Cache La Poudre St.

The two held up the clerk on duty, Neil David Abrahams, 35 McBurney Blvd.

The bandit with the gun was described as a Negro male, 5 feet 8 inches tall, 130-150 pounds, wearing a ski mask, a yellow sweater and green pants.

The other man was described as being a Negro male, 6 feet tall, 160 pounds, very long sideburns and short hair. He was wearing a gold shirt, a gray sweater and brown pants.

Teen Center Ribbon 'Cut' With Cue Stick

Unorthodox ribbon cutting highlighted the grand opening and dedication ceremonies for the Teen Center of Colorado Springs, 324 E. Pikes Peak Ave., Thursday at the center.

Mayor T. Eugene McCleary took cue stick in hand and sent the eight ball scuttling toward the side pocket, "cutting" the ribbon in the process to formally open the center.

Thursday night the center's festivities in connection with the grand opening got underway with the appearance of national recording artists, The West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band featuring the "world's largest light show."

Up to 40 projectors were running at the same time to provide a "light fantastic" for the teens assembled for the opening.

Tonight will feature an appearance by the Lemon Pipers whose hits, "Green Tambourin" and "Rice is Nice," have recently been in the top 40 tunes across the country.

The grand opening will wrap up Saturday night with a soul extravaganza featuring the "Soul Mates" with vocal sounds by "The Fascinations."

The master of ceremonies for the Saturday show will be Larry Hammond, billed as "The King of Soul for KDKO," a Denver soul station.

The Teen Center is the only "full-fledged facility for all teenagers in the metropolitan area and is run by a teenage board under the supervision of an adult board which is available for consultation and advice."

The center has been open for some time but grand opening activities are aimed at "drawing in teenagers from the entire region and from all ethnic and racial groups so that all may survey the facilities available for teen's use.

Two Burglaries Are Reported Here

Two burglaries were reported to city police Thursday.

Donald Bernard Leiting, 806 Panorama Drive, reported that his home was entered and a transistor radio, a man's ring, six record albums and 15 bottles of fruit juice stolen.

The loss was estimated at $135.

A home under construction at 3906 Encino St., by Scurr-Messenger and Associates, was burglarized after thieves broke out a window. Stolen was a stove which fits into a built-in area.

The contractors estimated the loss at $147.44.

Don't recall an incident but this needs a bit of clarification anyhow. TV's or any other electrical appliance might appear to explode during an electrical storm because they are conductors of electricity and during storms sometimes an explosive effect develops which creates currents of electricity which are too much for the conductor to handle. So BOOM! Any lightning current through wood, stone or any other non-conducting or semi-conducting material causes explosive effects.

Properly grounded electrical connections such as TV antennas, lightning rods (one at each end of the house or at 50 foot intervals) will give the best protection generally.

About the safest place you can be during an electrical storm is in your car or in a properly protected house or building. Should you be on foot or horseback on a plain or mesa you'll be safest if you find a slight depression and lie down as flat as possible until the storm passes. DON'T get under that inviting looking tree, podnah, or under any other solitary shelter!

If your house is properly protected there is no reason why you couldn't watch TV safely even during a severe storm.

Man Says County Jail Has Been A Scene of Chaos for Three Days

By JIM GLENN
Gazette Telegraph Staff Writer

"I've been raped, beaten and tortured last night in that jail and I'm not going back there. It's been going on for three days."

This statement made earlier in the week by a 19-year-old male inmate in county jail to County Court Judge Robert Cole sparked an immediate investigation by the district attorney's office and police department which will result today in charges being filed against seven prisoners already facing other felony charges.

District Attorney Robert Russel told the Gazette Telegraph Thursday that at least two other young men had been similarly attacked and one had received a broken jaw.

Russel said that the perpetrators of the attacks referred to them as an "initiation." Their methods included beating, ripping off the victim's clothing, tossing him into a hot shower then a cold one, sexual attacks and torturing the man on various parts of his body with a sharp instrument.

On Tuesday when Judge Cole heard the defendant make his complaint in open court he ordered him and another man who substantiated the story to be transferred to city jail for their own safety.

This is not the first time such incidents have happened in county jail. On July 3 a 19-year-old inmate was sexually attacked by four others who have now been charged with crime against nature.

The jail is so obsolete that it is extremely difficult to prevent these occurrences, Sheriff Earl Sullivan said Thursday.

Sullivan said that it had been built to hold 35 prisoners. On Thursday afternoon there were 90 inmates.

The sheriff also said that he had called in the police and district attorney's office to make the present investigation as he wanted "a completely unbiased report."

Pointing out the difficulties of controlling unruly prisoners, he said the building was so old that there were no peep holes to investigate what was going on in the cells. In certain parts of the jail the officer must actually enter the cell to investigate.

This can be extremely dangerous and only last year one deputy sheriff was almost beaten unconscious by two men who escaped but were recaptured shortly afterwards.

Sullivan also pointed out the acute shortage of men, and at the moment only one man is on duty at night when trouble is most likely to erupt. Referring to the latest incident the sheriff said neither he nor his staff have any way of knowing about such matters unless the victim was prepared to talk but generally they were too afraid.

Hewlett-Packard Reports Gain In Recent Sales

Hewlett-Packard Co. today reported a 20 per cent gain in sales and a 23 per cent gain in earnings for the nine-month period ended July 31.

Sales totaled $234,686,000, compared with $196,114,000 for the first nine months of fiscal 1968.

Net earnings amounted to $17,814,000, equal to $1.41 a share on 12,629,343 shares of common stock outstanding.

This compares with earnings of $14,529,000, equal to $1.16 a share on 12,546,101 shares, during the corresponding period last year.

In announcing the results, President William R. Hewlett said that business has been "uniformly good" throughout HP's various product groups and noted that incoming orders for the nine-month period totaled $265,300,000, up 27 per cent over the corresponding period of 1968.

"Orders during the third quarter totaled $100,929,000, a 33 per cent increase over orders of $76,154,000 during the corresponding quarter last year," he said.

Third-quarter sales amounted to $82,727,000, compared with sales of $68,601,000 in the corresponding period of 1968. Earnings for the quarter totaled $6,126,000, equal to 48 cents a share. This compares with earnings of $5,626,000, or 45 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1968.

Hungry Man Too Much In a Hurry

Going after something to eat was no reason to drive 75 miles per hour down Colorado Avenue, Municipal Judge Harold C. Cook told a defendant Thursday.

Patrolman Jess Kyle testified he followed defendant Joseph Gentile, 23, 511 N. Cooper St., at speeds in excess of 75 miles per hour in the 100 to 600 blocks of West Colorado Avenue. Kyle said Gentile was weaving through traffic and at that speed they passed as many as 20 to 25 other vehicles on the street in the 30 mile zone.

Kyle testified Gentile told him he was going after something to eat.

Gentile told the court he "couldn't have been going that fast but I am guilty of reckless driving." He admitted having several beers.

Calling Gentile's driving conduct "ridiculous and nonsensical and the type that causes fatalities," Judge Cook fined the man $250 on the reckless driving charge, sentenced him to five days in the city jail and suspended his right to drive in the city for 30 days. He suspended $100 of the fine and the entire jail sentence on condition that Gentile has no further hazardous violations for one year.

A one-car wreck in which his vehicle left a number of skid marks, hit an embankment, was airborne and then flipped onto its top brought a $150 fine against Timothy J. Cora, 22, Ft. Carson. Cook suspended $50 of the fine on condition Cora has no similar violations for one year.

The man told the court a car pulled alongside him and a man, whom he did not know, threatened Cora's life and pulled something on him "that resembled a gun" but the soldier could give no description of it. Cora commented that he just "jumped in my car and took off." "I was panic stricken," Cora said, "and not responsible for my actions."

During the "chase" Cora ran off the road at Las Vegas Street and Sierra Madre Street and flipped his car. He said he jumped out of his overturned vehicle, grabbed a stick and "shouted sweet obscenities" at the occupants of the other car.

Cook told the man he believed his story and thus would reduce the charge from reckless driving to careless driving, but the judge told Cora his course of action had been completely wrong following the threat and Cora could have been in deep trouble if a three-year-old child had run across the road in front of him during the incident. He recommended going to the police headquarters in the future.

Other dispositions handed down by Cook included:

Claude C. Belt, Jr., 19, 2132 Robin Dr., speeding, $25.

William Evans, 41, 5102 Galley Road, disobeyed traffic signal, $10 suspended.

Harrison W. Holmes, 28, formerly of Woodland Park, failure to obey police at an accident scene, $10.

Terrance Lowell, 28, 722 E. Platte Ave., improper backing, $5.

Lloyd Martinez, 28, 301 S. Union Blvd., careless driving, $75 with $25 suspended conditionally.

Alma Street, 58, 4406 Palmer Park Blvd., right of way, dismissed.

Manuel Santos, 21, Ft. Carson, speeding and defective muffler, $55 with $25 suspended conditionally.

Richard Craddock, 20, Ft. Carson, straight through in right turn only lane, $10.

George Culbertson, 53, 1917 Sheldon Road, disobeyed traffic signal, $20.

Betty Ann Clayton, 23, 1801 N. Union Blvd., careless driving, dismissed.

Orin Wilkison, 31, 1017 Manitou Ave., improper turn, $10.

Ron Rowan and Dennis Lambrecht prosecuted for the city.

A. J. Allen Appears to Start Sentence

A. J. Allen appeared in district court Thursday and started serving his original sentence of two and a half to five years in the Colorado State Penitentiary.

Allen, 44, formerly of 932½ E. Cimarron St. was found guilty Feb. 2, 1968 by a district court jury of attempted assault with a deadly weapon.

According to testimony heard at the trial, he pulled a gun on Police Officer Earl Wayne Tysver, Oct. 24, 1967 who had stopped him for a minor traffic violation.

When he was sentenced by Judge Hunter D. Hardeman, defense counsel Robert Dunlap won a stay of execution as he was appealing to the Colorado Supreme Court. The case is still in the higher court.

On Thursday, Dunlap explained to the court that his client had subsequently been found guilty of two violations of the Mann Act, transporting women across the state line for immoral purposes, and was currently serving sentence on both counts of not more than three and a half years in La Tuna, Tex. The two sentences are running concurrently.

Dunlap asked that the stay of execution out of El Paso County be vacated and that Allen start serving his sentence on the assault charge now so he could be receiving credit for all three sentences.

The judge granted Dunlap's motion and Allen was transported to the state penitentiary. His sentence out of Colorado Springs will run concurrently with the two Federal offenses.

Lifeguard Pulls Youth From Lake

A lifeguard at Prospect Lake Thursday pulled a man from the lake and administered to him until arrival of the city fire department's resuscitator unit and E and E Ambulance.

Larry G. Friedrichs, 1123 Alexander Road, told police he saw a youth swim toward the roped off area, hang on the rope for a time and start to swim back after Friedrichs blew a whistle and warned him to stay away from the rope.

The boy, identified as Larry D. Luman, 16, 2405 Ivanhoe, then had problems and the lifeguard swam out and rescued him.

After pulling Luman to shore Friedrichs called for help when the boy went into shock.

Teen Center Ribbon 'Cut' With Cue Stick

Unorthodox ribbon cutting highlighted the grand opening and dedication ceremonies for the Teen Center of Colorado Springs, 324 E. Pikes Peak Ave., Thursday at the center.

The center has been open for some time but grand opening activities are aimed at "drawing in teenagers from the entire region and from all ethnic and racial groups so that all may survey the facilities available for teen's use.

Money Is Stolen From Gift Shop

A bank bag containing $493.71 in cash and checks was stolen from Monroe's Gift Shoppe, 517 Main Street, Canon City, apparently during the noon hour Tuesday.

The loss was discovered by owner, Mrs. Marilyn Monroe. Canon City police are investigating.

Mrs. Monroe told authorities she discovered the bag, labeled Fremont National Bank, missing about 2 p.m. from the top of the desk at the rear of the store. The money was to be deposited in the bank Tuesday afternoon.

The rear door of the gift shop was open to provide ventilation, a usual practice Mrs. Monroe said. Investigating officer Ernest Anderson said the theft could have occurred between 11:15 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Persons making purchases by check since last Friday in the gift shop were asked to contact Mrs. Monroe.

Two Armed Robbers Hold Up Store

Two armed robbers escaped with an unknown amount of money and a package of cigarettes Thursday in the armed robbery of the 7-Eleven Store, 213 E. Cache La Poudre St.

The two held up the clerk on duty, Neil David Abrahams, 35 McBurney Blvd.

The bandit with the gun was described as a Negro male, 5 feet 8 inches tall, 130-150 pounds, wearing a ski mask, a yellow sweater and green pants.

The other man was described as being a Negro male, 6 feet tall, 160 pounds, very long sideburns and short hair. He was wearing a gold shirt, a gray sweater and brown pants.

The man was picked up by police in the 100 block of East Colorado Avenue for public drunkenness. He was searched prior to being placed in the city jail and the search revealed a quantity of suspected marijuana.

I see where Mr. Richnix has sent a message to congress. He wants some federally enforced safety standards to protect the workin feller on his job. At last they have found out that the business ogre has been hiring employees all these years so they could kill them off at random.

The ever popular solution is, of course, a five-man board to set the standards and police them in the states. I don't like that word 'police' but there you are. The board would be very rank — in fact in rank with the national labor relations board, which is about as rank as you can get.

The five-member board will be appointed for five-year terms which means another 25 years of tax salaries down the drain. They will have authority to assess penalties of up to 10,000 geets on the poor employer who don't meet the standards.

Its a good thing we are going to have these fellers police the employers. I'm sure it is worth it if it can prevent accidents like the feller who was working in a candy factory and fell into a cauldron of hot chocolate. Before they could shut down the machinery he had already been distributed and boxed into 20,000 candy bars along with a passel of hickory nuts.

Big Hike Reported in Major Crimes

A 31 per cent increase in major crimes in Colorado Springs for the first seven months of the year has been reported by the police department. This is a three per cent drop over the situation a month ago.

The latest report from the police department shows there have been 3,513 such crimes this year compared to 2,677 for the same time in 1968.

Included in the major crime category are homicide, forcible rape, robbery, assault, burglary, auto theft and larceny, except auto theft.

Homicides increased 18 per cent from 11 to 13, but eight of this year's 13 were traffic homicides and five were criminal homicides, actually two less than last year. The traffic homicides increased 100 per cent from four cases last year to eight this year.

In the other major crime categories, forcible rapes were up 122 per cent from nine cases last year to 20 this year; robberies jumped 74 per cent from 66 to 115; assaults increased 10 per cent from 104 to 115; burglaries showed a hike of 36 per cent from 615 to 838; auto thefts were 40 per cent more numerous in jumping from 196 to 276; and larceny (except auto theft) went up 27 per cent from 1,675 to 2,136.

In crimes of a lesser category, sex offenses have dropped sharply from 74 last year to 31 this year; there has also been a drop in malicious mischief cases from 814 to 745.

Lumping all crimes together, there have been 5,370 offenses known to police during the first seven months of the year compared to 4,417 last year, an overall increase in the crime index of 21 per cent. The lesser crimes this year total 1,844 compared to 1,729 for last year, an increase of six per cent.

Scott Fined $66 On Assault Charge

Sammy T. Scott, 26, 417 S. Weber St. was fined $66.32 Thursday by County Court Judge James F. Quine Jr. for assault and battery.

Scott was charged with attacking a Mary Culver at 419 S. Weber St. June 3.

The defendant still has a charge of burglary and another of burglary and theft pending against him in district court.

Shoplifting Charges Draws Two Fines

Two men were fined Thursday by County Court Judge James F. Quine for shoplifting.

The first was Michael Warren Hurley, 18, Monument, charged with stealing items worth $8.94 from Arlan's Department Store, 1801 N. Union Blvd., June 9, who paid a $71.40 fine.

Gordon Terrell Landrum Jr., 21, 1308 N. Cooper St. was fined $56 also for stealing from Arlans. The offense happened Aug. 2 and the merchandise taken was valued at $4.29.

Motel Is Robbed Of $512 From Office

Cash and checks worth a total of $512.66 were stolen from the office at the Trails End Motel, 1516 S. Nevada Ave., the sheriff's office reported Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Donald Mulvey entry was made by cutting a screen and forcing the window.

Oregon Editor on Rising Prices

Some of the arithmetic of high and rising prices was recently explained with dramatic clarity by Gerry Pratt, Business Editor of the Portland (Oregon) Oregonian.

Pratt first took national figures showing average earnings of retail chain food stores at 1.1 per cent net profit on sales. Then he described the effect of a more or less typical new wage contract signed with a grocery workers union that will add 24.5 percent to retail wage costs over a three year period—not unusual in the light of current contracts.

(Incidentally, it should be emphasized at this point that what we are talking about here is price increases caused by UNION WAGE DEMANDS unmatched by increased production, and NOT price increases caused by MONETARY INFLATION. The two have the same effect on prices; however, they are NOT the same thing.)

The Oregonian Business Editor then translated this increased cost of doing business, caused by the union forced wage increases, into the amount of additional sales required, at the 1.1 percent profit margin, to make up the difference. The figure, according to Pratt, runs about $450 per hour, or $3,600 per day, per check out stand cash register.

Increased sales in such volume, obviously, not forthcoming, prices (but not profits) are forced upward.

In the final analysis, there is no one to pay but the consumer; the TOTAL cost of doing business must inevitably be paid by the individuals purchasing the goods or service involved.

And the worst tragedy of it all, Pratt concluded, is that those who are harmed most are those who can least afford to pay the price: elderly people, many of whom have worked a lifetime and are now living on fixed incomes. These, said the Oregonian's Business Editor, have become the "victims," rather than the beneficiaries, of the "welfare state philosophy."

Tax Churches? What About Unions?

Church property (as is every other form of property) is eyed greedily by the tax collector these days. What a marvelous opportunity he sees. The churches own billions and billions of dollars worth of property. Presently, the property is exempt from taxation. But as the churches become more secular and political, so does the politicians attitude toward them.

Congress has been investigating the possibility of lifting the tax exemption on church income derived from investments.

Strangely, we hear very little about another opportunity to tax. Or rather, it isn't strange, but obvious This is labor union property. The unions are rich, very rich, and any tax reform program, to be consistent, would include lifting the union's tax exempt status.

We may be sure that while Congress may fail to see the possibilities in taxing union business income, the national Righ To Work Committee sees them.

In a message to Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Reed Larson, executive vice president of the Right-To-Work Committee pointed out that:

"In all the storm of controversy surrounding 'tax reform' many people are beginning to wonder why Congress, the administration and the House Ways and Means Committee have failed to say one word or take one step toward closing one of the nation's largest loopholes—the tax-exempt status of the multi-billion dollar private enterprise unions built on dues extracted by force from millions of American workers. The nation's major unions are private, have vast millions of dollars invested in unrelated business and spend millions of dollars annually for political purposes in violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act."

Although we question that unions are private enterprise in the true sense of the phrase, the point is well taken. Why do unions enjoy special privilege, except that politicians, especially congressmen, are afraid of them? We are not in favor of taxation as a means of raising governmental revenues. We believe a user charge is a better way to pay for what individuals consider to be proper governmental activities; however, if Congress sees fit to exact revenue from church organizations, we see no reason to exempt labor organizations.

Quick Quiz

Q—Why are the hot days of summer called "Dog Days"?

A—The term originated with the ancient Greeks who believed the dog star, Sirius, traveled about the sky during the middle of summer.

Q—Are the titles of "bey" and "pasha" still used in Turkey?

A—These old titles have been done away with by law and, in 1934, every Turk had to choose a surname for himself.

Q—What is the chief language of the Middle East?

A—Arabic. The Middle East lies where Africa, Asia and Europe meet.

'Tis a Proud Man I Am This Day

By RUFUS L. PORTER

When I stopped in at Cecil Grove's editorial office last Friday to leave some copy (three more columns of 'deathless prose'), Cecil handed me some mail. Many readers write or phone me at home and many others send me mail at the GT office. One large envelope from the Bourbon Institute fairly bowled me over with its contents. First, there was a letter, on Bourbon institute stationery, which reads:

"Dear Mr. Porter: In view of the many columns you have devoted to Bourbon, you have been selected for membership in the Bourbon Quaff & Quote Society.

"May you continue to enjoy all the rights and privileges thereof. Sincerely, Al Durante, Vice President"

Now I am sure that my readers do not consider me a booze-hound and I have never been accused of being a booze-fighter. But I am not a total abstainer and I have always believed that Prohibition was one of this country's biggest mistakes, one of the sorriest attempts at social legislation BND (before New Deal). I do not recall having written "many" columns devoted to Bourbon, but I have written a couple.

The Irish are credited with the invention of whisky (or ey, as it is usually spelled in these times), and most Irishmen swear that it was the good St. Patrick himself who invented this boon, or curse, to mankind, depending on how you take it (literally).

Be that as it may, 'tis an established fact that Bourbon, the greatest of whiskies, was invented by another man of God, a Kentucky preacher who manufactured it and sold it to his friends and parishioners. This was very early in the 19th Century, and Bourbon has been going strong ever since. It is now the top selling whiskey around the world, and well it should be, for it has no equal.

There were two other items in the envelope from the Bourbon Institute. One was a beautifully done, in handsome script and engraved lettering, "Proclamation," which reads thusly: "Rufus Porter, having demonstrated a unique ability to keep his head in the air and his foot on the rail—One hand on a glass and the other on the pulse of the Community—An eye on the target and an ear to his muse . . . AND HAVING DEMONSTRATED AN EXTRAORDINARY SENSITIVITY of palate, expressed in artful articulation, phraseology and letters . . . Has qualified as a connoisseur of fine whiskey and is hereby proclaimed a member for life of the BOURBON QUAFF & QUOTE SOCIETY Entitled to all rights and privileges thereof, including HONORARY MEMBERSHIP IN THE BOURBON INSTITUTE: Indisputable authority to act as final judge and arbiter in all dissertations and debates pertaining to potable spirits, at or before the bar and elsewhere. "Given under my hand and seal this 30th day of July, 1969. "Vice Admiral William J. Marshall, USN (ret) President The Bourbon Institute"

Of course you can't see how pretty the proclamation really is. It is 9 by 12 inches, in four colors and protected by a clear plastic covering. It will have a permanent place on the wall of my den or study, for I do my writing there.

I am not exactly a drinking man, as I have stated before. But I do believe that good liquor deserves a place in our lives—if we do not punish it, or let it punish us.

The third item in the envelope was a bill-fold size replica of the Proclamation. I shall be found dead one day with this little card in my pocket. It, too, is encased in clear plastic.

And so, 'tis a proud man I am this day. I am happy to be a member for life of so notable a society and also of so great an institute.

My membership in both groups came at an opportune time for September will be celebrated throughout the land as "Boubon month." I am also a life member of the Burlington Liars Club.

Hong Kong Banker Says

The (London, England) ... Free Trader

Hong Kong is without doubt the most successful and prosperous trading area in the world and the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation is one of the soundest banking organisations in the world. Consequently any statement by the Bank's chairman the Hon. J. A. H. Saunders, D.S.O., M.C., should receive the closest attention.

In his latest report he says "Development in Hong Kong has always been paid for out of current revenue. The health of the economy has rightly been regarded as of over-riding importance, and tax rates have been kept low and simple so as not to discourage enterprise. Government revenue, has in consequence, risen ten fold in the past twenty years and per capita nearly two and a half times in ten years."

Elsewhere he says "One of the weaknesses of attempts to engage in large scale planning in countries which have an inadequate margin of agricultural capacity, or are dependent on international trade movements, is that the vagaries of the weather, or of the markets, can so change the basic factors as to make nonsense of the clumsy processes of central direction."

And again "One of the greatest hindrances to progress is the degree of protection to which so many of the developing countries resort. It often, of course, suits the individual interests of the less efficient local entrepreneur to have a closed, if stagnant market rather than open competition, but it is never in the overall national interest." And again "Australian industry has in recent years had increasing tariff protection, but there are some signs that opinion is coming to recognise that this makes for inefficiency and, as such, is not in the general interest."

UNCHAINED FREEDOM

To the Editor:

In reference to Injun Woody's article on Unchained Freedom—I met his friend called Unchained Freedom somewhere along the way and I got to say we learned how I threw him away. It wasn't the bureaucrats that hauled him away from me.

See, I forgot to keep Freedom's light burning and as we Indians (Americans) say—a small fire up close is better than a big fire that you gotta move away from.

I remember a tax for "just a duration" and now lasts and lasts and lasts. I forgot one votes on raises, bonds, men and let the boys raise their own pay and made slight protest when it began to happen.

Up on the hill, I let them take away Mr. Freedom, each one-by-one, then two-by-two and listen to how it becomes big business and must have much coin to run.

Then I made no protest on the giveaway on "soil conservation." You know the one—"Pay the farmer for not raising even weeds!" Now I hear not enough food to go around and my Indian teaching taught me the giver of life gives gift of child.

Then I watch them cut down all the trees that bear fruit and plow under the fields that grew the food and replace it with cement jungle and no moisture to replenish mother earth. I saw the mountains, trees go and replaced with devil wildgrass and learned lesson of old—not to change, for it grows with heat, angry fire.

I saw no wisdom either in taking out green grass and planting with cement painted green so my tax go up; no need for city employe to add to the payroll and pay his share of taxes.

I see the large expense account of big liquor bill to entertain and I learned I gotta "help him out on his share of taxes" by paying more myself. Then there was the big expense account of the company store and you know I began to feel like owing my soul to the company store cause gotta eat and then got me over a barrel. Can't raise a garden like even back in "depression day" unless dig through cement.

Didn't make much protest cause the new freeway would get us all there faster, of course, I didn't see that long, long line of cars bumper-to-bumper taking all those hours going. Nope, standing, waiting in line to get to a factory that makes government things and Bow to the Inevitable?

Editor's note: Doctor Boardman died April 20, 1969. Today's column and others to follow come from a reserve supply accumulated prior to his death.

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

One of the most difficult things for me to understand is the insistent demand, by people who profess to believe in freedom, that I must bow to the inevitable success of the socialist conglomerate. True, the socialist conglomerate has achieved tremendous power but I believe it has reached its zenith in this country. In all the history of mankind, socialism has never been successful even tho it has achieved tremendous power before it started to fall apart at the seams. If we are to consider the inevitable—let us consider the fact that a parasite lives upon its host until the host dies, at which time the parasite also withers and dies. Until this happens, there's always the chance that the host may rid itself of the parasite.

The parasites which feed upon my efforts and property find the pickings very slim indeed and they are becoming weaker, as I grow stronger. As I grow stronger, I continue to search for and find new avenues of action which provide me with new strength which the parasite is unable to tap, for instance; We now have a fair sized garden which we water with waste water from the kitchen drain. We have beef in the freezer. I have in my spare time just finished earning a Doctor of Science degree in Homeopathic medicine and biochemistry which may enable us to find ways to heal ourselves without harmful drugs. The parasite which is getting skinnier day by day, may be around to watch all this but it will receive scant nourishment, if any.

This is not a group activity. It might be compared with a situation where we might acquire land and some timber. The timber might be cut and used for building purposes on the land of its birth but if the timber was to be transported to other areas, we would be nourishing a parasite at the same time because government would crawl into the action whether we liked it or not.

I can understand why so many people become discouraged and begin to feel they will be unable to resist the onslaught of the socialist horde.

Several years ago a magazine appeared on the scene. It grew and became more prosperous while refusing to compromise with the principles it embraced. It continued to grow and expand and then something happened. First it began to argue with some of its own definitions. A year later it began to mention the word practical more and more frequently. Today it frequently publishes material which emphasizes the practical aspects of unprincipled action and it leads its readers into a slough of despond from which they emerge discouraged, if they do emerge. They look through back issues of the publication and find statements which are incompatible with the contemporary line and wonder, "If this could happen to them, why do I continue to buck the inevitable?"

At this point, I am in no position to tell anyone else why they should continue to fight for their own freedom, nor will I. If they believe they must inevitably succumb to slavery, they are simply paving the way for the ultimate destruction of their own code of morality and their own character. The weakening of character is evidenced in the fact they seek to also discourage me.

There's no doubt about it: A man or a woman can sit quietly and wait for the socialist horde to trample them into their own earth. They may be able to achieve a bland acceptance of inevitable slavery as they sit and watch TV. They may sit and watch a TV reproduction of their neighbor's home going up in flames, knowing they turned on their own overhead sprinkler system and that they've been forced to pay their share of the taxes which provide the fire department which should attend to the fire.

For more than two years we have been trying to find a way to stock the freezer with beef. Finally we found the way at a price we could afford. We have eaten home grown chickens and turkeys and eggs and we have eaten fish and occasionally roast beef. We did not go out to earn more money to support the parasites so that we might eat steak but this is our own problem which only we can solve. You may find a better way.

Good health and happiness to you, in Freedom.

These Days

Black-White Relations

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The University of Connecticut plans an "Orientation Week" for new students in early September. As part of the program, one evening will be devoted to a discussion of black-white relations, with participation by faculty and administrators. The summer list of "background reading" suggested for the participants in the "black-white" dialogue consists of four books, "Soul on Ice," by Eldridge Cleaver, "The Other America," by Michael Harrington, "The Rhetoric of Black Power," by Robert L. Scott and Wayne Brockriede, and "The Autobiography of Malcolm X."

I have nothing against the idea of beginning with the four titles that are described as a "proper sampling," but if such books define the area of "relevance" in black-white relations we are obviously in for a pretty bleak future. Cleaver is currently "on the lam" in Africa, a fugitive from American court proceedings; Michael Harrington is an avowed socialist; Malcolm X was a Black Muslim. It could be that Cleaver has been badly victimized by life and the U. S. Establishment, and that Harrington's statistical picture of poverty is true within the context of a submerged tenth. Moreover, Malcolm X's leadership had its positive side: his inheritors and followers have most praiseworthy attitudes when it comes to keeping ghetto adolescents out of the hands of the dope-pushers. But "the rhetoric of black power," though it is overpowering, is not the majority rhetoric of the Negro. It is only a very small part of the subject of black-white relations.

The trouble with relying on books for anything these days is that publishing, as it is practised in New York City, is predominantly a left-wing business. But there are books in the black-white relations field that do not point the way to a militant black separatism, and there is journalism that marks Mickey Harrington's doleful picture of the "other America" as an overwrought document.

If the University of Connecticut wishes to balance its "suggested reading" list (it still has time for it before school opens), why not add George Schuler's "Black and Conservative" as a fifth starter? Or, if that seems too "right wing" for the Liberal Land of Academia, there is an "in-between" book, "Ghetto Crisis: Riots or Reconciliation?", written by two white sociologists, Henry Etzkowitz and Gerald Schaflander, who started what they describe as "an integrated, self-supporting day-care center for the children of unwed and Welfare mothers" in the Bedford-Stuyvesant ghetto of New York City. The Etzkowitz Schalfander team considers "black power" an "overrated concept used only by a minority of the young, alienated 'jitterbugs' and a handful of power-seeking militants. Seldom do adults use it. What they want is 'green power' . . . ."

To discover the extent to which "green power" is growing among American blacks one has to go to journalistic record, not to what can be found in hard-cover books or even in paper-backs. You wouldn't know, to read Eldridge Cleaver or Malcolm X or even Michael Harrington, that the percentage of black families below the $3,000-a-year-income level has been cut in half since 1958. The Negro market has become a big market, as advertisers in the magazine "Ebony" have discovered. One doesn't have to be Pollyannish about things to take it as a hopeful sign that the "black bourgeoisie" is growing faster than the white bourgeoisie. I have seen figures that purport to prove that black family advances into the $15,000-and-up brackets are outpacing comparable white advances by a three-to-one margin percentage-wise. This figure, of course, is somewhat deceptive, for the whites in America outnumber the blacks by a ten-to-one margin.

It would be tough for the University of Connecticut to assemble the available "black-white" journalistic output in time for its September "Orientation Week." But books are another matter. It may be relevant to note that a Black Academy of Arts and Letters was established some six months ago. I don't find Eldridge Cleaver on its list of founding members.

This was very early in the 19th Century, and Bourbon has been going strong ever since. It is now the top selling whiskey around the world, and well it should be, for it has no equal.

There were two other items in the envelope from the Bourbon Institute. One was a beautifully done, in handsome script and engraved lettering, "Proclamation," which reads thusly: "Rufus Porter, having demonstrated a unique ability to keep his head in the air and his foot on the rail—One hand on a glass and the other on the pulse of the Community—An eye on the target and an ear to his muse . . . AND HAVING DEMONSTRATED AN EXTRAORDINARY SENSITIVITY of palate, expressed in artful articulation, phraseology and letters . . . Has qualified as a connoisseur of fine whiskey and is hereby proclaimed a member for life of the BOURBON QUAFF & QUOTE SOCIETY Entitled to all rights and privileges thereof, including HONORARY MEMBERSHIP IN THE BOURBON INSTITUTE: Indisputable authority to act as final judge and arbiter in all dissertations and debates pertaining to potable spirits, at or before the bar and elsewhere. "Given under my hand and seal this 30th day of July, 1969. "Vice Admiral William J. Marshall, USN (ret) President The Bourbon Institute"

Of course you can't see how pretty the proclamation really is. It is 9 by 12 inches, in four colors and protected by a clear plastic covering. It will have a permanent place on the wall of my den or study, for I do my writing there.

I am not exactly a drinking man, as I have stated before. But I do believe that good liquor deserves a place in our lives—if we do not punish it, or let it punish us.

The third item in the envelope was a bill-fold size replica of the Proclamation. I shall be found dead one day with this little card in my pocket. It, too, is encased in clear plastic.

And so, 'tis a proud man I am this day. I am happy to be a member for life of so notable a society and also of so great an institute.

My membership in both groups came at an opportune time for September will be celebrated throughout the land as "Boubon month." I am also a life member of the Burlington Liars Club.

Hong Kong Banker Says

The (London, England) ... Free Trader

Hong Kong is without doubt the most successful and prosperous trading area in the world and the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation is one of the soundest banking organisations in the world. Consequently any statement by the Bank's chairman the Hon. J. A. H. Saunders, D.S.O., M.C., should receive the closest attention.

In his latest report he says "Development in Hong Kong has always been paid for out of current revenue. The health of the economy has rightly been regarded as of over-riding importance, and tax rates have been kept low and simple so as not to discourage enterprise. Government revenue, has in consequence, risen ten fold in the past twenty years and per capita nearly two and a half times in ten years."

Elsewhere he says "One of the weaknesses of attempts to engage in large scale planning in countries which have an inadequate margin of agricultural capacity, or are dependent on international trade movements, is that the vagaries of the weather, or of the markets, can so change the basic factors as to make nonsense of the clumsy processes of central direction."

And again "One of the greatest hindrances to progress is the degree of protection to which so many of the developing countries resort. It often, of course, suits the individual interests of the less efficient local entrepreneur to have a closed, if stagnant market rather than open competition, but it is never in the overall national interest." And again "Australian industry has in recent years had increasing tariff protection, but there are some signs that opinion is coming to recognise that this makes for inefficiency and, as such, is not in the general interest."

LET HIM KNOW

To the Editor:

Would you please publish this in your Open Parliament column?

I am asking all those who read the column to please send a card or letter to the Broadmoor Hotel where President Nixon will be attending the governors conference August 31, asking him to do everything in his power to have our men who are imprisoned in the terrible Viet Cong prisons released or, at least, to get the names of our men who are imprisoned.

How heart breaking to the families who have loved ones missing or imprisoned.

I beg all to take just a few minutes to sit down and write.

UNCHAINED FREEDOM

To the Editor:

In reference to Injun Woody's article on Unchained Freedom—I met his friend called Unchained Freedom somewhere along the way and I got to say we learned how I threw him away. It wasn't the bureaucrats that hauled him away from me.

See, I forgot to keep Freedom's light burning and as we Indians (Americans) say—a small fire up close is better than a big fire that you gotta move away from.

I remember a tax for "just a duration" and now lasts and lasts and lasts. I forgot one votes on raises, bonds, men and let the boys raise their own pay and made slight protest when it began to happen.

Up on the hill, I let them take away Mr. Freedom, each one-by-one, then two-by-two and listen to how it becomes big business and must have much coin to run.

Then I made no protest on the giveaway on "soil conservation." You know the one—"Pay the farmer for not raising even weeds!" Now I hear not enough food to go around and my Indian teaching taught me the giver of life gives gift of child.

Then I watch them cut down all the trees that bear fruit and plow under the fields that grew the food and replace it with cement jungle and no moisture to replenish mother earth. I saw the mountains, trees go and replaced with devil wildgrass and learned lesson of old—not to change, for it grows with heat, angry fire.

I saw no wisdom either in taking out green grass and planting with cement painted green so my tax go up; no need for city employe to add to the payroll and pay his share of taxes.

I see the large expense account of big liquor bill to entertain and I learned I gotta "help him out on his share of taxes" by paying more myself. Then there was the big expense account of the company store and you know I began to feel like owing my soul to the company store cause gotta eat and then got me over a barrel. Can't raise a garden like even back in "depression day" unless dig through cement.

Didn't make much protest cause the new freeway would get us all there faster, of course, I didn't see that long, long line of cars bumper-to-bumper taking all those hours going. Nope, standing, waiting in line to get to a factory that makes government things and Bow to the Inevitable?

Editor's note: Doctor Boardman died April 20, 1969. Today's column and others to follow come from a reserve supply accumulated prior to his death.

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

One of the most difficult things for me to understand is the insistent demand, by people who profess to believe in freedom, that I must bow to the inevitable success of the socialist conglomerate. True, the socialist conglomerate has achieved tremendous power but I believe it has reached its zenith in this country. In all the history of mankind, socialism has never been successful even tho it has achieved tremendous power before it started to fall apart at the seams. If we are to consider the inevitable—let us consider the fact that a parasite lives upon its host until the host dies, at which time the parasite also withers and dies. Until this happens, there's always the chance that the host may rid itself of the parasite.

The parasites which feed upon my efforts and property find the pickings very slim indeed and they are becoming weaker, as I grow stronger. As I grow stronger, I continue to search for and find new avenues of action which provide me with new strength which the parasite is unable to tap, for instance; We now have a fair sized garden which we water with waste water from the kitchen drain. We have beef in the freezer. I have in my spare time just finished earning a Doctor of Science degree in Homeopathic medicine and biochemistry which may enable us to find ways to heal ourselves without harmful drugs. The parasite which is getting skinnier day by day, may be around to watch all this but it will receive scant nourishment, if any.

This is not a group activity. It might be compared with a situation where we might acquire land and some timber. The timber might be cut and used for building purposes on the land of its birth but if the timber was to be transported to other areas, we would be nourishing a parasite at the same time because government would crawl into the action whether we liked it or not.

I can understand why so many people become discouraged and begin to feel they will be unable to resist the onslaught of the socialist horde.

Several years ago a magazine appeared on the scene. It grew and became more prosperous while refusing to compromise with the principles it embraced. It continued to grow and expand and then something happened. First it began to argue with some of its own definitions. A year later it began to mention the word practical more and more frequently. Today it frequently publishes material which emphasizes the practical aspects of unprincipled action and it leads its readers into a slough of despond from which they emerge discouraged, if they do emerge. They look through back issues of the publication and find statements which are incompatible with the contemporary line and wonder, "If this could happen to them, why do I continue to buck the inevitable?"

At this point, I am in no position to tell anyone else why they should continue to fight for their own freedom, nor will I. If they believe they must inevitably succumb to slavery, they are simply paving the way for the ultimate destruction of their own code of morality and their own character. The weakening of character is evidenced in the fact they seek to also discourage me.

There's no doubt about it: A man or a woman can sit quietly and wait for the socialist horde to trample them into their own earth. They may be able to achieve a bland acceptance of inevitable slavery as they sit and watch TV. They may sit and watch a TV reproduction of their neighbor's home going up in flames, knowing they turned on their own overhead sprinkler system and that they've been forced to pay their share of the taxes which provide the fire department which should attend to the fire.

For more than two years we have been trying to find a way to stock the freezer with beef. Finally we found the way at a price we could afford. We have eaten home grown chickens and turkeys and eggs and we have eaten fish and occasionally roast beef. We did not go out to earn more money to support the parasites so that we might eat steak but this is our own problem which only we can solve. You may find a better way.

Good health and happiness to you, in Freedom.

These Days

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The University of Connecticut plans an "Orientation Week" for new students in early September. As part of the program, one evening will be devoted to a discussion of black-white relations, with participation by faculty and administrators. The summer list of "background reading" suggested for the participants in the "black-white" dialogue consists of four books, "Soul on Ice," by Eldridge Cleaver, "The Other America," by Michael Harrington, "The Rhetoric of Black Power," by Robert L. Scott and Wayne Brockriede, and "The Autobiography of Malcolm X."

I have nothing against the idea of beginning with the four titles that are described as a "proper sampling," but if such books define the area of "relevance" in black-white relations we are obviously in for a pretty bleak future. Cleaver is currently "on the lam" in Africa, a fugitive from American court proceedings; Michael Harrington is an avowed socialist; Malcolm X was a Black Muslim. It could be that Cleaver has been badly victimized by life and the U. S. Establishment, and that Harrington's statistical picture of poverty is true within the context of a submerged tenth. Moreover, Malcolm X's leadership had its positive side: his inheritors and followers have most praiseworthy attitudes when it comes to keeping ghetto adolescents out of the hands of the dope-pushers. But "the rhetoric of black power," though it is overpowering, is not the majority rhetoric of the Negro. It is only a very small part of the subject of black-white relations.

The trouble with relying on books for anything these days is that publishing, as it is practised in New York City, is predominantly a left-wing business. But there are books in the black-white relations field that do not point the way to a militant black separatism, and there is journalism that marks Mickey Harrington's doleful picture of the "other America" as an overwrought document.

If the University of Connecticut wishes to balance its "suggested reading" list (it still has time for it before school opens), why not add George Schuler's "Black and Conservative" as a fifth starter? Or, if that seems too "right wing" for the Liberal Land of Academia, there is an "in-between" book, "Ghetto Crisis: Riots or Reconciliation?", written by two white sociologists, Henry Etzkowitz and Gerald Schaflander, who started what they describe as "an integrated, self-supporting day-care center for the children of unwed and Welfare mothers" in the Bedford-Stuyvesant ghetto of New York City. The Etzkowitz Schalfander team considers "black power" an "overrated concept used only by a minority of the young, alienated 'jitterbugs' and a handful of power-seeking militants. Seldom do adults use it. What they want is 'green power' . . . ."

To discover the extent to which "green power" is growing among American blacks one has to go to journalistic record, not to what can be found in hard-cover books or even in paper-backs. You wouldn't know, to read Eldridge Cleaver or Malcolm X or even Michael Harrington, that the percentage of black families below the $3,000-a-year-income level has been cut in half since 1958. The Negro market has become a big market, as advertisers in the magazine "Ebony" have discovered. One doesn't have to be Pollyannish about things to take it as a hopeful sign that the "black bourgeoisie" is growing faster than the white bourgeoisie. I have seen figures that purport to prove that black family advances into the $15,000-and-up brackets are outpacing comparable white advances by a three-to-one margin percentage-wise. This figure, of course, is somewhat deceptive, for the whites in America outnumber the blacks by a ten-to-one margin.

It would be tough for the University of Connecticut to assemble the available "black-white" journalistic output in time for its September "Orientation Week." But books are another matter. It may be relevant to note that a Black Academy of Arts and Letters was established some six months ago. I don't find Eldridge Cleaver on its list of founding members.

CAPITOL STUFF

By TED LEWIS

WASHINGTO — What does a "new politics" demagogre think about when he finds that the vigor of the youth movement has again displayed itself with a turnout of 400,000 young people for a rock music festival in the Catskills?

He obviously figures that he could even go to the White House if he offered a political banner that the youths would march behind in a national election.

A similar idea was expressed by GOP Senate Leader Everett Dirksen during the spring campus commotions. He was all for finding a responsible cause that would funnel the dissidents behind an established system banner.

There is no question that thoughtful politicians do not consider the outpouring for music irrelevant to a similar youth political participation "happening." When one of the British Rolling Stones drowned in his swimming pool last month, an estimated 200,000 young people held a musical requiem in London's Hyde Park — the same types who were long and properly labeled antiestablishment.

Bernadette Devlin, member of Parliament from riot-torn Northern Ireland, says her hope of successes for civil and religious rights lies in the significant turnout of youth for the cause she eloquently espouses.

In Scotland, the young voter is the core of the nationlist movement led by Winifred Ewing.

In Wales, nationalist leader Gwynfor Evans banks on the youth of today and tomorrow for the "free Wales" he wants.

All of these "happenings" and developments, including that in our Catskills, should be food for thought for our political masterminds. In particular, the political wisenheimers should start wondering whether they were really wise a few years back when they trumpeted the slogan "the politics of participation."

It has turned out that this appeal rang a bell more among dissident American youth than among any other age groups of our society.

Participatory politics on the campuses was so effective earlier this year that it got out of hand, and well may again when the colleges reopen this fall.

Similarly, the participatory politics appeal, as it carried the connotation that "if you're against the Vietnam war do something in politics about it," brought the spark of youth into Eugene McCarthy's primary campaign last year.

Because he noted how youth had become involved in presidential-year politics, Bobby Kennedy was led to his decision to run for his party's nomination after all. And to a degree LBJ's no-run decision was influenced by what the young voters told him.

How did this "participatory politics" slogan catch on anyway? It isn't particularly new, but it was given new and meaningful significance for the first time back in 1964, when the sweeping anitpoverty program was enacted into law.

The law called for "maximum feasible participation" of residents of areas in the politics of fund-dispensing to end poverty. As Daniel P. Moynihan, now urban affairs adviser to President Nixon, wrote in his book, "Maximum Feasible Misunderstanding," that maximum feasible participation edict in the antipoverty law was very significant.

"Community action," he said, "with citizen participation was a coherent and powerful idea working its way into national policy, albeit little noticed or understood at the time."

What flowed from that awkward but semantically correct phrase, designed for slum betterment, had not quite been anticipated. Maximum feasible participation has been a flop in the poverty areas, but it gave the youth movement what it needed to look responsible and respectable. So the youngsters began participating in politics in a big and stormy way. But was such participation just what Congress and the politicians wanted, or was the antipoverty law circumscribed to cover only certain citizens?

Now "participatory politics," or "participatory democracy," appears on the surface to be a great slogan, for it asks all citizens to be personally engaged in improving the political situation.

But it is obviously the establishment as it functions on the national level here. The result has been an effort to blame the left-wingers as the peddlers of the phrase. For example, in his book, "The New Language of Politics" (Random House, $10), William Safire labels "participatory democracy" as a catch phrase of "the new left."

Safire has been a key aide to Nixon as well as a few other name Republicans.

Judge Declares Smog Too Big For His Court

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge, dismissing a $500 billion antismog suit brought on behalf of all residents of Los Angeles County, says "The problem is much too complex for a court to solve."

Superior Court Judge Lloyd S. Davis made the ruling Wednesday after listening to 90 minutes of arguments from attorney Roger Diamond.

Diamond, 25, who initiated the action, named 291 corporations as defendants. They included all auto manufacturers, oil companies and factories in the Los Angeles area. Also named were all airlines servicing the county and all cities with airports.

He asked the damages because of the alleged effects of smog on "health, comfort and welfare."

The court held that Diamond could not file a suit on behalf of all county residents because each has a different susceptibility to the deleterious effects of air pollution.

Diamond said he would appeal.

Nude Art Lasts Briefly

CHICAGO (AP) — A 24-foot-high picture of a nude female had a very brief exhibition Wednesday in downtown Chicago.

Some people called the picture a work of art. Others called the police.

The mural was on the side of a construction shed over the sidewalk where a building is being remodeled.

Phillip Gross, owner of the firm remodeling the building, said he commissioned the mural because he wanted his scaffolding to be decorated with something more interesting than signs warning workers to wear hard hats.

After passers-by gawked at the nude and traffic began to snarl, the picture was ordered taken down and Gross asked his artists to come up with something more conservative.

Looking at Hollywood

BY FLORABEL MUIR

HOLLWYOOD — The guilty conscience kick that seems to be sweeping America has hit the film industry. Here's a producer who's making reparation to the Indians.

The real Indians.

More than $5 million worth of reparations.

"For years," says Stuart Millar, whose 'Little Big Man' is before the cameras, with Arthur Penn directing, "the original Americans have been complaining that Hollywood has been using white men and brown in Indian parts. And they've been right.

"Even Hollywood's own Indian actors are kept out of Indian roles most of the time, and the reason given is they can't act. Well, if they can't Hollywood must accept the responsibility for that, too. It has stifled Indian talent by giving the red men the stereotyped, one-dimensional and completely phony role of the Indian who folds his arms and says 'Ugh!' — and nothing else.

"We've never given Indian actors a chance, and in justice it's time we did," Millar told me.

So, to begin with, Millar has filled five of the principal roles in "Little Big Man," including the one next to importance to star Dustin Hoffman's, with real Indians. In addition, he has signed 400 red men living on the Crow Reservation near Hardin, Mont. to portray Sitting Bull's warriors when Penn restages Custer's Last Stand on the original Little Big Horn Battlefield, and 300 Stony and Sarcee Indians to play Black Kettle's people when the director recreates Custer's Washita Massacre of 1868.

Millar filled his No. 2 role with Chief Dan George, a real chief belonging to British Columbia's Tes-lall-watt tribe, whom he found in Vancouver. The chief is a white-haired 70, began acting on TV three years ago, and is now well known throughout Canada. He's playing the role originally scheduled for Richard Boone.

"And can he act!" said Millar in admiration. "A couple of years ago he narrated an Indian pageant in Vancouver's Empire Stadium and there wasn't a dry eye in the place. When he finished, they gave him a standing ovation and a woman rushed out on the field, fell on her knees in front of him, and asked him to bless her. He did, too."

And the Hollywood Indians? Millar got four other principals through Jay (Tonto) Silverheels' Hollywood Actors' Workshop — Linda Dyer and Robert Sroufe, of the Osage tribe; Norman Nathan, a Pima, and Steve Shemayne, of the almost extinct Caddo nation.

"Furthermore," Millar added, "this time we're telling the story of how the West was ''won'' from the Indians' viewpoint. It was a crime the white men can never expiate and it's time pictures told the truth about it."

He calculates to get his $5 million plus back, of course — and with a profit.

Chuck Connors is being asked by MGM to arrange his schedule for a two-week tour that will introduce "Captain Nemo's Floating City" just before Christmas, but with two big pictures going at Paramount, it may be difficult for Chuck to get away. He certainly hopes that he can, since the Jules Verne classic will be MGM's big picture of the holiday season and Chuck feels it includes his best acting to date. This is the picture filmed in London several months ago and MGM is holding it up specially for the holiday release.

Milton Berle is getting daily calls from the management of the Lowell Showboat in Michigan asking if he can return for a repeat engagement. During his six days at the showboat, Milton set a box office record of $91,000, so it is understandable the management would like to have him back. Meanwhile, Milton is busy with other things, among the most delightful being the presentation of diplomas to the new clowns completing their apprentice period with the Ringling Brothers circus now playing here. What could be more appropriate than for the Clown of Clowns to hand out the diplomas?

Former Springs Resident Gets Fellowship

Lawrence E. Gatterer, Boulder, originally of Colorado Springs, an electrical engineer with the National Bureau of Standards Laboratories, has been awarded a science and technology fellowship by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The fellowship will take him to Washington, D.C., for a period of ten months where he will assume the position of Assistant to the Director of the Office of Telecommunications, in the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Gatterer's wife, Charlene, and daughter, Diane, will accompany him to Washington this month. The family plans to return to Boulder in the summer of 1970.

Disarmament Group Gives Self New Name

GENEVA (AP) — The 25-nation disarmament conferees gave themselves a new official name Thursday: "The Conference of the Committee on Disarmament."

The new title was proposed by the conference cochairmen, James F. Leonard of the United States and Alexei Roshchin of the Soviet Union, and accepted without opposition.

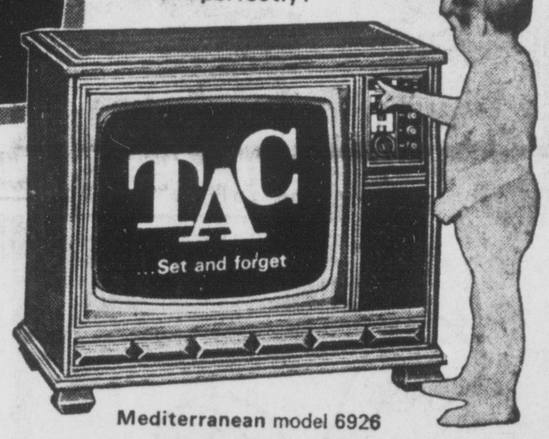
Magnavox ANNOUNCES ANOTHER REVOLUTIONARY BREAKTHROUGH!

TOTAL AUTOMATIC COLOR TV

NOW . . . the first and only, fabulously convenient TOTAL AUTOMATIC COLOR TV . . . a new and exclusive ELECTRONIC SYSTEM which COMBINES all the functions of the three Magnavox innovations described below. If the Color TV brand you're considering DOES NOT HAVE ALL THREE, it is already obsolete; for only Magnavox TAC banishes annoying color variations and the need for bothersome picture adjustments or tuning! TAC—so simple a child can tune it perfectly!



Mediterranean model 6926

ATC New AUTOMATIC TINT CONTROL
. . . eliminates green and purple faces. Magnavox ATC lets you select the flesh tone colors most pleasing to you and keeps them that way—in every picture, on every program, on any channel! Set it once and forget it!

ACC New and Improved AUTOMATIC CHROMA CIRCUIT
. . . reduces variations in color intensity. Magnavox ACC assures uniform color intensity from station to station—no matter how often you change channels.

AFT Instant AUTOMATIC FINE TUNING
. . . eliminates the need for critical picture tuning. Invented by Magnavox in 1964, AFT keeps all station signals locked-in to give you a perfectly-tuned picture that is always precise—instantly and automatically—on every channel, every time!

Early American model 6924

Contemporary model 6922

TAC—plus these other advanced Magnavox features contribute to the unequaled enjoyment of owning today's finest Color TV: New Brilliant MX500 Color Tube—gives you vivid, natural color pictures which are clearer and sharper, for more life-like picture fidelity and realism. MX500 with huge 295 sq. in. screen—a combination of engineering advancements to bring you the ultimate in viewing pleasure. Chromatone—for thrilling depth and dimension. Quick-On pictures and sound eliminate annoying warm-up delay. Bonded Circuitry chassis sets a new standard of lasting reliability. 82-Channel Remote Control for UHF/VHF is optional. All models shown on concealed swivel casters. Also in French or Italian Provincial styles.

Looking at Hollywood

BY FLORABEL MUIR

HOLLWYOOD — The guilty conscience kick that seems to be sweeping America has hit the film industry. Here's a producer who's making reparation to the Indians.

The real Indians.

More than $5 million worth of reparations.

"For years," says Stuart Millar, whose 'Little Big Man' is before the cameras, with Arthur Penn directing, "the original Americans have been complaining that Hollywood has been using white men and brown in Indian parts. And they've been right.

"Even Hollywood's own Indian actors are kept out of Indian roles most of the time, and the reason given is they can't act. Well, if they can't Hollywood must accept the responsibility for that, too. It has stifled Indian talent by giving the red men the stereotyped, one-dimensional and completely phony role of the Indian who folds his arms and says 'Ugh!" — and nothing else.

"We've never given Indian actors a chance, and in justice it's time we did," Millar told me.

So, to begin with, Millar has filled five of the principal roles in "Little Big Man," including the one next to importance to star Dustin Hoffman's, with real Indians. In addition, he has signed 400 red men living on the Crow Reservation near Hardin, Mont. to portray Sitting Bull's warriors when Penn restages Custer's Last Stand on the original Little Big Horn Battlefield, and 300 Stony and Sarcee Indians to play Black Kettle's people when the director recreates Custer's Washita Massacre of 1868.

Millar filled his No. 2 role with Chief Dan George, a real chief belonging to British Columbia's Tes-lall-watt tribe, whom he found in Vancouver. The chief is a white-haired 70, began acting on TV three years ago, and is now well known throughout Canada. He's playing the role originally scheduled for Richard Boone.

"And can he act!" said Millar in admiration. "A couple of years ago he narrated an Indian pageant in Vancouver's Empire Stadium and there wasn't a dry eye in the place. When he finished, they gave him a standing ovation and a woman rushed out on the field, fell on her knees in front of him, and asked him to bless her. He did, too."

And the Hollywood Indians? Millar got four other principals through Jay (Tonto) Silverheels' Hollywood Actors' Workshop — Linda Dyer and Robert Sroufe, of the Osage tribe; Norman Nathan, a Pima, and Steve Shemayne, of the almost extinct Caddo nation.

"Furthermore," Millar added, "this time we're telling the story of how the West was ''won'' from the Indians' viewpoint. It was a crime the white men can never expiate and it's time pictures told the truth about it."

He calculates to get his $5 million plus back, of course — and with a profit.

Chuck Connors is being asked by MGM to arrange his schedule for a two-week tour that will introduce "Captain Nemo's Floating City" just before Christmas, but with two big pictures going at Paramount, it may be difficult for Chuck to get away. He certainly hopes that he can, since the Jules Verne classic will be MGM's big picture of the holiday season and Chuck feels it includes his best acting to date. This is the picture filmed in London several months ago and MGM is holding it up specially for the holiday release.

Milton Berle is getting daily calls from the management of the Lowell Showboat in Michigan asking if he can return for a repeat engagement. During his six days at the showboat, Milton set a box office record of $91,000, so it is understandable the management would like to have him back. Meanwhile, Milton is busy with other things, among the most delightful being the presentation of diplomas to the new clowns completing their apprentice period with the Ringling Brothers circus now playing here. What could be more appropriate than for the Clown of Clowns to hand out the diplomas?

Former Springs Resident Gets Fellowship

Lawrence E. Gatterer, Boulder, originally of Colorado Springs, an electrical engineer with the National Bureau of Standards Laboratories, has been awarded a science and technology fellowship by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The fellowship will take him to Washington, D.C., for a period of ten months where he will assume the position of Assistant to the Director of the Office of Telecommunications, in the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Gatterer's wife, Charlene, and daughter, Diane, will accompany him to Washington this month. The family plans to return to Boulder in the summer of 1970.

Disarmament Group Gives Self New Name

GENEVA (AP) — The 25-nation disarmament conferees gave themselves a new official name Thursday: "The Conference of the Committee on Disarmament."

The new title was proposed by the conference cochairmen, James F. Leonard of the United States and Alexei Roshchin of the Soviet Union, and accepted without opposition.

Bernadette Shows Her Spirit in Fund Campaign

By TOM KELLY

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernadette Devlin had changed from blue jeans worn in Londonderry battle to a petite white mini-dress but she quickly made it clear that her American fund raising drive was in the spirit of the barricades.

"The barricades will stay up in Northern Ireland until the government comes down," the 22-year-old Miss Devlin vowed before a cheering audience of 500 Irish-Americans.

Smuggled through the barricades into the Irish Republic and flown to the United States, Miss Devlin, youngest member of the British Parliament, embarked Thursday night on a tour to raise money for the homeless and hungry Roman Catholics of Northern Ireland.

"We ask that every person interested in humanity and social justice come to our aid," Miss Devlin, still clad in the blue jeans she wore in battle, told a news conference on her arrival at Kennedy Airport.

Hours later she was ready for her first speaking engagement before a capacity crowd in Inwood, an Irish enclave at the northern tip of Manhattan.

She brought the crowd to its feet again and again, charging the Protestant constabulary acted "inhumanely and injustly" toward the Catholic minority in her country.

"When these madmen tried to come into Derry," she said, "they came in fast, but went out a damn sight faster after we started on them."

Her tour is being sponsored by the National Committee for Irish Justice and the fund raising goal is $1 million.

Zaddie R. Bunker

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Zaddie R. Bunker, known as "the Flying Grandmother" and a legendary figure among woman pilots, died Thursday a week before her 82nd birthday. Mrs. Bunker learned to fly at 65, flew solo back and forth across the continent when she was 66, and flew faster than sound at 73.

Steen Sale Planned Soon

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A bankruptcy referee said Wednesday he would start hearings as soon as possible on debts disputed by Charles A. Steen, who once turned up $60 million in Utah uranium but now has creditors who say he owes $6 million.

Steen's proposed plan to pay the debts, some of which he claims have been satisfied and others he challenges, has been in the courts 18 months.

Bankruptcy referee Russell Taylor said he would rule on Steen's progress in freeing himself from the debts after hearings on claims by the Internal Revenue Service and a bank.

Steen, who struck it rich on uranium near Moab, Utah, in 1952, filed a repayment plan in May 1968.

Bankruptcy trustee Richard Diamond had asked that Steen be required to show his progress in paying off debts from assets Steen has put at $19 million. Hearings on Diamond's request concluded Tuesday.

Steen's lawyers claim the IRS bill for $1.8 million in back taxes is unjustified.

Most of Steen's assets have been seized by the IRS.

Two-Thirds Colorado Interstate Roads Open

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Good Roads Association reported today that 67 per cent of the interstate highway mileage allotted to Colorado now is open to traffic.

That means motorists can drive on 654 miles of interstate, with 322 miles still to be finished. Of this, 178 miles is now under construction or in preliminary stages.

Colorado progress matches the national effort, with a total of 28,219 miles—or 67 per cent—of the total allocation now open to traffic.

Harnley Leads Fliers Past Billings

Vista Grande, Wichita Meet in Battle Tonight

BILLINGS, Mont. — Taking one level at a time on the stairway to the championship, Vista Grande, Colorado's entrant in the Regional Legion A playoffs, routed tournament favorite and host team, Billings, 5-1 Thursday night to move into the third round of the winner's bracket.

The victory for Bob Gill's Marauders extended their winning streak to eight, six of which came in last weeks State Tournament. The Mitchell crew will meet Wichita, Kansas, tonight in the featured 8 p.m. contest that will determine the winner's division champion. Wichita is the only other undefeated club in the meet and moved into tonights battle with an 8-4 win over Tucson, Ariz., on Thursday.

In other action on Thursday, Mitchell's initial victim, Salt Lake City, Utah, sent Roswell, N.M., home with a 4-1 victory. The win was highlighted by the no-hit performance of pitcher Steve Brophy. Montana's state runner-up Great Falls eliminated Sheridan, Wyo., 13-1.

Mitchell hurler Lynn Harnley was the big gun for the Flier's both on the mound and at the plate as the righthander drove in two insurance markers in the eighth frame with Vista Grande's only extra-base clout of the tilt.

During his nine innings on the high spot, Harnley scattered nine Billing's hits, only one of which was for extra bases, walked two batters, and fanned eleven. He was tabbed for a lone earned marker in the fifth frame.

The Montana run was platted when Billings left fielder Andy Thomas singled, moved to second on a one-bagger by shortstop Joe McIntosh and rounded the bases on a double to centerfield by catcher Don Hughes.

Billings marker in the fifth knotted the contest at one-all as Mitchell had broken the scoring ice in the first frame.

Ron Haines, the Flier's leadoff baiter, had the honors when he advanced to second following consecutive free passes to himself and Carl Krug. Catcher Mike England moved the runners around the second and third with a sacrifice before first baseman Don Struck rapped his first of three one-baggers in the affair to plate Haines.

An error, a fielder's choice, and a pair of singles gave Mitchell the go ahead marker in the seventh.

Leadoff batier Stu McPherson, who replaced Haines in the fifth when the left fielder suffered a pulled muscle, lived at first on a fielding error by Billings catcher Hughes. Krug then advanced McPherson to second when a fielder's choice by the Billings shortstop was late in an attempt to catch McPherson in the force at second.

Vista Grande's bats came alive with the next two hitters as England tapped a one-bagger to lead the bases before Struck platted McPherson with a well placed single over the second baseman's head.

Harnley's blast in the eighth turned the contest into a runaway as the pitcher drove in Paul Williams and Ulrich with a triple to right field. The runners were on base following a single by Williams and a free pass to Ulrich.

An unearned tally in the ninth, Mitchell's only uncredited marker of the contest, put the lid on the victory with catcher England getting the honors.

The backstop garnered a base-on-balls off of relief hurler McIntosh, moved to second on Struck's final rap of the affair, stole third and raced home when Billing's catcher Hughes allowed a pass ball.

Losing pitcher Darrell Devitt, who replaced starter Jerry Schuster in the third, was tabbed for three markers, two of which were earned, during his four and two-thirds innings on the mound. Mitchell garnered two hits off the righthander while he walked a like amount and struckout six.

Washington Caps' Owner in Search Of a Playing Site for Cage Squad

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Owner Earl Foreman, moving with as much speed as he can muster, hopes to choose a playing site in the nation's capital within five or six days for his newly-acquired Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association.

Foreman and Thurlo McCrady, executive director of the ABA, spent Thursday visiting two buildings that could possibly house his Oaks—renamed the Washington Caps—D.C. Armory and the Washington Coliseum.

The Armory, across the street from Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium, where the baseball Senators and the football Redskins play, has no seats but temporary stands could be installed to hold 7,500 or 8,000. Fire regulations limit the arena's capacity to 10,000.

The Colisum, formerly Uline Arena, has 7,000 permanent seats and was the home of two former, financially unsuccessful, Washington professional basketball teams—the original Caps and the Tapers.

There are many pluses but there are some minuses," said Foreman about the Armory. But, commenting on the Coliseum, he said: "There are things that could be done and should be done."

Foreman, who was given league approval Wednesday to purchase the Oaks, said, however, he is racing the calendar in an effort to move the ABA champion Oakland team to the nation's capital in time for the team's first home game, Oct. 15.

"The only thing we know for sure is that there many decisions to be made and they have to be made quickly," said Foreman.

The Washington attorney, who previously had been part owner in the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, said he also talked by telephone Thursday with Bruce Hale, Oaks general manager, but declined to discuss the conversation.

He said he had tried to contact Oaks superstar Rick Barry but had not been able to reach him. He said he talks to Barry over the weekend and "to my knowledge, he'll play in Washington."

Foreman said he would talk next Tuesday to coach Alex Hannum in San Francisco to "discusss coaching plans for the new club. Until that time, he is still the coach of this championship team."

It was understood that neither Barry nor Hannum was pleased with the Oaks leaving Oakland.

Foreman said the biggest problem in relocating in Washington was adapting the Oaks home schedule to the available facilities here since the sites have conventions, shows and dances already booked for the winter season.

The Oaks were scheduled to play 30 of their home games in Oakland in the Forum. Twelve other home dates were to be played on the road—seven as part of doubleheaders, two in Mexico City, two in Salt Lake City and one in Sacramento.

Redlegs' One-Man Bench Puts Cincy Back in First

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's one-man Bench has the Reds sitting on top the tight National League West again.

The Bench, a 21-year-old All-Star catcher with the first name of John, slammed a three-run homer Thursday night that gave the Reds a 4-3 victory over St. Louis and put them in first, one-half game ahead of Los Angeles, which lost 2-1 to Philadelphia.

Atlanta took the Chicago Cubs 3-1, San Francisco nipped the New York Mets 7-6 in 11 innings and San Diego edged Montreal 1-0 in 10 innings in the only other National League action.

Bench, seventh best hitter in the National League at .325, singled and scored on Lee May's double in the fourth. He then gave the Reds a winning 4-0 margin by slamming his 21st homer and boosting his RBI total to 7-1 in the sixth.

But Bench didn't do it all alone. Al Jackson replaced Wayne Granger, who replaced winner Jim Merritt, 14-5, in the seventh, with runners on first and third and one out in the eighth and the score 4-3.

Jackson got pinch-hitter Vic Davalillo to hit into a double play and then set the Cardinals down in the ninth.

Los Angeles loaded the bases against Jerry Johnson in the eighth but couldn't score and had its five-game winning streak snapped. Dave Watkins gave Philadelphia a 1-0 lead in the second with an RBI single, and Deron Johnson singled in a run in the sixth to break a 1-1 tie. The Dodgers had tied it in the top of the sixth on Maury Wills' run-scoring single.

Atlanta moved to within two games of the top in the West by beating the Cubs behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Britton. The Braves won it in the sixth when Henry Aaron hit his 33rd homer of the season and Felix Millan produced another run with a two-out single.

Britton gave up an unearned run in the fourth to the East Division-leading Cubs who stayed 6½ games ahead of the Met and eight up on St. Louis.

$1,000 Kid Fires Shutout With 'No One in Bullpen'

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The $1,000 kid turned into a $100,000 beauty for the California Angels.

That would be Steve Kealey, a 22-year-old rookie right-hand, who pitched a 2-0 shutout over the powerful Baltimore Orioles in the American League Thursday night in his first major league start.

"I just gave him the ball and told him to go out there and pitch because we had no one in the bull pen," said Lefty Phillips, manager of the Angels.

In the only other AL game scheduled, the Detroit Tigers shaded the Seattle Pilots 7-6 on Mickey Stanley's eighth inning homer.

Kealey, who had pitched only eight previous innings in relief before the game and hadn't throw a ball in a week because of a sore arm, held the Orioles to seven hits. He fanned two and walked two.

A native of nearby Torrance, Calif., he signed with the Angels for a $1,000 bonus and had to go to a trial camp before making the team.

"I smoked half a pack of cigarretts just sitting around before the game," Kealey said. "I was nervous then, but the butterflies disappeared once I started warming up."

The Orioles, who are making a runaway of the AL East, had Kealey on the ropes in the fourth and fifth, but the rookie wiggled off the hook.

Mark Belanger opened the Baltimore fourth with a double, but Kealey got the next three batters. Baltimore loaded the bases with one out in the fifth on singles by Dave May, Clay Dalrymple and Marcelino Lopez, but Kealey got Don Buford on a pop up and Belanger on a liner to left field.

"I didn't have time to get nervous in that situation," Kealey commented later.

It was a remarkable performance for a rookie whose wife, Karen, is expecting their first child any day. And, also because Kealey had been beaten and robbed by muggers at Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., little more than a month ago. He had to close a cut below his right eye.

Sandy Alomar figured in both the Angels runs and made a loser of Tom Phoebus, the Oriole starter. Alomar doubled in the first and scored on Jim Spencer's single. In the fourth, Alomar singled home Aurelio Rodriguez.

The victory pulled the Angels within one percentage point of third place Kansas City in the AL West.

Stanley's homer, his 16th of the season, gave Seattle its seventh straight defeat after a seesaw struggle with the Tigers.

The Pilots held a 3-1 lead, fell behind 6-4, then rallied to tie at 6-6 in the seventh on Don Mincher's two-run single.

Campbell Feels NHL 'Closer to Expansion'

TORONTO (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, says the league is "closer to an agreement than we've ever been" on future expansion.

He told a news conference following a two-day meeting of league governors that there had been progress, but no decision. He said another meeting will be held early in September, probably in Toronto, but gave no date.

"We have devoted two days to finding an appropriate solution to all the involved problems pertaining to additional expansion," he said. "Substantial progress has been made."

Campbell refused to identify applications which might be favored, but Vancouver has been told it is first in line. Baltimore is expected to be the other choice. Buffalo, Cleveland and Atlanta also have made inquiries.

He said the formal decision on expansion is being hampered by talks on realignment of the league's present 12 teams, six each in the East and West divisions.

Campbell said he doesn't think price will be a problem for the new franchises. There has been speculation that the new initiation fee will be $6 million a team compared with the $2 million paid by each team in the 1966 expanson.

Tony Godec Named to Trap Team

Tony Godec of Colorado Springs has been named to the 1969 Honor Trap Team, according to the September issue of Guns and Ammo magazine.

The five-man team was selected by members of the Amateur Trapshooting Association.

Godec, 36, has been shooting since 1966. He has had an average increase in score of .0948. Godec shoots a Browning Broadway for both singles and handicap, using handloaded No. 8 shot for the 16-yard range and 7½ for his handicap of 22 yards.

Godec also won the most improved shooter award in the winter league at Ent Rod and Gun Club.

Other members of the team include Bennet Holtzclaw of Fayetteville, Ark.; Stan Anderson of Denver; Tom McKay of Minneapolis; and James Bowman of Knoxville, Tenn.

The women's team includes Karen Olsen of Milwaukee; Deborah Ann Heyl of Pittsburgh; Elizabeth Holden of Casper, Wyo.; and two from Phoenix — Nancy Spear and Eunice Harrison.

Simpson to Take Shirt to Cleaners, Will See Action Against Baltimore

By KEN RAPPOPORT

This is the night O.J. Simpson takes his shirt to the cleaners. Whether or not he cleans out the Baltimore Colts, well, that's another story.

Simpson, Buffalo's glittering rookie running back, will probably get more dirt on his jersey this week than last, when he only played a few minutes, when the Bills take on Baltimore in one of two pro football exhibition games tonight.

He saw limited duty in last week's loss to Detroit, but figures to see more action against the Colts—even though "Mini Max" Anderson will start in his place.

Simpson, used mostly as a decoy in his first pro game, nevertheless learned a valuable lesson: "If you don't hit the hole, you don't get another chance. The backs come up too fast."

Also on tonight's card is a game between Chicago of the National Football League and Houston of the American Football League at the Astrodome.

The NFL Colts, who found the Jets too much to handle in last year's Super Bowl, have taken three straight exhibitions from AFL opponents.

The Bills, who claimed Simpson in the draft after finishing with pro football's worst record (1-12-1), have won one of three exhibition games this summer. Their victory came over an NFL foe, the Washington Redskins.

Houston, which lost a 33-29 thriller to the Colts last week, will play Chicago for the first time. The Bears are fresh from a convincing victory over Green Bay.

Houston Coach Wally Lemm said backup quarterback Don Trull will start against Chicago. However, Pete Beathard, the No. 1 signal caller, also will see action along with quarterbacks Bob Davis and rookie Bob Naponic, Lemm said.

Beathard has completed 20 of 55 passes for 413 yards and three touchdowns in the two games he's worked. Trull, in one game, completed 5 of 15 for 35 yards and one touchdown.

Although veteran quarterback Jack Concannon has been doing most of the signal calling for Chicago, indications were Virgil Carter would start against the Oilers.

Houston also must contend with Gale Sayers, Chicago's mercury-quick runner.

The games touch off a flurry of weekend activity. Saturday night finds Cleveland, NFL, at San Diego, AFL; Kansas City, AFL, at Los Angeles, NFL; and San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL, in inter-league action. In NFL games, it's Green Bay at Dallas; Washington at Atlanta; Minnesota vs. St. Louis at Memphis, Tenn., and Pittsburgh vs. New Orleans at Baton Rouge, La. Miami visits Cincinnati in the only AFL pairing.

In two games Monday night, the New York Jets play at Oakland in an AFL clash and Detroit, NFL, takes on Boston, AFL, at Montreal.

Meanwhile, Washington traded veteran linebacker Mike Morgan to the New Orleans Saints Thursday for rookie defensive back Dennis Hale.

The Redskins also cut Gary Lane, former New York Giant quarterback who was given a try as a running back.

The Giants asked waivers on fullback Henry Dyer, who had been their leading rusher in two exhibition games. Coach Allie Sherman gave no reason for the cut.

Cincinnati trimmed its roster to 55 by asking waivers on three players—defensive end Dennis Randall, tight end Ron Duncan and kicking specialist Bill Shoemaker.

San Diego released Rene Mattison, a free agent from the University of New Mexico.

Atlanta Battles Redskins In Bid for Third Victory

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin has been pleading the Fifth all summer as he heads into his first full season as coach of the Atlanta Falcons.

That's the Fifth Amendment, which says nobody has to testify if it would be self-incriminating.

Van Brocklin, known in the past as an explosive, controversial player and coach, isn't taking any verbal gambles this season.

In Fact, he's downright hard to pin down on much of anything as he prepares the Falcons for their third exhibition football game. Atlanta, riding a two-game winning streak, entertains the Washington Redskins Saturday night.

Van Brocklin is full of praise for the Redskins, but he's very noncommital about the Falcons.

Samples of his answers to questions this summer haven't shed much light on Atlanta's prospects after three dismal years in which the Falcons won a total of six games.

Asked about the effect of a change to this type of offense and defense, Van Brocklin replied:

"When you have change there is change."

Asked about the battle between quarterbacks Randy Johnson and Bob Berry for the starting job, Van Brocklin said:

"There's no battle. They are teammates."

Asked how he liked one of the Falcons' practice sessions, Van Brocklin replied: "Hell, I don't know. That's what we have games for, to find out how we're doing."

The games so far have indicated that the Falcons are doing much better, with exhibition victories over the Philadelphia Eagles and the Boston Patriots behind them.

Harnley Leads Fliers Past Billings

Vista Grande, Wichita Meet in Battle Tonight

BILLINGS, Mont. — Taking one level at a time on the stairway to the championship, Vista Grande, Colorado's entrant in the Regional Legion A playoffs, routed tournament favorite and host team, Billings, 5-1 Thursday night to move into the third round of the winner's bracket.

The victory for Bob Gill's Marauders extended their winning streak to eight, six of which came in last weeks State Tournament. The Mitchell crew will meet Wichita, Kansas, tonight in the featured 8 p.m. contest that will determine the winner's division champion. Wichita is the only other undefeated club in the meet and moved into tonights battle with an 8-4 win over Tucson, Ariz., on Thursday.

In other action on Thursday, Mitchell's initial victim, Salt Lake City, Utah, sent Roswell, N.M., home with a 4-1 victory. The win was highlighted by the no-hit performance of pitcher Steve Brophy. Montana's state runner-up Great Falls eliminated Sheridan, Wyo., 13-1.

Mitchell hurler Lynn Harnley was the big gun for the Flier's both on the mound and at the plate as the righthander drove in two insurance markers in the eighth frame with Vista Grande's only extra-base clout of the tilt.

During his nine innings on the high spot, Harnley scattered nine Billing's hits, only one of which was for extra bases, walked two batters, and fanned eleven. He was tabbed for a lone earned marker in the fifth frame.

The Montana run was platted when Billings left fielder Andy Thomas singled, moved to second on a one-bagger by shortstop Joe McIntosh and rounded the bases on a double to centerfield by catcher Don Hughes.

Billings marker in the fifth knotted the contest at one-all as Mitchell had broken the scoring ice in the first frame.

Ron Haines, the Flier's leadoff baiter, had the honors when he advanced to second following consecutive free passes to himself and Carl Krug. Catcher Mike England moved the runners around the second and third with a sacrifice before first baseman Don Struck rapped his first of three one-baggers in the affair to plate Haines.

An error, a fielder's choice, and a pair of singles gave Mitchell the go ahead marker in the seventh.

Leadoff batter Stu McPherson, who replaced Haines in the fifth when the left fielder suffered a pulled muscle, lived at first on a fielding error by Billings catcher Hughes. Krug then advanced McPherson to second when a fielder's choice by the Billings shortstop was late in an attempt to catch McPherson in the force at second.

Vista Grande's bats came alive with the next two hitters as England tapped a one-bagger to lead the bases before Struck platted McPherson with a well placed single over the second baseman's head.

Harnley's blast in the eighth turned the contest into a runaway as the pitcher drove in Paul Williams and Ulrich with a triple to right field. The runners were on base following a single by Williams and a free pass to Ulrich.

An unearned tally in the ninth, Mitchell's only uncredited marker of the contest, put the lid on the victory with catcher England getting the honors.

The backstop garnered a base-on-balls off of relief hurler McIntosh, moved to second on Struck's final rap of the affair, stole third and raced home when Billing's catcher Hughes allowed a pass ball.

Losing pitcher Darrell Devitt, who replaced starter Jerry Schuster in the third, was tabbed for three markers, two of which were earned, during his four and two-thirds innings on the mound. Mitchell garnered two hits off the righthander while he walked a like amount and struckout six.

The $1,000 kid turned into a $100,000 beauty for the California Angels.

That would be Steve Kealey, a 22-year-old rookie right-hand, who pitched a 2-0 shutout over the powerful Baltimore Orioles in the American League Thursday night in his first major league start.

"I just gave him the ball and told him to go out there and pitch because we had no one in the bull pen," said Lefty Phillips, manager of the Angels.

In the only other AL game scheduled, the Detroit Tigers shaded the Seattle Pilots 7-6 on Mickey Stanley's eighth inning homer.

Kealey, who had pitched only eight previous innings in relief before the game and hadn't throw a ball in a week because of a sore arm, held the Orioles to seven hits. He fanned two and walked two.

A native of nearby Torrance, Calif., he signed with the Angels for a $1,000 bonus and had to go to a trial camp before making the team.

"I smoked half a pack of cigarretts just sitting around before the game," Kealey said. "I was nervous then, but the butterflies disappeared once I started warming up."

The Orioles, who are making a runaway of the AL East, had Kealey on the ropes in the fourth and fifth, but the rookie wiggled off the hook.

Mark Belanger opened the Baltimore fourth with a double, but Kealey got the next three batters. Baltimore loaded the bases with one out in the fifth on singles by Dave May, Clay Dalrymple and Marcelino Lopez, but Kealey got Don Buford on a pop up and Belanger on a liner to left field.

"I didn't have time to get nervous in that situation," Kealey commented later.

It was a remarkable performance for a rookie whose wife, Karen, is expecting their first child any day. And, also because Kealey had been beaten and robbed by muggers at Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., little more than a month ago. He had to close a cut below his right eye.

Sandy Alomar figured in both the Angels runs and made a loser of Tom Phoebus, the Oriole starter. Alomar doubled in the first and scored on Jim Spencer's single. In the fourth, Alomar singled home Aurelio Rodriguez.

The victory pulled the Angels within one percentage point of third place Kansas City in the AL West.

Stanley's homer, his 10th of the season, gave Seattle its seventh straight defeat after a seesaw struggle with the Tigers.

The Pilots held a 3-1 lead, fell behind 6-4, then rallied to tie at 6-6 in the seventh on Don Mincher's two-run single.

Tony Godec Named to Trap Team

Tony Godec of Colorado Springs has been named to the 1969 Honor Trap Team, according to the September issue of Guns and Ammo magazine.

The five-man team was selected by members of the Amateur Trapshooting Association.

Godec, 36, has been shooting since 1966. He has had an average increase in score of .0948. Godec shoots a Browning Broadway for both singles and handicap, using handloaded No. 8 shot for the 16-yard range and 7½ for his handicap of 22 yards.

Godec also won the most improved shooter award in the winter league at Ent Rod and Gun Club.

Other members of the team include Bennet Holtzclaw of Fayetteville, Ark.; Stan Anderson of Denver; Tom McKay of Minneapolis; and James Bowman of Knoxville, Tenn.

The women's team includes Karen Olsen of Milwaukee; Deborah Ann Heyl of Pittsburgh; Elizabeth Holden of Casper, Wyo.; and two from Phoenix — Nancy Spear and Eunice Harrison.

Campbell Feels NHL 'Closer to Expansion'

TORONTO (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, says the league is "closer to an agreement than we've ever been" on future expansion.

He told a news conference following a two-day meeting of league governors that there had been progress, but no decision. He said another meeting will be held early in September, probably in Toronto, but gave no date.

"We have devoted two days to finding an appropriate solution to all the involved problems pertaining to additional expansion," he said. "Substantial progress has been made."

Campbell refused to identify applications which might be favored, but Vancouver has been told it is first in line. Baltimore is expected to be the other choice. Buffalo, Cleveland and Atlanta also have made inquiries.

He said the formal decision on expansion is being hampered by talks on realignment of the league's present 12 teams, six each in the East and West divisions.

Campbell said he doesn't think price will be a problem for the new franchises. There has been speculation that the new initiation fee will be $6 million a team compared with the $2 million paid by each team in the 1966 expanson.

Simpson to Take Shirt to Cleaners, Will See Action Against Baltimore

By KEN RAPPOPORT

This is the night O.J. Simpson takes his shirt to the cleaners. Whether or not he cleans out the Baltimore Colts, well, that's another story.

Simpson, Buffalo's glittering rookie running back, will probably get more dirt on his jersey this week than last, when he only played a few minutes, when the Bills take on Baltimore in one of two pro football exhibition games tonight.

He saw limited duty in last week's loss to Detroit, but figures to see more action against the Colts—even though "Mini Max" Anderson will start in his place.

Simpson, used mostly as a decoy in his first pro game, nevertheless learned a valuable lesson: "If you don't hit the hole, you don't get another chance. The backs come up too fast."

Also on tonight's card is a game between Chicago of the National Football League and Houston of the American Football League at the Astrodome.

The NFL Colts, who found the Jets too much to handle in last year's Super Bowl, have taken three straight exhibitions from AFL opponents.

The Bills, who claimed Simpson in the draft after finishing with pro football's worst record (1-12-1), have won one of three exhibition games this summer. Their victory came over an NFL foe, the Washington Redskins.

Houston, which lost a 33-29 thriller to the Colts last week, will play Chicago for the first time. The Bears are fresh from a convincing victory over Green Bay.

Houston Coach Wally Lemm said backup quarterback Don Trull will start against Chicago. However, Pete Beathard, the No. 1 signal caller, also will see action along with quarterbacks Bob Davis and rookie Bob Naponic, Lemm said.

Beathard has completed 20 of 55 passes for 413 yards and three touchdowns in the two games he's worked. Trull, in one game, completed 5 of 15 for 35 yards and one touchdown.

Although veteran quarterback Jack Concannon has been doing most of the signal calling for Chicago, indications were Virgil Carter would start against the Oilers.

Houston also must contend with Gale Sayers, Chicago's mercury-quick runner.

The games touch off a flurry of weekend activity. Saturday night finds Cleveland, NFL, at San Diego, AFL; Kansas City, AFL, at Los Angeles, NFL; and San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL, in inter-league action. In NFL games, it's Green Bay at Dallas; Washington at Atlanta; Minnesota vs. St. Louis at Memphis, Tenn., and Pittsburgh vs. New Orleans at Baton Rouge, La. Miami visits Cincinnati in the only AFL pairing.

In two games Monday night, the New York Jets play at Oakland in an AFL clash and Detroit, NFL, takes on Boston, AFL, at Montreal.

Meanwhile, Washington traded veteran linebacker Mike Morgan to the New Orleans Saints Thursday for rookie defensive back Dennis Hale.

The Redskins also cut Gary Lane, former New York Giant quarterback who was given a try as a running back.

The Giants asked waivers on fullback Henry Dyer, who had been their leading rusher in two exhibition games. Coach Ailie Sherman gave no reason for the cut.

Cincinnati trimmed its roster to 55 by asking waivers on three players—defensive end Dennis Randall, tight end Ron Duncan and kicking specialist Bill Shoemaker.

San Diego released Rene Matison, a free agent from the University of New Mexico.

Atlanta Battles Redskins In Bid for Third Victory

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin has been pleading the Fifth all summer as he heads into his first full season as coach of the Atlanta Falcons.

That's the Fifth Amendment, which says nobody has to testify if it would be self-incriminating.

Van Brocklin, known in the past as an explosive, controversial player and coach, isn't taking any verbal gambles this season.

In Fact, he's downright hard to pin down on much of anything as he prepares the Falcons for their third exhibition football game. Atlanta, riding a two-game winning streak, entertains the Washington Redskins Saturday night.

Van Brocklin is full of praise for the Redskins, but he's very noncommital about the Falcons.

Samples of his answers to questions this summer haven't shed much light on Atlanta's prospects after three dismal years in which the Falcons won a total of six games.

Asked about the effect of a change to this type of offense and defense, Van Brocklin replied:

"When you have change there is change."

Asked about the battle between quarterbacks Randy Johnson and Bob Berry for the starting job, Van Brocklin said:

"There's no battle. They are teammates."

Asked how he liked one of the Falcons' practice sessions, Van Brocklin replied: "Hell, I don't know. That's what we have games for, to find out how we're doing."

The games so far have indicated that the Falcons are doing much better, with exhibition victories over the Philadelphia Eagles and the Boston Patriots behind them.

Strong British Walker Golf Stars Face Yanks

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Great Britain, with its strongest team in years, started its quest today for the Walker Cup trophy, a golf prize that has eluded it since 1938.

Bonallack, playing captain for the British squad, also was first off the tee this morning in the two-ball foursomes. He and Irishman Tom Craddock teamed up against a U.S. twosome of Marvin Giles and Steve Melnyk to start the two-day international matches.

On Saturday, the same format will be followed with foursomes in the morning and singles play in the afternoon.

Other morning pairings sent Peter Benka and Bruce Critchley of England against Fleisher and Allen Miller; Britain's Charles Green and Andrew Brooks against Jerry (Lanny) Wadkins and Dick Siderowf, and Rodney Foster and Geoffrey Marks against America's Bill Hyndman and Joe Inman.

The singles matches, besides the Bonallack-Fleisher battle, pitted Green against Giles; Peter Tupling against Siderowf; Benka vs. Melnyk; Marks vs. Wadkins; Critchley vs. Miller; Michael King vs. John Bohmann and Foster vs. Dr. Ed Updegraff.

It's the 22nd version of the Walker Cup and Great Britain has been able to win only once. Another match, in 1965, ended in an 11-11 tie.

Victory in a match scores one point. When a match is tied, no score is made by either side.

The Walker Cup matches are held every two years, alternately in the United States and Great Britain. Either the larger U.S. ball or the smaller British ball is permissible in an international match.

Bonalack captured the British Amateur last month for his second consecutive championship and his fourth victory over-all. Fleisher is the defending U.S. Amateur champion.

"I've played with Bonallack over in Australia in World Cup matches," Fleisher said Thursday. "But that was team play. As far as matchwise, this is the first time we have met."

Asked if he would do anything special in his match, Fleisher said, "Not especially. Just keep my head down and get a few breaks."

Bonallack was impressed with the 6,721-yard Milwaukee Country Club, site of the Walker Cup.

"It's a very fair course," he said. "If you hit it off the tee onto the fairway, you've got a good shot at the greens. If you miss the fairway, you are penalized by the rough."

The British playing captain said he picked himself for the No. 1 singles because "I feel that I can give a better example if I lead off and do well."

In opening ceremonies Thursday, Gerald Micklem, captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, brought roars of approval from the crowd with his wit.

"In 1949, the team had exactly four supporters from Britain," he said. "This time we supporters number about 50. And we would just like to remind the British team that a victory would be a suitable reward for our support."

He mentioned the youngsters on the English team, but dismissed the youthfulness of the American squad.

"We remember the impact of newcomers in 1957 like Jack Nicklaus, Deane Beman and Tommy Aaron, and in 1967 with Marty Fleckman, Ron Cerrudo and Bob Dickson. With respect to Bill Hyndman (who is 53) and Ed Updegraff (47), the newer they are, the more dangerous they usually seem to be."

Overcall Tries for 14th Straight Win

Arts and Letters Set For Hopeful Showing

By ED SCHUYLER J. R
Associated Press Sports Writer

Picking Arts and Letters to win the Travers—which he did easily—was like hitting a basketball with a tennis racket. Picking the winner of the Hopeful is like hitting a pea with a broomstick.

A real horse race—that's what Saturday's $75,000-added, 6½-furlong Hopeful Stakes on closing day at Saratoga should be.

Heading the classy field of 2-year-olds will be George D. Widener's Pontifex, Ralph Wilson's Walker's, Hickory Tree Stable's Hagley and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen.

Pontifex whipped Walker's in the Flash Stakes and then won the Saratoga Special.

Walker's, showing improvement, came back to win the Sanford Stakes.

Hagley, who was second in the Tyro, won the Great American and was a tiring fourth in the Sapling, worked six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 at Saratoga last Wednesday.

But the real mystery colt is the inexperience but rapid Silent Screen. He won a six-furlong maiden race by 14 lengths in 1:10 3-5 and then last Saturday worked six furlongs at Saratoga in 1:10.

Other probable Hopeful starters include Greentree Stable's Parsedon, A.C. Acevedo's Brick Passer, Calumet Farm's Sun Cross, Gene Goff's Away From Home and Wheatly Stable's Irish Castle.

Also on Saturday's national card are the $50.000-added Matron Handicap for fillies and mares at Arlington Park, the $30.000-added Del Mar Derby for 3-year-olds at Del Mar and the $25,000-added Pageant Handicap for 3-year-old fillies at Atlantic City.

Patrick Madden's Pink Pigeon who set a world record of 1:58 1-4 for 1 1-5 miles on the turf in winning the Santa Barbara Handicap last winter at Santa Anita, has drawn top weight of 123 pounds for the Matron over 1⅛ miles on the grass. Others in the expected eight-horse field are C.T. Grissom's Miss Ribot, 118, Happy Hill Farm's Ludham, 116, and Barbara Hunter's Pattee Canyon, 116.

Nine were entered Thursday for the Del Mar Derby, with the early favorite being Forked Lightning Ranch's Noholme Jr., topweighted at 121 pounds. Others include Eagle Fly, 118, and Kenneth Schiffer's filly, Commissary, 116.

John Winnett's and E. Barry Ryan's Hail To Patsy, topweighted at 122 pounds, Mr. and Mrs J. B. Lewin's Dumptys Lady, 116, and Green Mill Farm's French invader, Princline, head up a likely field of 13 in the Pageant at 1 1-16 miles on the grass.

Other national features include the $25.000-added Princess Doreen Handicap for 3-year-olds and up over 1 1-16 miles at Rockingham Park and the $30,000-added, one-mile Cleveland Gold Cup for Ohio-bred 3-year-olds at Thisledown.

Taste, Someday and Klassy Poppy are the early favorites for the Princess Doreen.

Stakes winning Dondougold is among the probables for the Cleveland Gold Cup.

Pueblo Park Ends Season With Record

PUEBLO — The Pueblo Greyhound Park ended its 61-night season Thursday in record breaking fashion as the track boosted its season mutual handle to a record $5,320,969.

Thursday night's final totals saw more than 6,000 fans wager $123,758. The single night record set on closing night of last year stood the onslaught from the 1969 final showing. Last year's closing night set the mark of $124,498.

The twin quin which was a 5-8, 5-8 combination paid a whopping $1,891.20 to four winners.

Shaw Takes Opening Round Lead in Avco Golf; Lee Travino Withdraws

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw, a smiling, personable young man, has won once, is fighting his way out of a slump and has quite a way to go to achieve his aims.

"I figure I'm behind Palmer," the soft-spoken 26-year-old quipped Thursday after the first round lead in the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic with a four-under-par 68.

Shaw made the Doral Open this spring his first victory in six years on the tour. Arnold Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner who is missing this event to rest an ailing hip, has 53 tour victories.

"I've been fighting him all year," Joked Shaw, one of the flock of younger players who have moved to the fore this year.

Shaw, a native of Portland, Ore., who plays out of Golf, Ill., has over $48,000 in earnings this season, but has been in a long, long slump. He's missed the cut 11 times since his Florida triumph.

He appeared to be coming out of it last week when he opened with a 69, one of nine who tied for the first round lead in the PGA championship.

"I had a first round 69 and a last round 69 and a lot of garbage in between," he said. "I'm one shot better than that now, and if I can just keep it going . . ."

High winds, with gusts up to 30 miles per hour, swept most of the top names of the game well back in the field, but the blustery blasts bothered Shaw not a all.

"I can't say it bothered me much," he said. "When you shoot a 68 you can't complain."

Shaw held a one-stroke lead over Monty Kaser, winner of last week's Satellite Indian Ridge Open, and Canadian George Knudson. Tied at 70 were former U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, Claude Harmon Jr., son of the former Masters champion, and young John Lotz.

All but Lotz were early starters, with the afternoon players taking the brunt of the wind.

Billy Casper had an 81, his poorest round as a professional. Masters champion George Archer had a 76. U.S. Open title-holder Orville Moody had a 75. Pretourney favorite Gary Player had a 77, matching his highest round of the year.

Lee Trevino withdrew with a back injury after going two under par at the turn.

Shaw got off to a fast start, putting a four-iron six feet from the pin on the par five second hole and canning the putt for an eagle.

He missed the green on the next hole and took his only bogey. He birdied the par five sixth from four feet, ran in a 25-footer on 14th and rammed home a 35 footer in the final hole.

Bad Boy Ray Floyd Faces PGA Action

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ray Floyd, recently crowned PGA champion, said Thursday night he told a PGA official and the director of the Avco Golf Classic that he would not play in the tournament.

Floyd, honored at a party staged by owners of seven North beach nightclubs, will be subject to disciplinary action because of his unauthorized withdrawal from the Sutton, Mass. tournament, said Jack Tuthill, tournament director for the PGA players.

"I haven't talked to Tuthill yet," said the 26-year-old Floyd. Tuthill had said no decision world be made until he talked with Floyd.

"I have missed tournaments before and been fined. I guess I'm the bad boy this time because I was PGA champion. I was tired, and I also didn't have any clothes for the Ryder Cup matches in England. They were stolen in Dayton."

Floyd won the PGA championship tournament last Sunday in Dayton, Ohio.

One reason he came to the West Coast, Floyd said, was to replenish his wardrobe.

Phillies Arranging Allen's Exit; Eight Clubs Bidding

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richie Allen finally is going to have his way.

Maybe not all of it, but most of it.

He wants to get out of Philadelphia for dear life and the Phillies are in the process of arranging that little detail for him right now. All he has to have is a few weeks of patience until the season ends.

Allen would love to wind up here in New York. He isn't fussy. Either the Mets or Yankees will do nicely. But that the Phils can't guarantee him.

Eight clubs are willing to take Allen off the Phillies' prominently involved here. Those who want him say to themselves maybe the Phillies can't handle Allen but they don't know the right way to deal with him. Now the way I plan to go about it . . . All these clubs are playing right into Richie Allen's hands, of course.

The Yanks say they'll gladly take Allen. Whom are they going to give up for him though? Joe Pepitone? Even the Phillies aren't foolish enough to go for that. Mel Stottlemyre might be a little different, but the Yanks aren't about to let him go. Nonetheless, they're still interested in Allen.

Just Another Problem

"He's too tremendous a talent not to be interested in," says Mike Burke, the Yankees' boss. "Problems? All stars have problems. We'd take him, problems and all."

Since the Yanks have little to offer for Allen and since the situation isn't likely to change much between now and November when the inter-league trading period goes into effect there is little likelihood of Allen coming to the Yankees.

Then there's the Mets.

The Phils offered Allen to them last winter but the Mets lost interest when Philadelphia began talking about Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman, sometimes even in the same breath. If the Phils continue talking along the same lines, they can forget the Mets.

Gil Hodges, the Mets' manager, likes Allen, but with one important provision: he'd have meaning Allen would have to agree to expect the same kind of treatment as the 24 other players on the club. That takes care of that right there.

The chances are Allen will be dealt to an American league club. Cleveland is the strongest possibility. Alvin Dark likes Allen's bat so much that who knows, he might even throw in Harrelson got some extra bread, didn't he?

The California Angels are among the eight clubs interested in Allen also. Boston, too, although the Red Sox say yes, and then again, no.

That "no" applies if th Phils get rather hard-headed and insist on someone like Carl Yastrzemski. He isn't hitting what he ordinarily does but the Red Sox feel he's still one of the best in the game. They're not at all disenchanted with him either simply because manager Dick Williams had to hang a $500 plaster on him recently.

No Yax

"That didn't amount to a hill of beans," says Dick O'Connell, the Boston general manager. "We're interested in Allen, but only up to a point. It depends on how much they want. I've seen speculation in the papers we might give up Yastrzemski for him. That has never entered our heads. One thing about Yaz: we know he plays every day and never causes us any trouble. Why acquire trouble? Besides, hitting the baseball isn't our big problem; pitching is."

Baltimore's QB Slot Looks Solid; Shula After the 'Big One' Again

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Coach Don Shula, whose Baltimore Colts let the "big one" off the hook last season, list the condition of John Unitas' passing arm and maintenance of a strong defense as keys to bagging all the glory and gold of professional football this time around.

Unitas in three exhibition games has brought smiles to Shula's face and the word "great" was being tossed around again in connection with the quarterback ranked among the all-time stars of the National Football League.

Appearing in only one quarter in each game, Unitas has completed 26 of 40 passes for 321 yards and 27 points. Last season, because of a painful right elbow, he threw only 37 times in the 17 games the Colts played.

They lost only two of them with Earl Morrall, a veteran "insurance" quarterback, in the driver' seat. The second loss was the one that really counted, 16-7 to the undergo New York Jets in the Super Bowl.

It was Unitas who directed the Colts to their only touchdown in the Super Bowl.

To date, Shula has continued to use Morrall as No. 1 quarterback, but he can't postpone a decision indefinitely. Unitas continues to perform as he has been.

As for the defense, Shula hopes it will be as good or better than last year, when it was excellent. Last season, the Colts shut out three opponents in the regular season and then blanked Cleveland 34-0 for the NFL championship. The 144 points scored on Baltimore in 14 scheduled games tied the NFL record.

The retirement of all-pro defensive back Bobby Boyd and right end Ordell Braase are problems for Shula. Charlie Stukes, a third year player, and Ocie Austin, a sophomore, are the prime hopes for replacing Boyd. Roy Hilton, with four years of experience, is the most likely replacement for Braase while John Williams, the first 1968 draft choice, will be moved in as a backup from offense.

The rest of the Colt defense will be familiar. On the front line will be Bubba Smith, Billy Ray Smith and Fred Miller. Backing them up will be Mike Curtis, Dennis Gaubatz and Don Shinnick. Roaming the secondary again will be Jerry Logan, Rick Volk and Lenny Lyles.

The offensive front line also will be intact with Bob Vogel, Glenn Ressler, Bill Curry, Dan Sullivan and Sam Ball in the trench.

On the outside, all-pro John Mackey will man tight end, Willie Richardson one wide receiving spot while Jimmy Orr and Ray Perkins compete for the other pass catching position.

The brunt of the running attack again will be borne by Tom Matte, Preston Pearson and Terry Cole. Fullback Jerry Hill was an early training camp casualty, undergoing knee surgery.

Shula's desperate search for running depth even had Mackey trying it for awhile.

No rookie is expected to break into the starting lineup.

The most promising prospects so far are Ed Hinton, first 1969 draft choice being reviewed as both a ball carrier and pass receiver; Sam Havrilak, a college quarterback being looked as a rusher, and Ted Hendricks, a linebacker.

Strong British Walker Golf Stars Face Yanks

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Great Britain, with its strongest team in years, started its quest today for the Walker Cup trophy, a golf prize that has eluded it since 1938.

Bonallack, playing captain for the British squad, also was first off the tee this morning in the two-ball foursomes. He and Irishman Tom Craddock teamed up against a U.S. twosome of Marvin Giles and Steve Melnyk to start the two-day international matches.

On Saturday, the same format will be followed with foursomes in the morning and singles play in the afternoon.

Other morning pairings sent Peter Benka and Bruce Critchley of England against Fleisher and Allen Miller; Britain's Charles Green and Andrew Brooks against Jerry (Lanny) Wadkins and Dick Siderowf, and Rodney Foster and Geoffrey Marks against America's Bill Hyndman and Joe Inman.

The singles matches, besides the Bonallack-Fleisher battle, pitted Green against Giles; Peter Tupling against Siderowf; Benka vs. Melnyk; Marks vs. Wadkins; Critchley vs. Miller; Michael King vs. John Bohmann and Foster vs. Dr. Ed Updegraff.

It's the 22nd version of the Walker Cup and Great Britain has been able to win only once. Another match, in 1965, ended in an 11-11 tie.

Victory in a match scores one point. When a match is tied, no score is made by either side.

The Walker Cup matches are held every two years, alternately in the United States and Great Britain. Either the larger U.S. ball or the smaller British ball is permissible in an international match.

Bonalack captured the British Amateur last month for his second consecutive championship and his fourth victory over-all. Fleisher is the defending U.S. Amateur champion.

"I've played with Bonallack over in Australia in World Cup matches," Fleisher said Thursday. "But that was team play. As far as matchwise, this is the first time we have met."

Asked if he would do anything special in his match, Fleisher said, "Not especially. Just keep my head down and get a few breaks."

Bonallack was impressed with the 6,721-yard Milwaukee Country Club, site of the Walker Cup.

"It's a very fair course," he said. "If you hit it off the tee onto the fairway, you've got a good shot at the greens. If you miss the fairway, you are penalized by the rough."

The British playing captain said he picked himself for the No. 1 singles because "I feel that I can give a better example if I lead off and do well."

In opening ceremonies Thursday, Gerald Micklem, captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, brought roars of approval from the crowd with his wit.

"In 1949, the team had exactly four supporters from Britain," he said. "This time we supporters number about 50. And we would just like to remind the British team that a victory would be a suitable reward for our support."

He mentioned the youngsters on the English team, but dismissed the youthfulness of the American squad.

"We remember the impact of newcomers in 1957 like Jack Nicklaus, Deane Beman and Tommy Aaron, and in 1967 with Marty Fleckman, Ron Cerrudo and Bob Dickson. With respect to Bill Hyndman (who is 53) and Ed Updegraff (47), the newer they are, the more dangerous they usually seem to be."

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Overcall, unbeaten this season, tries for his 14th straight victory in the $25,000 Tar Heel Pace at Roosevelt Raceway tonight.

Arts and Letters Set For Hopeful Showing

By ED SCHUYLER J. R
Associated Press Sports Writer

Picking Arts and Letters to win the Travers—which he did easily—was like hitting a basketball with a tennis racket. Picking the winner of the Hopeful is like hitting a pea with a broomstick.

A real horse race—that's what Saturday's $75,000-added, 6½-furlong Hopeful Stakes on closing day at Saratoga should be.

Heading the classy field of 2-year-olds will be George D. Widener's Pontifex, Ralph Wilson's Walker's, Hickory Tree Stable's Hagley and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen.

Pontifex whipped Walker's in the Flash Stakes and then won the Saratoga Special.

Walker's, showing improvement, came back to win the Sanford Stakes.

Hagley, who was second in the Tyro, won the Great American and was a tiring fourth in the Sapling, worked six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 at Saratoga last Wednesday.

But the real mystery colt is the inexperience but rapid Silent Screen. He won a six-furlong maiden race by 14 lengths in 1:10 3-5 and then last Saturday worked six furlongs at Saratoga in 1:10.

Other probable Hopeful starters include Greentree Stable's Parsedon, A.C. Acevedo's Brick Passer, Calumet Farm's Sun Cross, Gene Goff's Away From Home and Wheatly Stable's Irish Castle.

Also on Saturday's national card are the $50,000-added Matron Handicap for fillies and mares at Arlington Park, the $30,000-added Del Mar Derby for 3-year-olds at Del Mar and the $25,000-added Pageant Handicap for 3-year-old fillies at Atlantic City.

Patrick Madden's Pink Pigeon who set a world record of 1:58 1-4 for 1 1-5 miles on the turf in winning the Santa Barbara Handicap last winter at Santa Anita, has drawn ton weight of 123 pounds for the Matron over 1⅛ miles on the grass. Others in the expected eight-horse field are C.T. Grissom's Miss Ribot, 118, Happy Hill Farm's Ludham, 116, and Barbara Hunter's Pattee Canyon, 116.

Nine were entered Thursday for the Del Mar Derby, with the early favorite being Forked Lightning Ranch's Noholme Jr., topweighted at 121 pounds. Others include Eagle Fly, 118, and Kenneth Schiffer's filly, Commissary, 116.

John Winnett's and E. Barry Ryan's Hail To Patsy, topweighted at 122 pounds, Mr. and Mrs J. B. Lewin's Dumptys Lady, 116, and Green Mill Farm's French invader, Princline, head up a likely field of 13 in the Pageant at 1 1-16 miles on the grass.

Other national features include the $25,000-added Princess Doreen Handicap for 3-year-olds and up over 1 1-16 miles at Rockingham Park and the $30,000-added, one-mile Cleveland Gold Cup for Ohio-bred 3-year-olds at Thisledown.

Taste, Someday and Klassy Poppy are the early favorites for the Princess Doreen.

Stakes winning Dondougold is among the probables for the Cleveland Gold Cup.

Pueblo Park Ends Season With Record

PUEBLO — The Pueblo Greyhound Park ended its 61-night season Thursday in record breaking fashion as the track boosted its season mutual handle to a record $5,320,969.

Thursday night's final totals saw more than 6,000 fans wager $123,758. The single night record set on closing night of last year stood the onslaught from the 1969 final showing. Last year's closing night set the mark of $124,498.

The twin quin which was a 5-8, 5-8 combination paid a whopping $1,891.20 to four winners.

Shaw Takes Opening Round Lead in Avco Golf; Lee Travino Withdraws

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw, a smiling, personable young man, has won once, is fighting his way out of a slump and has quite a way to go to achieve his aims.

"I figure I'm behind Palmer," the soft-spoken 26-year-old quipped Thursday after the first round lead in the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic with a four-under-par 68.

Shaw made the Doral Open this spring his first victory in six years on the tour. Arnold Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner who is missing this event to rest an ailing hip, has 53 tour victories.

"I've been fighting him all year," Joked Shaw, one of the flock of younger players who have moved to the fore this year.

Shaw, a native of Portland, Ore., who plays out of Golf, Ill., has over $48,000 in earnings this season, but has been in a long, long slump. He's missed the cut 11 times since his Florida triumph.

He appeared to be coming out of it last week when he opened with a 69, one of nine who tied for the first round lead in the PGA championship.

"I had a first round 69 and a last round 69 and a lot of garbage in between," he said. "I'm one shot better than that now, and if I can just keep it going . . ."

High winds, with gusts up to 30 miles per hour, swept most of the top names of the game well back in the field, but the blustery blasts bothered Shaw not a all.

"I can't say it bothered me much," he said. "When you shoot a 68 you can't complain."

Shaw held a one-stroke lead over Monty Kaser, winner of last week's Satellite Indian Ridge Open, and Canadian George Knudson. Tied at 70 were former U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, Claude Harmon Jr., son of the former Masters champion, and young John Lotz.

All but Lotz were early starters, with the afternoon players taking the brunt of the wind.

Billy Casper had an 81, his poorest round as a professional. Masters champion George Archer had a 76. U.S. Open title-holder Orville Moody had a 75. Pretourney favorite Gary Player had a 77, matching his highest round of the year.

Lee Trevino withdrew with a back injury after going two under par at the turn.

Shaw got off to a fast start, putting a four-iron six feet from the pin on the par five second hole and canning the putt for an eagle.

He missed the green on the next hole and took his only bogey. He birdied the par five sixth from four feet, ran in a 25-footer on 14th and rammed home a 35 footer in the final hole.

Bad Boy Ray Floyd Faces PGA Action

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ray Floyd, recently crowned PGA champion, said Thursday night he told a PGA official and the director of the Avco Golf Classic that he would not play in the tournament.

Floyd, honored at a party staged by owners of seven North beach nightclubs, will be subject to disciplinary action because of his unauthorized withdrawal from the Sutton, Mass. tournament, said Jack Tuthill, tournament director for the PGA players.

"I haven't talked to Tuthill yet," said the 26-year-old Floyd. Tuthill had said no decision world be made until he talked with Floyd.

"I have missed tournaments before and been fined. I guess I'm the bad boy this time because I was PGA champion. I was tired, and I also didn't have any clothes for the Ryder Cup matches in England. They were stolen in Dayton."

Floyd won the PGA championship tournament last Sunday in Dayton, Ohio.

One reason he came to the West Coast, Floyd said, was to replenish his wardrobe.

Phillies Arranging Allen's Exit; Eight Clubs Bidding

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richie Allen finally is going to have his way.

Maybe not all of it, but most of it.

He wants to get out of Philadelphia for dear life and the Phillies are in the process of arranging that little detail for him right now. All he has to have is a few weeks of patience until the season ends.

Allen would love to wind up here in New York. He isn't fussy. Either the Mets or Yankees will do nicely. But that the Phils can't guarantee him.

Eight clubs are willing to take Allen off the Phillies' prominently involved here. Those who want him say to themselves maybe the Phillies can't handle Allen but they don't know the right way to deal with him. Now the way I plan to go about it . . . All these clubs are playing right into Richie Allen's hands, of course.

The Yanks say they'll gladly take Allen. Whom are they going to give up for him though? Joe Pepitone? Even the Phillies aren't foolish enough to go for that. Mel Stottlemyre might be a little different, but the Yanks aren't about to let him go. Nonetheless, they're still interested in Allen.

Just Another Problem

"He's too tremendous a talent not to be interested in," says Mike Burke, the Yankees' boss. "Problems? All stars have problems. We'd take him, problems and all."

Since the Yanks have little to offer for Allen and since the situation isn't likely to change much between now and November when the inter-league trading period goes into effect there is little likelihood of Allen coming to the Yankees.

Then there's the Mets.

The Phils offered Allen to them last winter but the Mets lost interest when Philadelphia began talking about Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman, sometimes even in the same breath. If the Phils continue talking along the same lines, they can forget the Mets.

Gil Hodges, the Mets' manager, likes Allen, but with one important provision: he'd have meaning Allen would have to agree to expect the same kind of treatment as the 24 other players on the club. That takes care of that right there.

The chances are Allen will be dealt to an American league club. Cleveland is the strongest possibility. Alvin Dark likes Allen's bat so much that who knows, he might even throw in Harrelson got some extra bread, didn't he?

The California Angels are among the eight clubs interested in Allen also. Boston, too, although the Red Sox say yes, and then again, no.

That "no" applies if th Phils get rather hard-headed and insist on someone like Carl Yastrzemski. He isn't hitting what he ordinarily does but the Red Sox feel he's still one of the best in the game. They're not at all disenchanted with him either simply because manager Dick Williams had to hang a $500 plaster on him recently.

No Yax

"That didn't amount to a hill of beans," says Dick O'Connell, the Boston general manager. "We're interested in Allen, but only up to a point. It depends on how much they want. I've seen speculation in the papers we might give up Yastrzemski for him. That has never entered our heads. One thing about Yaz: we know he plays every day and never causes us any trouble. Why acquire trouble? Besides, hitting the baseball isn't our big problem; pitching is."

Baltimore's QB Slot Looks Solid; Shula After the 'Big One' Again

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Coach Don Shula, whose Baltimore Colts let the "big one" off the hook last season, list the condition of John Unitas' passing arm and maintenance of a strong defense as keys to bagging all the glory and gold of professional football this time around.

Unitas in three exhibition games has brought smiles to Shula's face and the word "great" was being tossed around again in connection with the quarterback ranked among the all-time stars of the National Football League.

Appearing in only one quarter in each game, Unitas has completed 26 of 40 passes for 321 yards and 27 points. Last season, because of a painful right elbow, he threw only 37 times in the 17 games the Colts played.

They lost only two of them with Earl Morrall, a veteran "insurance" quarterback, in the driver' seat. The second loss was the one that really counted, 16-7 to the undergo New York Jets in the Super Bowl.

It was Unitas who directed the Colts to their only touchdown in the Super Bowl.

To date, Shula has continued to use Morrall as No. 1 quarterback, but he can't postpone a decision indefinitely. Unitas continues to perform as he has been.

As for the defense, Shula hopes it will be as good or better than last year, when it was excellent. Last season, the Colts shut out three opponents in the regular season and then blanked Cleveland 34-0 for the NFL championship. The 144 points scored on Baltimore in 14 scheduled games tied the NFL record.

The retirement of all-pro defensive back Bobby Boyd and right end Ordell Braase are problems for Shula. Charlie Stukes, a third year player, and Ocie Austin, a sophomore, are the prime hopes for replacing Boyd. Roy Hilton, with four years of experience, is the most likely replacement for Braase while John Williams, the first 1968 draft choice, will be moved in as a backup from offense.

The rest of the Colt defense will be familiar. On the front line will be Bubba Smith, Billy Ray Smith and Fred Miller. Backing them up will be Mike Curtis, Dennis Gaubatz and Don Shinnick. Roaming the secondary again will be Jerry Logan, Rick Volk and Lenny Lyles.

The offensive front line also will be intact with Bob Vogel, Glenn Ressler, Bill Curry, Dan Sullivan and Sam Ball in the trench.

On the outside, all-pro John Mackey will man tight end, Willie Richardson one wide receiving spot while Jimmy Orr and Ray Perkins compete for the other pass catching position.

The brunt of the running attack again will be borne by Tom Matte, Preston Pearson and Terry Cole. Fullback Jerry Hill was an early training camp casualty, undergoing knee surgery.

Shula's desperate search for running depth even had Mackey trying it for awhile.

No rookie is expected to break into the starting lineup.

The most promising prospects so far are Ed Hinton, first 1969 draft choice being reviewed as both a ball carrier and pass receiver; Sam Havrilak, a college quarterback being looked as a rusher, and Ted Hendricks, a linebacker.

Council Asks End to Unlimited Recruiting

By JANET STAIHAR

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has agreed to put before the membership convention proposals to make recruiting in high schools more difficult.

The 18-man council, meeting here this week, carries great weight at the convention, which convenes Jan. 12-14 in Washington, D.C.

An NCAA spokesman said the most dramatic proposed amendment would end unlimiated recruiting by an institution' athletic representative of a sought-after high school athlete.

It would impose a limit of two expense-paid visits of a student to an institution's campus for recreuiting purposes.

In turn, the institution's representatives would be cut down to two off-campus visits to a prospect and the prospect's family.

An NCAA spokesman said the proposals would change the basic nature of recruiting athletes by making it more difficult and at the same time would have the institutions money.

The proposals are designed to ease pressure on coaches who take to the road to recruit and on students who are wooed by colleges and universities.

Coaches would be prohibited from trying to recruit sophomores and juniors.

There has been criticism from many quarters that recruiting practices place an undue psychological burden on high school athletes.

Other proposals include:

—Requiring a prospect when visiting a campus to live and take meals on campus as regular students normally do.

—Prohibiting colleges from contacting a prospect at the actual scene of competition, such as a basketball game.

—Prohibiting both off-campus contacts and paid visits until the student has completed his junior high school or prep school.

—Prohibiting any publicity by an institution of the commitment by a prospective student-athlete to attend the insitution, or accept a financial aid tender.

Cusick U.S. Shooting Champion

Air Force Academy shooters won top honors in nine categories at the recent National Pistol Championships held at Camp Perry, Ohio, under sponsorship of the National Rifle Association.

Twelve individuals and two four-man teams represented the Academy.

John Cusick, shooting in the .22 caliber, center fire, .45 caliber and team trophy matches, won the national collegiate championship.

Rolin Jenkins, Cusick, Fred Wright and Tom Mead placed first in the .22 caliber Expert competition with a score of 1090.

The team of Cusick, Bob Pennington, John Watkins and Jenkins took top honors in center fire with a score of 1069.

A score of 1056 won the .45 caliber team championship for Cusick, Watkins, Jenkins and Don Bustell.

The cadet team of Cusick, Jenkins, Wright and John W. Goodale won the National Team Trophy Match with a score of 1066.

Academy shooters won three national titles in the sharpshooter class. Dennis Young, Wright, George Farschman and Mead were center fire champs. Watkins, Farschman, Bustell and Terry Slowinski took the .22 caliber team title, and Goodale, Wright, Farschman and Sowinski won the .45 caliber team championship.

Wright won first place in the civilian marksmanship category, and Farschman tooksecond in the civilian sharpshooter class.

Sowinski won second place in civilian marksmen in .22 caliber match course, and Watkins took first place in the .45 caliber timed fire match.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Nationalist China, in its first year of eligibility for the Little League World Series, has made it to the finals—and the boys did it with some age-old American baseball strategy.

The manager of the Asians told his diminutive batters Thursday not to swing at the pitches of Elyria, Ohio's hurler, but to let their opponents create their own problems with wild pitches and walks. The strategy worked to perfection, as Elyria's reliever, Pierce Burt walked in the winning Chinese run in the bottom of the final inning to give the Pacific champs a 4-3 victory.

China will play Saturday against Santa Clara, Calif., a 4-3 victor against Tampa, Fla., in Thursday's other semifinal game.

"We knew their pitchers didn't have good control," Yung-chang Chien, Chinese manager, said through an interpreter. "We didn't want to swing at bad balls. If their pitchers had better control, we would have hit better."

China managed four hits against Burt and starting Elyria pitcher Chris Wisniski. But they also waited out eight walks, including the one to Hung-ching Chen that forced across the winning run.

In the top half of the sixth and final inning, the Chinese saw a 3-0 lead evaporate on Burt's game-tying three-run homer.

China's California opponents in the final won their game when Tampa shortstop Randy Ferlita let a hard grounder go through his legs, permitting the tying and winning runs to score. But Santa Clara Coach Gordon Beatty pointed out that Tampa's first two runs also came in on a throwing error by second baseman Joe Drapchaty.

"Before that play, Joe hadn't made an error in 11 games of tournament play," Beatty said. "And we should have scored more. We had the bases loaded twice and didn't score."

Pasarell Stuns Graebner in U.S. Tennis; Smith Wins

By DAVE O'HARA

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Charlie Pasarell and Clark Graebner are old U.S. Davis Cup buddies headed in different directions at the young tennis age of 25.

Pasarell, a former UCLA star tennis career is back on the beam. Graebner, a one - time Northwestern ace, is ready to concentrate on private business in New York after this year.

Now an enlisted man in the Army on leave to train with the U.S. Davis Cup team, Pasarell gave his personal hopes a big boost—and helped Graebner move a step closer to a permanent decision—in the 89th U.S. National Tennis Championships Thursday at Longwood.

Pasarell, who slipped from the nation's top-ranking to seventh after a miserable 1968 season, made his big move by ousting Graebner 8-6, 3-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4 in a stunning quarter-final upset. As doubles partner, the two are ranked second only to Bob Lutz and Stan Smith.

"It takes wins like this to get back the old confidence," Pasarell said. "I've always thought it was a matter of time before I got back in the groove."

"This is my swan song in Boston—this is it," Graebner said. "I just don't seem to play too well here. Somehow, there always seems to be too much aggravation. Charlie played well after we came back from a 10-minute rest. However, I had trouble with the shadows and couldn't seem to do much right."

Pasarell, whose only 1968 victory was in the Eastern Grass Tournament, when he beat Graebner in the finals, feels he is regaining the confidence which made him the nation's No. 1 player.

"I've been in the Army 19 months now, but everything is coming back," he said. "My troubles started last year when I was in basic training and didn't play tennis for 11 weeks. I lost everything, my conditioning, wrist strength, timing—everthing.

"Then when I started playing again, everybody beat me and that has to hurt anyone's confidence. Now I'm getitng my confidence back."

After winning his first set against Graebner, Pasarell appeared doomed to defeat as Clark took the next two in easy fashion.

Following a rest, though, Charlie took complete charge, displaying confidence and daring. He challenged Graebner all the way and scored with fabulous shots.

The victory on a wind-swept court at dusk sent Pasarell, seeded fifth, two notches below Graebner, into a semifinal match with California's Stan Smith, the No. 2 seeded American, who survived a bitter struggle in defeating Ray Ruffels, Australia's No. 2 player. Smith eliminated Ruffels 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 3-6, 12-10.

The women's singles semifinal field was completed. Defending champion Margaret Court of Australia defeated Joyce Williams of England 6-1, 6-1 and will meet countrywoman Kerry Melville, who ousted Christine Truman Janes 8-6, 7-5.

The other semifinal will send Mary Ann Curtis, the top-seeded American from St. Louis, against Virginia Wade, the U.S. Open champ from England. Both moved through the quarter-finals Wednesday.

Collegians, Wichita Meet In Key National Contest

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — The tournament lead is at stake tonight when hometown favorite Wichita, Kan., and the Boulder, Colo., Collegians clash in the National Baseball Congress Tournament.

A packed grandstand is predicted for the battle between the only unbeaten teams remaining in the tournament. Both clubs enter the contest with 4-0 records. The winner is assured of at least a tie for fourth place in the final standings.

Rounding out tonight's slate, the Liberal, Kan., Beejays meet the Grand Rapids, Mich., Sullivans at 5:30 p.m. (cdt) and at 10 p.m. (cdt), Garyville, La., battles Fort Dodge, Iowa. Both games are fifth round losers' bracket contests.

Lefthander Jim Crawford fired a one-hitter late Thursday night as the Anchorage, Alaska, Pilots shut out the Lubbock, Tex., Hubbers 6-0 in an eight inning game.

The victory advanced Anchorage into the fifth round with a 3-1 record while Lubbock was eliminated with a 2-2 mark.

Crawford, who was never in trouble, was spotted a two-run lead in the first inning on a pair of walks and an error. The Pilots added two more in the fourth on Jim Silvestrini's run-scoring double and Bud Cunningham's sacrifice fly.

Doug Rau allowed only five hits while striking out 19 advancing Wichita into tonight's game with a 2-0 victory over Grand Rapids earlier Thursday night.

Singles by Dave Elmendorf, Ed McLarty and Mike Swenton produced the Bobcats' first run in the fourth inning. Wichita plated an insurance run in the sixth without a hit as two Grand Rapids' outfielders dropped fly balls.

The Nassau, Bahamas, Islanders were eliminated from the tournament earlier Thursday night as Fairbanks, Alaska pounded out 14 hits and an 11-5 victory.

Home runs by Daryl Arenstein and Steve Patchin highlighted the attack as Fairbanks advanced into the sixth round with a 4-1 record.

Council Asks End to Unlimited Recruiting

By JANET STAIHAR

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has agreed to put before the membership convention proposals to make recruiting in high schools more difficult.

The 18-man council, meeting here this week, carries great weight at the convention, which convenes Jan. 12-14 in Washington, D.C.

An NCAA spokesman said the most dramatic proposed amendment would end unlimiated recruiting by an institution' athletic representative of a sought-after high school athlete.

It would impose a limit of two expense-paid visits of a student to an institution's campus for recreuiting purposes.

In turn, the institution's representatives would be cut down to two off-campus visits to a prospect and the prospect's family.

An NCAA spokesman said the proposals would change the basic nature of recruiting athletes by making it more difficult and at the same time would have the institutions money.

The proposals are designed to ease pressure on coaches who take to the road to recruit and on students who are wooed by colleges and universities.

Coaches would be prohibited from trying to recruit sophomores and juniors.

There has been criticism from many quarters that recruiting practices place an undue psychological burden on high school athletes.

Other proposals include:

—Requiring a prospect when visiting a campus to live and take meals on campus as regular students normally do.

—Prohibiting colleges from contacting a prospect at the actual scene of competition, such as a basketball game.

—Prohibiting both off-campus contacts and paid visits until the student has completed his junior high school or prep school.

—Prohibiting any publicity by an institution of the commitment by a prospective student-athlete to attend the insitution, or accept a financial aid tender.

Wyoming After Unprecedented Fourth Straight WAC Title

By JOHN D. THOMPSON

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI) — The eyes of the Western Athletic Conference will be turned on Wyoming as the 1969 Cowboys attempt to gain an unprecedented fourth straight conference championship.

Head coach Lloyd Eaton is optimistic that the Pokes, who are 16-1 in conference play for the past three years, can once again claim the title. He is not so optimistic, however, about the prospect for an undefeated season.

"The WAC is going to be considerably tougher this year, and I doubt if the champion can go unbeaten," Eaton said. "Arizona State, Arizona and Utah have the most lettermen back and should be the ones to beat."

The champion did not go unbeaten last year either. Wyoming claimed the title with a 6-1 record, after earning it the two previous years with 5-0 records each season.

In the process of capturing their third consecutive championship, the Cowboys finished first in the ronference record books in passing defense and total defense, second in rushing defense and rushing offense, third in total offense and sixth in passing offense.

Eaton will have 26 returning lettermen, 13 of them starters in 1968, when the Pokes meet the only team to beat them in conference play last year in the regionally-televised season opener against Arizona in Laramie Sept. 20.

For the first time since 1965, Wyoming will begin the season with an experienced quarterback. Ed Syndakowski shared starting duties last year with graduated Skip Jacobson, and Eaton said the 5-foot-11, 185-pound junior from Utica, N.Y., has "plenty of poise and savvy."

The Cowboys will again use the multiple defense pattern that placed Wyoming top nationally in total defense last year. In 1966 and 1967 the Cowboys were the nation's best in rushing defense. Eaton said the pattern starts froma basic 5-4-2 or "Oklahoma" and goes from there.

The Cowboys will also stick with the same brand of "flip-flop" multiple offense. The balanced line deployment features a split end and flanker. The formation can be flipped, keeping the players in their same relative positions.

For the second time in its football history, Wyoming will have tri-captains — defensive tackle Larry Nels, offensive buard Tommy Tucker and tailback Joe Williams.

The loss of 20 lettermen caused Eaton to show particular interest in spring drills. He especially needed to find offensive depth, replace three-fourths of the league's best secondary and uncover some capable receivers.

Offensive depth, especially mobile linemen, was found among a group of sophomores up from the sixth undefeated freshman team in the past 10 years. Eaton was also pleased with the quality apparent among rookie quarterbacks and running backs.

A combination of lettermen and sophomores emerged to bolster the secondary with speed, size and toughness. The only ingredient missing was experience.

A pair of two-year letterman, Bill Kyranakis and Larry Suganuma, finished the 20-day spring drill as the top receivers at split end and flanker. Eaton will be looking for back-up help from the sophomore and junior college ranks.

Eaton needs three wins, in this centennial year of collegiate foobtall, to set his personal 100 mark. His 15-year head coaching record stands at 97-40-5. He has a seven-year record of 50-20-2 at Wyoming.

"We hope some of the youngsters we'll have in key spots can come through and complement what we hope will be good seasons from our upperclassmen," Eaton said in summing up his outlook for the 1969 season.

"If we have good health and good luck, we'll be in the middle of things," he said.

Ben Vaughan Wins Two at Track Battle

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Ben Vaughan of Atlanta won the 100 meters and the 200 meters dashes in the rain Thursday night at an international track field meet at Bislet Stadium.

Vaughan won the 100 meters in 10.5 seconds and the 200 meters in 20.9.

John Cole, of Tempe, Ariz. also scored a double. He won the discus with a throw of 188 feet, 8.5 inches and the shot put with a toss of 59 feet, 2¼ inches.

Willie Davenport of Baton Rouge, La., won the 100 meters high hurdles in 13.7, Lee Evans, of San Jose, took the 400 meters in 46.6 and Juris Luzins, of Williamsbur, Va. the 800 meters in 1:47.8.

Other victories by a touring U.S. squad were posted by George Frenn, North Hollywood, Calif. in the hammer with a heave of 220 feet, 11 inches, Nick Lee of Baltimore in the 400-meter hurdles with a 51.8, John Pennell, Encino, Calif. in the pole vault at 15 feet, 1¼ inches and Henry Hines, Sacramento, Calif. in the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, 10½ inches.

Doris Brown of Seattle also scored a double in the women's competition. She set a stadium record of 4:26.8 in winning the 1,500 meters after taking the 800 meters in 2:05.4

Mamie Rallins of Chicago also set a women's stadium mark by taking the 100 meters hurdles in 13.5 as did Cathy Hammond, Sacramento, Calif. with a 53.5 in the 400 meters. Miss Hammond also doubled by winning the 200 meters in 24.2.

HUNTING and FISHING

by JOE NAVARRO

Preseason quality buck hunts, which begin Saturday, provide an excellent chance for hunters to bag the high-country trophy deer that are seldom seen during the regular season.

The opening gives father-son or father-daughter teams a chance to experience the thrill of the hunt and enjoy the outdoors before school starts.

As outlined in the 1969 big game map and regulations, there are seven areas open to quality buck hunts for this fall. Of these, only four areas require permits: Continental Divide between Tennessee Pas and Lake Pass and that part contiguous to the Divide along the Sawatch Range in Pitkin County; all above timberline and in game management units 44, 45 and 48 with 200 permits; Rawah Wilderness with 100 permits allotted, Sangre de Cristo Area with 200 permits and Mt. Zirkel Wilderness with 50 permits.

Permits for these areas have been allocated and no more are available. The season for these areas is from Aug. 23-Sept. 7. Hunters are permitted to take one deer, antlered only, four points or better on one side.

Other areas open to quality buck hunts without a special permit are: Maroon Bells-Snowmass Wilderness, where the season is from Aug. 23-Sept. 7 with a bag limit of one antlered deer, four points or better on one side; West Wlk Wildernese Area from Aug. 23-Aug. 27, with a bag limit of one antlered deer, two points or better on one side; La Garita Wildernesse Area, the Uncompahgre-San Juan-Upper Rio Grande Primitive Areas and a part of the Blanco Basin from Aug. 23-Sept. 7, where the bag limit is one antlered deer, two points or better on one side.

Hunters taking part in these seasons must have a regular deer license or sportsman's license. Hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

Any of these areas is an excellent place for a family hunt and also afords the hunter the opportunity to shoot blue grouse and ptarmigan. The daily bag limit on these high country game birds is 3 in the aggregate and a possession limit of 6 in the aggregate.

Banner Year

Colorado shotgunners will have to step lively in 1969 if they want to approach the fruitful results of the previous year.

According to a Game, Fish and Parks Division harvest survey for 1968, a record number of doves and blue grouse was bagged last year a year that saw a record number of hunters in the field in search of small game, upland game birds and waterfowl. Almost 135,000 persons went shotgun hunting last year in Colorado compared to about 99,000 for the previous year.

308,881 doves were taken compared to 210,000 taken in 1956 and 27,251 blue grouse were taken compared to the previous record of 26,581 taken in 1964.

The most popular game animal was the rabbit in 1968, when 345,669 were taken during the five month season, 326,481 of them cottontails.

Duck hunting success showed a rise last year with 168,522 ducks killed and an increase of about 12,000 over the previous year.

The best counties for duck hunting last year were Weld, Larimrer, and Morgan Counties on the East Slope and Delta and Mesa Counties on the West Slope.

U.S. Leads Canada in Stevens Cup

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States took a 2-0 lead over Canada Thursday in defense of the Stevens Cup, an international senior tennis event for players over 45.

Robert L. Galloway of La Jolla, Calif., and Richard Sorlein of King of Prussia, Pa., captured the opening singles matches and gave the U.S a chance to take the cup for the sixth straight time—each year since its inaugural in 1964—by winning Friday's doubles or one of Saturday's two concluding singles matches.

Galloway defeated Jacques Gugiere of Quebec City 6-4, 6-4 while Sorlein rallied to beat Henri Rochon of Montreal 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. Friday, Sorlein and Ellis Black of Pittsford, N.Y., the top-ranking American pair in seniors doubles, are expected to face Rochon and Brendan Macken of Montreal, The Canadian captain.

Almost 135,000 persons went shotgun hunting last year in Colorado compared to about 99,000 for the previous year.

308,881 doves were taken compared to 210,000 taken in 1956 and 27,251 blue grouse were taken compared to the previous record of 26,581 taken in 1964.

The most popular game animal was the rabbit in 1968, when 345,669 were taken during the five month season, 326,481 of them cottontails.

Duck hunting success showed a rise last year with 168,522 ducks killed and an increase of about 12,000 over the previous year.

The best counties for duck hunting last year were Weld, Larimrer, and Morgan Counties on the East Slope and Delta and Mesa Counties on the West Slope.

U.S. Leads Canada in Stevens Cup

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States took a 2-0 lead over Canada Thursday in defense of the Stevens Cup, an international senior tennis event for players over 45.

Robert L. Galloway of La Jolla, Calif., and Richard Sorlein of King of Prussia, Pa., captured the opening singles matches and gave the U.S a chance to take the cup for the sixth straight time—each year since its inaugural in 1964—by winning Friday's doubles or one of Saturday's two concluding singles matches.

Galloway defeated Jacques Gugiere of Quebec City 6-4, 6-4 while Sorlein rallied to beat Henri Rochon of Montreal 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. Friday, Sorlein and Ellis Black of Pittsford, N.Y., the top-ranking American pair in seniors doubles, are expected to face Rochon and Brendan Macken of Montreal, The Canadian captain.

ABWA Woman of Year Has Been Announced

"Woman of the Year" was the honor conferred on Mrs. Mae Burk by Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association at its dinner meeting held at the home of Mrs. Willie Krieg recently.

The award is made annually by each ABWA Chapter to one of its members. Primarily, the award is based on the progress the member has made in her chosen business field. The extent of her other interests such as community, educational, and character building activities also play a part in her selection. Mrs. Burk is active in the Court work field and is presently employed as Chief Deputy District Court Clerk of the Fourth Judicial District of Colorado.

As the candidate of Charter Chapter, Mrs. Burk is entered in the competition for the National Title, "American Business Woman of the Year." Announcement of the winner will be made at the National Convention of the Association, to be Oct. 17-19, in Detroit, Mich.

The American Business Women's Association was founded in Kansas City, Mo. in 1949. It has grown rapidly to over 800 chapters consisting of more than 48,000 members throughout the United States.

Primarily educational in nature, ABWA stresses the value of business women keeping up to date on business procedures and encourages women to seek additonal training which will qualify them for advancement. During the past year, chapters throughout the country expended over $200,000 in scholarships to women seeking training in a variety of occupations. Currently, Charter Chapter is sponsoring a scholarship for Susan Stahlacher who is a student at the Bethel School of Nursing.

Officers of Charter Chapter are Sara Keim, president; Irene Zerbe, vice president; Bertha Pullen, secretary; Willie Krieg, corresponding secretary and Mary Ann Keenan, treasurer.

Colonial Dames Busily Plan Summer Tea

Mrs. James C. Bowers, president of the Daughters of the American Colonists, has issued invitations to the membership to a Summer Tea to be in the garden at McAllister House Museum, 423 N. Cascade Ave. Saturday.

The tea will be preceeded by a Board meeting at 1 p.m. Members of the Colonial Dames, who own and maintain the Museum, will be in charge of the tea which is to be served at 3 p.m.

The preservation of landmarks of early times is one of the objectives of both organizations. McAllister House is one of the oldest houses in the City and one of the best built. Myron Stratton built the house with brick shipped from Philadelphia.

The Hotel de Paris in Georgetown is also owned and maintained by the Colonial Dames. It was a stage stop for travelers in the early days who were heading for Leadville and the gold mines beyond. A Frenchman, Louis Dupuy built the hotel and stocked it with good French wines and excellent food.

Maj. Henry McAllister, who built the red brick house at 423 N. Cascade Ave., had served under Gen. William J. Palmer, founder of Colorado Springs, throughout the Civil War. Palmer invited the McAllisters to join him in the West and to serve as secretary of the young colony.

McAllister House is named for the major's son, Henry, who became a famous lawyer and served as a Trustee of Colorado College and of El Pomar Foundation. McAllister House was purchased from Shepard's Citations by El Pomar Foundation and given to the National Society of Colonial Dames for preservation as a museum open to the public.

Mrs. Don Alexander Jr., Mrs. Marshall Geer, Mrs. J. Donald Haney Mrs. Polly Ruhtenberg and Mrs. George Thatcher serve as managers of the property, which boasts an Gift Shop and antique quilt display in adjacent buildings.

Pen Women Tea Will Hear Wanda Beal

Wanda Beal, State President of Colorado Pen Women of the National League, will be honored at a dessert tea at El Pomar Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Pikes Peak Branch of NLAPW is hostess for the occasion with its president, Irene Pompea.

Mrs. Beal is a well-known artist and writer and is a member of the local branch. This will be her official visit and she will speak on aspirations of Pen Women. An "official invitational" visit is required of the state president to each of the five branches of Colorado Pen Women, regardless of locale of her membership.

Pueblo Pen Women will be special guests. Members and guests are requested to make

Colorado City Rebekahs Planning Rummage Sale

The Colorado City Rebekahs will hold a rummage sale Saturday at 2228 W. Pikes Peak Ave. The public is invited to come from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

SATURDAY

Powder Puff Pilots, 10:30 a.m., Antlers Plaza.

An automatic two-slice toaster features an element that keeps toast warm at any desired degree of doneness indefinitely, the manufacturer reports. The same manufacturer also is introducing nine new electric blenders, all with cord storage areas in the bases. Also new from this maker: a multi-purpose appliance with a 370-watt power unit to be used with a meat grinder attachment, a sausage stuffer, an ice crusher, a salad maker and carrot and celery slice, a can opener and a knife sharpener.

Betty Canary

My husband came into the kitchen and shakily poured a cup of coffee. "I don't know how to say this," he said, "but there's a girl sleeping in our son's bed."

"That's Debbie," I said. "She's a helper at the Head Start kindergarten and I'd better awaken her or she'll be late."

Canary

He said something dramatic about How Can You Be Calm At a Time Like This? and I realized the man was terribly out of touch with summertime living. He apparently believes that children go home to be tucked into their own little cots each night. I tried to explain.

"Debbie is a friend of our daughter, Cissy, and Debbie is sleeping in Stu's bed and Cissy is sleeping in Tad's bed because Stu is staying all night with Buddy."

He seemed confused. "Why doesn't Cissy have her friend sleep in the extra bed in her room?"

"Because," I said patiently, "that's where Debbie's cousins are sleeping."

"Cousins?"

"They're from Chicago," I explained.

"More coffee," he said. "And then tell me why Debbie's cousins aren't sleeping at Debbie's house."

"Obviously, because there wasn't enough room! Our Babs and her friend Michele are staying all night with Jackie — that's Debbie's sister."

He had a doughnut and dropped the subject until Mark appeared and politely asked if he would come upstairs and unzip Billy's sleeping bag.

"I've never seen you before in my life," he shouted. "Who's Billy?" he yelled at me.

"It's very simple," I said. "Debbie's cousins came from Chicago and Jackie already had Babs and Michele over, so the three girls came over here, right?"

"I understand that," he agreed.

"Well, then what was Tad going to do?"

"Who's Tad?"

"Your youngest son," I reminded him.

"Oh. Well. . ." He hesitated.

"What is it?" I asked.

"Where is he? My youngest son?"

"Can't you understand anything?" I shouted. "Tad is in Rick's room sleeping in HIS bed and Billy brought his own sleeping bag and Mark is sleeping in Rick's sleeping bag. Tad was up in Rick's room all alone so I let him invite his friends over. It was warm, so Rick didn't mind giving up his sleeping bag and using the air mattress."

"I don't think I'm going to ask where Rick is sleeping on the air mattress," he said.

"It's just as well," I said, pouring him a third cup of coffee. And, I carefully pulled closed the kitchen curtains. I didn't think he was ready for the tent with Rick and the three other boys in the back yard.

Laura Jean and Ed Gordy of Palm Beach, Fla., are a most successful teaching partnership. Ed's letter, which we are quoting in part, shows one reason for their success. He writes: "Laura Jean says this hand is too difficult for your coluhn. I say it is too easy, but the evidence seems to back up Laura Jean. We have tried the hand out on quite a few players. Some have made it, some have gone down but no one has played it correctly."

The reason they are successful is that they can disagree with each other without getting upset. Furthermore, they both are wrong about this hand. It is ideal for teaching and ideal for our column.

It illustrates the principle of play that when you have two chances to make a contract, you give yourself both of them.

South had these two chances: one in hearts and one in clubs. He draws trumps and should then lead a heart toward dummy's queen. It loses to East's king and he probably returns a heart. South takes his ace and tries his second chance: the club finesse. It works and he discards his last heart on the ace of clubs.

He did risk a two-trick set, but when you are playing a slam you should go all out for your contract.

Perhaps the hand is not ideal for teaching purposes. There are two incorrect lines of play. Each puts all declarer's eggs in one basket.

If he attacks hearts by playing ace and another, he goes down since East will promptly take two heart tricks.

If he attacks clubs first by playing his king and then finessing dummy's jack, he makes his contract but has still played the hand poorly.

"More coffee," he said. "And then tell me why Debbie's cousins aren't sleeping at Debbie's house."

"Obviously, because there wasn't enough room! Our Babs and her friend Michele are staying all night with Jackie — that's Debbie's sister."

He had a doughnut and dropped the subject until Mark appeared and politely asked if he would come upstairs and unzip Billy's sleeping bag.

"I've never seen you before in my life," he shouted. "Who's Billy?" he yelled at me.

"It's very simple," I said. "Debbie's cousins came from Chicago and Jackie already had Babs and Michele over, so the three girls came over here, right?"

"I understand that," he agreed.

"Well, then what was Tad going to do?"

"Who's Tad?"

"Your youngest son," I reminded him.

"Oh. Well. . ." He hesitated.

"What is it?" I asked.

"Where is he? My youngest son?"

"Can't you understand anything?" I shouted. "Tad is in Rick's room sleeping in HIS bed and Billy brought his own sleeping bag and Mark is sleeping in Rick's sleeping bag. Tad was up in Rick's room all alone so I let him invite his friends over. It was warm, so Rick didn't mind giving up his sleeping bag and using the air mattress."

"I don't think I'm going to ask where Rick is sleeping on the air mattress," he said.

"It's just as well," I said, pouring him a third cup of coffee. And, I carefully pulled closed the kitchen curtains. I didn't think he was ready for the tent with Rick and the three other boys in the back yard.

Laura Jean and Ed Gordy of Palm Beach, Fla., are a most successful teaching partnership. Ed's letter, which we are quoting in part, shows one reason for their success. He writes: "Laura Jean says this hand is too difficult for your coluhn. I say it is too easy, but the evidence seems to back up Laura Jean. We have tried the hand out on quite a few players. Some have made it, some have gone down but no one has played it correctly."

The reason they are successful is that they can disagree with each other without getting upset. Furthermore, they both are wrong about this hand. It is ideal for teaching and ideal for our column.

It illustrates the principle of play that when you have two chances to make a contract, you give yourself both of them.

South had these two chances: one in hearts and one in clubs. He draws trumps and should then lead a heart toward dummy's queen. It loses to East's king and he probably returns a heart. South takes his ace and tries his second chance: the club finesse. It works and he discards his last heart on the ace of clubs.

He did risk a two-trick set, but when you are playing a slam you should go all out for your contract.

Perhaps the hand is not ideal for teaching purposes. There are two incorrect lines of play. Each puts all declarer's eggs in one basket.

If he attacks hearts by playing ace and another, he goes down since East will promptly take two heart tricks.

If he attacks clubs first by playing his king and then finessing dummy's jack, he makes his contract but has still played the hand poorly.

Seabolt-Myers Vows Said in Afternoon Rites

Miss Glenda Darlene Myers and Gary Lane Seabolt became man and wife June 7 in a 1 p.m. ceremony in the Lumberg Methodist Chapel. Dr. LeRoy Arend officiated.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Myers, Cheyenne Mountain Zoo, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Seabolt, 1012 Park View.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of valenciennes lace with fitted bodice and long sleeves and skirt. A train hung from the shoulders of the gown and her fingertip veil fell from a crystal crown. She carried white and yellow mums.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Lucy Wiley who was gowned in floor length yellow taffeta with chiffon overlay. She carried white and yellow mums.

Miss Jan Florie attended the bride as maid of honor and Miss Shirley Myers was flower girl. Both were attired in yellow gowns.

Serving as best man was John Ehmke. Ushers were Freddie Myers and Richard Seabolt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Myers chose a beige dress with yellow accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a two-piece apricot suit with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Cheyenne Mountain High School. Her husband is also a graduate of Cheyenne Mountain High School and is attending Southern College.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands (UPI) — Mangos, papayas, guavas and other fresh tropical fruit, highly prized as specialty foods in the continental United States often are bypassed here by younger people in favor of canned fruit and juices.

"It's easy to buy (imported) canned pear, peach and apple juice in local markets," said Julia Wallace, director of nutrition services for the V.I. Department of Health.

Mrs. Wallace added: "Many of our young people have never seen a guava. And many younger women cook American (mainland) food."

The interview with her was during a visit to the U.S. Virgin Islands as a guest of the island government.

Ironically, some of the tropical fruit they can pick wild has nutritional advantages not found in canned, imported temperate zone fruit.

Papaya is rich in Vitamins A and C, a natural meat tenderizer and delicious plain or as a cooking ingredient.

"The acerola, or West Indian cherry, is the richest known source of Vitamin C," said Mrs. Wallace. "Just three cherries provide an entire day's supply."

She added that acerolas grow plentifully in nearby Puerto Rico and to a lesser extent in the Virgin Islands.

Her department and the Women's League of St. Thomas are trying to increase the availability and use of local fresh fruit, and to keep alive the food traditions of the island territory.

A food display by the nutrition services on June 24 led off a summer program that will include a series of articles in a local paper on island cookery. The features will contain recipes, history of the foods and nutritional information. The recipes come from the extension service of the College of the Virgin Islands, in St. Thomas.

So many fruit trees have been cut down in clearing land for new buildings that the league collects seeds and grows seedlings to give away. Youngsters are encouraged to plant mango, sugar, apple, custard apple and acerola trees. New home owners are offered seeds and-or seedlings free.

Meantime, the league, which is a charitable and civic organization founded in 1946, has launched a dual -purpose summer program of weekly food sales.

TV Wardrobe Designer Reveals Her Ideas

Many of today's housewives operating on an average budget could be better dressed if they wouldn't buy so many clothes, says Oscar Award-winning designer Helen Rose, who is fashioning Debbie Reynolds' entire wardrobe for NBC Television Network's new "The Debbie Reynolds Show."

"Most women overbuy," Mrs. Rose contends. "They buy quantity instead of quality. Then they look at their closet, which is full of clothes, and sigh, 'I don't have anything to wear'." She suggests buying complete, fully-coordinated outfits: "Then they'll be worn, and not just hang in the closet simply because something to match is lacking."

Mrs. Rose also feels that the smart woman will permit the man in her life to decide what looks best on her. "Women won't give their honest opinion," she says. "They'll either be catty or they won't want to hurt a friend's feelings. Men have an inbred intutitive sense of what's right or wrong."

Since Debbie Reynolds will portray a sportwriter's wife in her first television series, Mrs. Rose says she'll have to use restraint in preparing the wardrobe. "Debbie's clothes will be believable, but imaginative," says the famous designer.

Viewers, however, will have an opportunity to see some of Mrs. Rose's more ambitious efforts when Debbie takes a bow as herself each Tuesday evening. "Then you'll see her in very high fashion," the designer promises.

Mrs. Rose has designed women's wardrobes for some of Hollywood's most highly-acclaimed films, and has worked with the industry's top stars. Her long-time admiration for Debbie Reynolds prompted her agreement to do the show. "Debbie's figure is great and she just looks marvelous," she says. "She's a size six, and clothes can do marvelous things for her."

What is distinctive about a Helen Rose design? "I don't make a woman look like a man," says Mrs. Rose. "You always know there's a woman inside a Helen Rose dress." It's a constant fight to maintain that characteristic, according to the designer, because "today it's supposed to be chic to look sloppy and dirty."

Mrs. Rose sees nothing wrong with the present trend of dressing young, but she feels there are limits of good taste. "The 40 to 50-year-old women who are wearing skirts eight inches above their knees look like a bunch of toads to me," she states "They should realize that maturity is also beautiful in a woman."

Mrs. Rose would some day like to do a television program on fashion. "So many women could be well dressed without spending a lot, if they'd only take the time, and had the desire to be an individual," she sighs.

THE LITTLE COAT — A brown double - buttoned coat with lots of shaping has a regency collar and slanted patch pockets.

Zirnitis-Pakalns Vows Said at Washington

White flowers decorated the altar and lined the aisle for the double-ring ceremony in which Viola Marianna Pakalns became the bride of Aldis Zirnitis recently in Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Longview, Wash. The Rev. Janis Cilnis officiated at the evening rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verners Pakalns of Longview, Wash. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds Zirnitis of 913 N. El Paso St.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a lace empire bodice, a bateau neckline, and a Watteau chapel-length train. White roses, daisies, stephanotis, and babies breath formed her bridal bouquet and she wore a chapel-length illusion veil.

Miss Karen Lund of Seattle was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Vija Pakalns of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Peter Young of Seattle, Mrs. Scott Bentley of San Francisco, Calif., sisters of the bride, and Miss Anda Zirnities of Colorado Springs, sister of the bridegroom.

They all wore floor-length pink chiffon gowns and carried nosegay bouquets of white daisies and blue cornflowers. Crowns of daisies and blue cornflowers adorned their hair.

Elita Hill of Eugene, Ore., goddaughter of the bride, was flower girl.

Electronics Center Is Approved

The Colorado Electronics Training Center, Manitou Springs, has received state approval to grant associate degrees in electronic technology. One University, Northern Indiana, has already accepted the curriculum and plans to grant full credit for work accomplished.

The award of an associates degree gives the Manitou school the equivalent status of a junior college in its particular field. Agreements with other colleges and universities for acceptance of the degree is being sought at present.

The center is researching and gathering data for a prospective course in biomedical electronic equipment technology. A recent survey concluded that 10,000 such technicians are needed now to operate the sophisticated hospital equipment.

The school plans to offer the course as soon as it is state approved. The proposed course would take 18 months to complete.

Firemen Attend Command School

Roger Clausen, Don Dorr, Floyd Hall, and Bill Caille, members of the Ivywild-Cheyenne Canon Fire Department, recently attended the fifth annual Fire Command Officer School at Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

Featured instructors were Don Favreau, International Fire Administration Center, State University of New York, Albany; A. R. Granito, supervisor of fire training of the State of New York; John De Jong, former assistant chief of Denver; Myrle Wise, chief of fire prevention, Denver; and A. A. Pisciotta, conducting the school with the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

Gift Pac Day to Be Observed Here Sunday

Sunday is Vietnam Gift Pac Day in Colorado Springs, so designated by Mayor T. Eugene McCleary.

The day was designated "in order that packages of needed personal items and treats can be sent to members of field forces to serve as a personal expression of care and appreciation from folks at home.

The drive locally will reach its peak when listeners to Radio Station KSSS will be asked from noon to 6 p.m. to phone in pledges to donate Vietnam gift Pacs.

Prime movers behind the project locally are members of VFW Ladies Auxiliaries to Posts 4051 and 101.

The gift pacs cost $6 each and are filled with 28 personal items and treats that would cost about $9 retail.

The pacs will be sent to named or unnamed servicemen with the name and address of each donor inserted in the pac. Those sent to unnamed servicemen are tax deductible. The pacs will be shipped by air mail to commanding officers or chaplains of combat units, or directly to named recipients.

The 28 items in the pac include a writing tablet, self-seal envelopes, pen, razor blades, instant drinks to flavor foul tasting water, playing cards, toothbrush and toothpaste, lighter flints, gun cleaner and rust inhibitor, paint brush, pipe cleaners, one half ounce serving of catsup and other items.

To a war weary GI plagued by jungle sores, foot fungus and foul-tasting water, items like first aid cream, medicated powder and instant lemonade are dearer than gold, some of the servicemen have said who have already received one of the gifts. The program started two years ago in San Diego and is now nationwide.

The forward area troops in Vietnam seldom have access to a PX, so a gift pac is of immense value both materially and psychologically.

The gift pac program won't change the course of the war but it will make the war a little easier for the men fighting it — and that is what the gift pac project is all about, the mayor said.

The mayor said he hoped citizens of the community would wholeheartedly support the program. The program will be explained more fully over KSSS from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Boys Club Members Are at Ft. Carson

Thirty-three Boys Club members from Omaha, Neb. and Detroit, Mich. are guests this week of the 43rd General Support Group at Ft. Carson. Liaison officer for the boys is Lt. James Angell of 43rd headquarters.

The visitors were scheduled to ride an M-88 tank retriever, observe signal equipment in use, watch a Vulcan antiaircraft artillery demonstration, and take two days of mountaineering training in North Cheyenne Canon.

They were also taken on tours of the area's scenic attractions a well as a visit to the Air Force Academy.

SEC Charges Mail Fraud In Denver

DENVER (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit in federal court Wednesday against the American Commercial Trade Organization and three individuals, charging mail fraud in the sale of stock.

The suit asked an injunction preventing the firm from selling securities until and unless a registration statement has been filed with the SEC, and also to prevent use of the mails to obtain money or property via untrue statements.

Two residents of the Republic of Honduras and Arthur R. Wolter Jr., Silver Springs, Md., were also named as defendants. The complaint charged they made false claims about a timber concession while doing business in Colorado and other states.

Electronics Center Is Approved

The Colorado Electronics Training Center, Manitou Springs, has received state approval to grant associate degrees in electronic technology. One University, Northern Indiana, has already accepted the curriculum and plans to grant full credit for work accomplished.

The award of an associates degree gives the Manitou school the equivalent status of a junior college in its particular field. Agreements with other colleges and universities for acceptance of the degree is being sought at present.

The center is researching and gathering data for a prospective course in biomedical electronic equipment technology. A recent survey concluded that 10,000 such technicians are needed now to operate the sophisticated hospital equipment.

The school plans to offer the course as soon as it is state approved. The proposed course would take 18 months to complete.

Firemen Attend Command School

Roger Clausen, Don Dorr, Floyd Hall, and Bill Caille, members of the Ivywild-Cheyenne Canon Fire Department, recently attended the fifth annual Fire Command Officer School at Colorado State University in Fort Collins.

Featured instructors were Don Favreau, International Fire Administration Center, State University of New York, Albany; A. R. Granito, supervisor of fire training of the State of New York; John De Jong, former assistant chief of Denver; Myrle Wise, chief of fire prevention, Denver; and A. A. Pisciotta, conducting the school with the state board for community colleges and occupational education.

HOW TO BE PERSUASIVE

GARDEN FARM & RANCH

BY WOODROW PALMER

State Fair to Boast Varied Entertainment

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, The Monkees, and the Folkloric Ballet of Mexico City will be the main entertainment course to be served at the 1969 Colorado State Fair Aug. 23-Sept. 1. Other servings on the fair menu will be daily pari-mutuel horse races, a wild animal show giving four free daily performances, specialty acts in the bandshell, and an Oglala Sioux Indian village.

Roy and Dale, along with the Sons of the Pioneers, will appear with the RCA championship rodeo the first five nights Monkees will be swinging in the grandstand for a two-hour musical show Aug. 28-29. The fantastic Folkloric dancers will give three performances for Fiesta, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. Tickets for all these performances are available at the fairgrounds office.

Thoroughbreds, Quarter horses, Appaloosas and Paints will be racing every afternoon (including Sundays) at 1:30 for an estimated $85,000 in stakes and purse money. Ten races a day will be run. Other horses can be seen in the horse show arena where All American Horse Show events take place day and night throughout the ten-day fair.

Gene Holter's Wild Animal show, located in a new arena behind the 4-H dormitories, will put ostriches, camels, tigers and elephants through their paces, as well as other assorted jungle and domestic birds and beasts. Holter will also display a Pet Zoo in a mini big top.

The Sioux at the fair's Indian Village will dance for fairgoers every two hours beginning at noon each day. They'll be joined on Aug. 23 and 24 by members of the White Buffalo Council for a dancing contest. On the 24th Miss First American will be chosen as the climax of an Indian beauty pageant.

Frazier's World Fair Shows will bring to the midway the Himalaya, Sky Diver and other spectacular new rides for high fliers.

The fair's stock show offers over $265,000 in premiums, with public judging events continuing night and day. The junior livestock sale is slated for Aug. 27 at 8 p m. Other popular exhibits will be the Parade of Progress, showing industrial and scentific marvels; the Trade Arcade in the Agricultural Palace, and the art show in the Domestic Arts building.

SIOUX IN REGALIA — The Sioux Indians will demonstrate many skills and perform daily with dances of ancient heritage during the state fair in Pueblo Aug. 23 through Sept. 1. The Indian Village encampment is open to the public.

Tribal Sioux To Perform at Indian Village

'Miss First America" will be chosen Aug. 24 in a beauty pageant, one of several special events taking place at the 1969 Colorado state fair's Indian Village. Thirty Oglala Sioux from the Pine Ridge Reservation, South Dakota, will pitch their tepees on the fairgrounds for the ten-day fair.

The Sioux are Plains Indians whose original winter encampments included the site of present-day Denver, and who may have ranged as far south as Pueblo. Said to be the best costumed dancers in the United States, they will perform for fairgoers every two hours, beginning at noon each day. They are known for their beadwork and pipes, which will be offered for sale at the fair.

"Miss First American" will be chosen from the young Indian maidens at the fair on the basis of personality and fidelity to Indian tradition. The judges will be elderly Indian women, who are highly respected in the Indian culture.

For two days, Aug. 23-24, the Sioux will be joined by members of the White Buffalo Council, an intertribal organization representing over 46 tribes. The White Buffalo Council Indians will participate in dancing contests at the fairgrounds.

Four judges, who are forbidden to converse among themselves, will eliminate dancers for the two days until only the best remain. Winners will be chosen for best Indian dancer best costume, best child dancer, best cloth dancer, best buckskin dancer, fancy dancer, etc.

Special dances which the Sioux will present in the Indian Village, bandshell, and at grandstand events will be the Grass Dance, a hunting or battle dance for warriors; the Scout Dance, in which each warrior mimics an animal prey, such as buffalo; and the old time Kettle Dance, seldom seen now, which is performed while food is being prepared. They will be accompanied by drums and singers. The men will wear ceremonial war bonnets, and the women, beaded buckskin dresses.

Beef Entries For Fair Show Break Record

Entries for the Colorado state fair beef show have broken last year's record, according to Don Svedman, fair manager.

"We have nearly 800 entries," Svedman said, "including 250 open class Herefords and 107 junior entries. Our Hereford Show has been classified by the American Hereford Assn., for a Register of Merit rating and this is helping top national records for show size. Hereford entries are 10 per cent above last year."

The Angus Show is triple 'A' rated and the Shorthorn Show, "The Gem of the Rockies," is the official Colorado show of the Western Shorthorn. About 150 Angus and a like number of Shorthorn entries have been received. The Charolais Show has drawn just over 100 entries for open and cross categories.

Beef judging begins Aug. 21 in the fair's livestock pavilion with the junior breeding Angus class at 8 a.m. Breeding Hereford heifers will be judged beginning at 1 p.m. Hereford bulls will face Register of Merit judging Aug. 25 beginning at 9 a.m.

All classes, including 4-H and FFA stock, will be judged by the end of Aug. 26, so that the departing beef animals will make stall space available for dairy classes scheduled to arrive Aug. 27. Dairy class judging opens with the junior dairy class on Aug. 28.

The growth of the Livestock Show, leaves insufficient space to have both beef and dairy animals at the same time. But, cramped or not, a record breaking show of outstanding livestock from the western United States is expected.

Gazette Telegraph Missing? Dial 632-4641 before 8 p.m. weekdays, 2 p.m. week-ends.

Ft. Carson to Hold Weekend Valley Days

A parade, gymkhana and western music are on tap during Peak Valley Days this weekend, sponsored by Ft. Carson's Peak Service Club.

The festivities will kick off with a parade, beginning at the parking lot north of the special services office, Bldg. 1640, and proceeding to the corner of Barkley and Titus St., where the gymkhana is to be held on grounds behind the Post Exchange, Bldg. 2652. Starting time will be 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Featured in the parade will be Fern Tresvan, current Miss Colorado Springs; the 5th Division Band; Boy Scout Troop of Ft. Carson; floats from ARADCOM, Ft. Carson, the Free Press and Sinton Dairy Co.; Comanche, mascot of 1st Battalion, 10th Infantry, and local riding clubs.

Horses for the gymkhana will be provided by the Red Diamond Brand Ranch. All military personnel and dependents in the Pikes Peak region are invited to participate.

"Rodeo" events will include barrel racing, saddle -a -horse race, raw -egg -in -spoon race, roping, ride -a -scoop -shovel race, flag race, and catch the greased pig.

Miss Colorado Springs will present awards to the winning contestants. The Post Exchange will sell refreshments.

Sunday, activities will begin with a variety show by the Skyline Entertainers, featuring a western group, the Flying A's, at 5 p.m.

After the show, the chuckwagon will provide grub for all the cowgirls and cowboys at 6:30. At 7, the Shavano Indian Dancers from Explorer Post 2065, Salida, will give a demonstration, which will be followed by a show and quick -draw contest by gunfighters from the El Paso Quick Draw Club.

Then a "visiting medicine man" passing through "them thar hills" will present a show featuring a Gay Paree can-can line. This is scheduled for 8:15.

Peak Valley Days will be climaxed with all the cowpokes swinging their partners in an old-time square dance, to the calling of Sgt. William B. Kirkpatrick of Ft. Carson's Recondo School.

All Sunday's activities will be in front of the Peak Service Club, Bldg. 2349, in the street.

WHEAT

Winter wheat harvest was finished on the eastern slope during the week. Most of the acreage in the southwest has been combined but harvest has been slowed by showers.

About three-fourths of the acreage in the northwest remain to be cut. Wheat harvest in the northwest is running over a week ahead of last year's schedule. Some of the 1970 wheat crop was seeded during the week in the southeast.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF COWBOYS—Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, will open the Colorado State Fair in five performances with the Rodeo Aug. 23 through Aug. 27. Appearing with them will be Pat Brady and the Sons of the Pioneers.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans to Head Up Rodeo

The greatest pair of entertainers in show business history, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, will appear with the rodeo at the Colorado state fair Aug. 23-27, the first five days of the 1969 fair.

Holders of more box office records in rodeo and state fair appearances than any other team in the entertainment industry, Roy and Dale recently drew the largest crowd ever to see an indoor rodeo at the Houston Astrodome. Roy, voted into Madison Square Garden's Hall of Fame, set an all-time one day record there, bringing $119,000 through the box office.

Roy has starred in 90 feature motion pictures, many of them with Dale as his co-star, and was rated the number one Western star for 12 consecutive years. His pictures are still playing all over the world. Roy and Dale have also starred in radio and television shows on three networks and are currently preparing a new country and western variety series for early television release.

Dale Evans has written eight books and is currently preparing a ninth, royalties for which are contributed to the Rogers' favorite charities. The Rogers family is well known for its adoption of orphans, and for its more than 5,000 appearances for charity. Roy and Dale have raised a family of nine children, but only one, an adopted American Indian girl, remains at home. They have over a dozen grandchildren. Dale was named "California Mother of the Year" in 1967.

Appearing with Roy and Dale will be the world famous Sons of the Pioneers. This quintet, famous for its recordings of "Cool Water" and "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" has done more than any other musical organization to preserve the classic songs of the old West.

The state fair rodeo will again be produced by Harry Knight and will feature professional R.C.A. cowboys competing in calf roping, steer wrestling, bull riding, and saddle and bareback bronc riding. There will also be women's barrel racing. Good seats in all price ranges are still available and may be reserved by contacting the State Fair office in Pueblo.

Other grandstand attractions will be the Monkees Aug. 28-29 and the National Folklorico Balet of Mexico City Aug. 30-Sept. 1.

LETTUCE

Colorado's lettuce crop is expected to total 924,000 cwt., virtually the same as in 1968. Acreage for harvest at 4,400 was 14 per cent less than in 1968, but yields are expected to average 210 cwt. per acre compared with 180 cwt. in 1968.

In the San Luis Valley, general condition of the crop is very good. Early harvest has been of good quality. Hail damage to date has been localized. In the Arkansas Valley heavy rains have resulted in considerable replanting of the early fall lettuce crop in the Rocky Ford area.

For Want Ads Dial — 632-4641.

CORN

Corn condition remained good. Development is still running up to two wekks late in some areas with the dryland crop needing additional moisture. Nine-tenths of the state's acreage had tasseled by the weekend.

Small Boat Gets Passage

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A two-foot plastic boat cast into the Mississippi River by a Trempealeau, Wis., grade school class is to resume its journey to the Gulf of Mexico, thanks to a St. Louis quarry owner.

The vessel, launched April 1 by a fourth grade class, was found over the weekend by Gene Bussen.

Inside the boat Bussen found a bottle containing pictures of school children and letters describing the purpose of the voyage.

Also enclosed was a request that the finder write a note to the fourth graders and send the vessel on its way.

Bussen, whose sister wrote a note to the children and enclosed a St. Christopher medal in the bottle, said he'll set the vessel in midstream today.

Allott Criticizes Fellow Solons

DENVER (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., criticized his colleagues in Congress harder to adjourn by Labor Day.

"By continuing year-round sessions, we're destroying the right of the people in a state or district to have access to their congressmen or senators," he told a service club.

He predicted that Congress, now in recess until Sept. 3, will continue meeting until Christmas.

Allott said "hundreds of millions" of dollars in appropriations are lost by stalling. "If an agency or branch of government doesn't get its appropriations passed until Dec. 1, "he said, "It's lost all opportunity for intelligent planning."

School Work Projects on Harrison Agenda

School construction priorities and building site projections were discussed at length by the Harrison School District board Thursday.

Members were in agreement that District two's most pressing need is for a new junior high school. A second Harrison junior high school has been proposed for an area west of Academy Boulevard, in a section of Pikes Peak Park, presently unplatted, but slated for future residential development.

The school, according to present preliminary plans, would be constructed at the intersection of Chelton Road and Carmel Drive after the two streets were extended beyond the point where they now dead-end.

The district is awaiting completion of Monterey Elementary School at 2311 Monterey Blvd. also in Pikes Peak Park. The new school was originally scheduled for occupancy by Labor Day, however, a plumbers strike has delayed progress on the nearly completed elementary school. District officials set the cost of the building at $357,000 and estimate that 86 per cent of the construction work has been completed.

Other building priorities include development of phase II of Monterey Elementary School. The second phase of the project entails adding a multi-purpose lunch room, storage area and kindergarten classroom to the unit. The second phase is expected to cost an additional $300,000.

Also placed before the board for priority consideration was the remodelling of Gorman Jr. High School, an addition to Harrison High School and a football stadium facility for the high school.

School Superintendent Wayne Bricker suggested that the proposed junior high school could be erected on a lease - purchase plan. The plan was used by the Aurora school district several years ago when Aurora Hinkly High School was built.

In other school board action the board accepted the Sinton Dairy's milk bid at six cents per half pint. Other bidders included Meadow Gold Dairy and Borden Dairy.

The district also disposed of surplus property which included a 1961 Ford sedan and a metal lathe.

Two Burglary Charges Filed

Two charges of burglary and theft were filed against Jack Charles Pattillo in district court Thursday.

Pattillo, 29, 710½ N. Weber St. is alleged to have broken into the home of Victor E. Chaney, 2348 E. Boulder St. Aug. 11 and stolen currency and other items.

The second says he burglarized the residence of Clifford Thomas Henderson, at 710½ N. Weber St. Aug. 12 when he took a wristwatch and other belongings.

Terrance Dale Whansen also known as Mark Anthony Rickels, March A. Nickels and Terry D. Hansen, 24, 3204 E. Platte Ave. was charged with burglary and theft.

According to the information he broke into the apartment of Gary G. Kummer, 917 E. La Salle St., Aug. 11 and stole a television set, rifle and other items.

Vandals Cause $250 Damage to New Home

Vandals caused $250 damage to a home under construction at 4710 Bella Drive and stole $15.45 worth of construction material, according to police.

The home is being built by Scurr, Messenger and Associates. The thieves stole two flue sections, 25 cinder blocks and two 50-pound sacks of cement.

They spread paint on a newly laid fireplace which will have to be removed and replaced as the type of brick used will not permit sandblasting.

Also damaged Wednesday, according to a police report, was the Andrew Jackson Elementary School, 4340 Edwinstowe Drive.

Vandals caused about $200 damage to the doors, windows and the brick siding.

SHOOT FARMERS

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist Chinese police shot to death four farmers who tried to swim to Hong Kong using basketballs as floats, the Sing Pao Daily News said today. Only an 18-year-old youth who accompanied the farmers escaped the gunfire and swam to freedom, the newspaper said.

Small Boat Gets Passage

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A two-foot plastic boat cast into the Mississippi River by a Trempealeau, Wis., grade school class is to resume its journey to the Gulf of Mexico, thanks to a St. Louis quarry owner.

The vessel, launched April 1 by a fourth grade class, was found over the weekend by Gene Bussen.

Inside the boat Bussen found a bottle containing pictures of school children and letters describing the purpose of the voyage.

Also enclosed was a request that the finder write a note to the fourth graders and send the vessel on its way.

Bussen, whose sister wrote a note to the children and enclosed a St. Christopher medal in the bottle, said he'll set the vessel in midstream today.

Unfortunately, during our remodeling sale we had some mishaps that demand a reduction in the prices of some of our pianos and organs. We must offer these pieces that were slightly damaged from a $200.00 savings to a low $195.00. We at Music Center wish to take this opportunity to apologize for any inconvenience that our remodeling has been to you. In the future we shall continue to serve you as before, promptly, courteously, and dependably. Again, we at Music Center invite you to come in and see us during our remodeling sale, and save on our misfortune. Music Center at 10 East Colorado 635-1503.

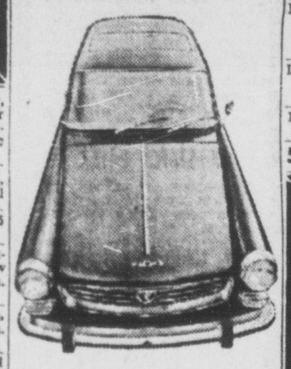
Peace of mind is standard equipment.



We don't care how much (or how little) you spend for a car. You'll never have any more Peace-Of-Mind driving comfort than a Peugeot owner.

The fantastic Peugeot story is: get in, turn the ignition and go. Be it winter, summer, below zero or in the tropical heat.

And for Peace-Of-Mind economy, you'll enjoy driving your Peugeot many years after the last car payment.

Few cars made anywhere in the world will outlast it.

USED CARS
All Volkswagen used cars aren't used Volkswagens.

We carry big cars too. Like Fords, Oldsmobiles, and even Cad-Cadillacs.

And our 100% guarantee to replace or repair all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles, whichever comes first, is for them too.

Most big cars only have a 50/50 guarantee. But we figure if a big car's tough enough to pass the VW 16-point inspection, it deserves our 100% guarantee.

Not all cars come up to VW's standards. But these big cars did.

Don't take a chance on a used VW

Look for the "Guaranteed 100%" sign in the window.

Which means we've given the VW our 16-point Safety and Performance inspection. We've fixed anything that needed fixing. And now we guarantee 100% the free repair or replacement of all major working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.

We make sure our used VWs are good. We don't want to take a chance either.

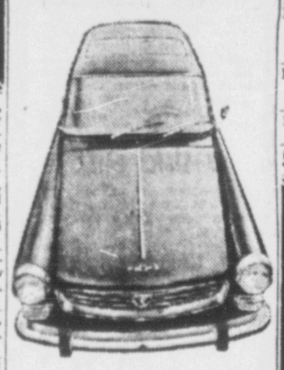
Peace of mind is standard equipment.



We don't care how much (or how little) you spend for a car. You'll never have any more Peace-Of-Mind driving comfort than a Peugeot owner.

The fantastic Peugeot story is: get in, turn the ignition and go. Be it winter, summer, below zero or in the tropical heat.

And for Peace-Of-Mind economy, you'll enjoy driving your Peugeot many years after the last car payment.

Few cars made anywhere in the world will outlast it.

USED CARS

All Volkswagen used cars aren't used Volkswagens.

We carry big cars too. Like Fords, Oldsmobiles, and even Cad-Cadillacs.

And our 100% guarantee to replace or repair all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles, whichever comes first, is for them too.

Most big cars only have a 50/50 guarantee. But we figure if a big car's tough enough to pass the VW 16-point inspection, it deserves our 100% guarantee.

Not all cars come up to VW's standards. But these big cars did.

Don't take a chance on a used VW

Look for the "Guaranteed 100%" sign in the window.

Which means we've given the VW our 16-point Safety and Performance inspection. We've fixed anything that needed fixing. And now we guarantee 100% the free repair or replacement of all major working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.

We make sure our used VWs are good. We don't want to take a chance either.

Doctors More Prone To Psychiatric Problems

NEW YORK (UPI)—Doctors appear to be more prone to psychiatric problems and to drug addiction that most members of other professions, it was reported Wednesday.

A study of physicians' private lives also indicated that they are "far from expert" in sexual knowledge, feel a greater than normal need to be admired and tend to be overbearing fathers.

The study in the September issue of McCall's magazine concluded that "today's doctor emerges as a paragon of success in all but his personal life."

"The psychiatric records of the Mayo Clinic show that an unusually large percentage of M.Ds is at one time or another hospitalized for psychiatric problems," the magazine said.

"It may be presupposed that doctors are more alert to such symptoms and more readily seek treatment than do other persons. Nevertheless, M.D. admissions are one in every 64, certainly disproportinnate to their ratio within the population," the magazine said.

"Drug addiction among doctors is common," the article said. It cited a recent study of the cases of 25 doctors who were patients at the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan.

"The most common drug used was demerol, usually prescribed for the relief of tension and pain. Most gave as the reason for their addiction, 'I was generally disillusioned in my practice,'" the article said.

Although they are considered authorities on sexual matters, "the average physician is far from expert in his sexual knowledge," the article said, quoting a study by Drs. Sherwyn M. Woods and Joseph Natterson, professors of psychiatry at the University of Southern California School of Medicine.

The magazine also found that doctors tend to be overbearing fathers with dreams of founding "a medical dynasty."

The average doctor emerged as wealthy, conservative and 12 pounds heavier than the average American male "despite his advice to patients to avoid heart attacks by keeping thin."

By Ele and Walt Dulaney

Dear Ele and Walt: My boyfriends' mother has made a rule that we can see each other twice a week but he can't spend one penny of his money on me. She counts it before he goes out and checks it when he comes back and he has to explain everything he bought. What is she trying to do? — Charlotte.

Dear Charlotte: Your boyfriend's mom is either trying to break you up or attempting to test your affection to see if it's based on a good heart or gold digging.

If you care for the boy, arrange free outings as often as possible and develop a baby-sitting clientele so you can go Dutch to the dances and movies you want to share. She may relent eventually if she sees your affection is steady. — Ele and Walt.

Dear Walt: I am a boy who's undergoing a campaign of harassment. A strange girl, always the same voice, keeps calling my house when I'm out and hinting about sex activities I'm supposed to be having right then.

My mother and father say she's a nut but lately they've been eyeing me suspiciously. The phone company says they cannot trace the calls and my parents cannot change the number because it's a business number advertised in the yellow pages.

A few times the calls have come at times when it was hard to account for my absence and I think this is driving a wedge between my parents and me. Is there anything possible to do in this situation? — Innocent

Dear Innocent: Sit down and chat with whichever parent is more open and put things frankly: "Anybody, no matter how trusting, is bound to start feeling 'Where there's smoke, there must be fire' when something such as this phone campaign goes on and on. I appreciate your holding back the questions so far but I think we'd better talk about it, so ask what's in your mind." Such an opening should provide a chance for fresh air to flush the musty suspicions.

Then if you announce plans for the evening and find them changed half-way through the evening you might want to call home and let your parents know.

Who's the culprit? Some lonely, sick, miserable person. Pity her. — Walt.

Dear Ele: We have the noisiest neighbors possible. Now that we have a pool in our backyard, they bring out ladders just so they can see over the fence and watch us in the water.

This is very annoying and they won't take any hints about stopping it. Don't suggest inviting them over because they have a pool of their own, and besides, they're not very nice boys. Our parents won't talk to their parents, so that's out. What can we do? — Winona.

Dear Winona: If you can't ignore them, get a camera and take some snapshots of the peeping toms. Then send the boys a set with a note saying, "Either you cool the ladder bit and stop embarrassing our guests or we'll have to show these to your parents." But are you sure the boys aren't lonesome and wouldn't respond politely if invited over now and then? — Ele.

Rules Go Go Doesn't Go As Religion

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Saying there is a "distinction" between an exotic go-go dancer" and a religious act, Judge F. Ryan Duffy Jr. Wednesday fined a Milwaukee woman $50 for disorderly conduct.

Mary Lazarevich, 24, said she was wearing a "nude bra" through which nothing could be seen. Policeman Gordon Watters described her bra as having the consistency of a hairnet.

"I feel there is a violation here," the judge said, "and there is a distinction here between this and the Lakefront case."

the gusto of Spanish living is rediscovered in PRESIDIO BY UNITED Splendid living with the flavor of Spanish history—this is Presidio. From its wealth of carving on solid oak ... to the authentically designed brass-finished hardware and heavy framed drawers and doors .. Presidio captures the robust vitality of centuries-past with magnificent workmanship, in oak solids and veneers and other selected hardwoods. Tabletops are of match-grained oak veneers, finished in a warm, antiqued tone. They should be touched to be fully appreciated. The pedestal base of the table which you see is carefully shaped and sculptured from solid woods. The delicately carved ladder-back chairs, breakfronts, china and efficient serving cart continue the dining room motif of carving. Yet Presidio isn't just dining. Complete bedrooms are available plus occasional designs, tables, library cases, party table and chairs ... (After all, the Spanish didn't just live in the dining room.) Come see a zestful way of living. It's Presidio.
